Walsh and Morse Pardons Refused.

President Taft Wednesday denied the applications for pardon of Charles W. Morse, of New York, and John R. Walsh, of Chicago, the most prominent bankers ever convicted and sent to Federal prisons under the national banking laws.

Not only did the President refuse to pardon either Morse or Walsh, but he also declined at this time to exercise any other sort of executive clemency in these cases or to shorten the sentences imposed upon the two men by the courts in which they were convicted. In denying the pardons, the President took the firm stand that the national banking laws, or any other laws, must be upheld when they affect the rich, even more than when they affect the poor.

News of The Diamond.

TUESDAY.

With a Mr. Robbins, last season one of the most effective pitchers against the Bourbonites on the firing line, dispensing an assortment of benders that puzzled the heavy hitting locals, Paris lost to Lexington Tuesday afternoon in a slugfest contest which was marked by the heavy hitting of the visitors.

After the opening session Paris was unable to connect successfully with Robbins' twisters, and in the eight innings following only three men reached the first station, all of which were on errors.

The frisky Colts curved at the diamond, hit Schrauder at will and when the locals began hurling the sphere around the field in the fifth inning after the fashion of a bunch of amateurs, run after run crossed the rubber.

Schrauder essayed to hurl for Paris, but in the fifth inning when two triples came in succession he was relieved by Hauser.

The visitors counted in the first session. Viox looked over four bad ones and went to third when Mayer missed the third strike on Kimbro. Kimbro was caught in an effort to pilfer the second sack, Mayer to Harrell, and Viox scored when Long drove a grounder to Schrauder that was too hot to handle. Ellis grounded to Kuhlman and Yancey doubled to center scoring Long, Yancey crossing the rubber on Badger's single. Haines grounded to Harrell forcing Badger at second for the last out.

The locals came up in their half, Harrell leading off with a single to right. McKernan flied to Ellis and Mayer hit a hot one through short. Maxwell fanned and Barnett hit to center field, the ball going over the fence on the bound, three runs counting. Goodman and Kuhlman each planted the ball in safe territory, Kaucher reaching first on Badger's error. Schrauder grounded to Robbins for the last out.

In the fifth inning the visitors counted again. Kimbro died to Goodman. Long hit through short and took second on a wild throw, scoring on Ellis' drive to right. Another run was added in the inning following. Badger doubled to right, reached third on a choice and scored on Harrell's error.

The grand blow-up came in the seventh when the visitors counted five runs. Kimbro was out on a grounder to Kuhlman and Long drove the sphere to center for three bases, scoring on Ellis' triple in the same territory. Schrauder was then relieved by Hauser, when Yancey smacked out a single scoring Ellis. Yancey pilfered second and reached third safely after an effort to catch him at the third station when Badger had grounded, both runners being safe. Yancey scored on a wild pitch. Haines hit past third and at this point the Bourbonites began hurling the ball about the diamond allowing two more to cross the plate. The side was retired when Hauser fanned both Sewell and Robbins.

Umpire Coates made his first appearance here Tuesday and the official made several raw decisions. The score: Lexington.....3 0 0 0 1 1 5 0 0—10 Paris.....3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—3
