THE AROUND TOWN MAN.

NEW VERSION.

Moving picture shows remind us As they flash their scenes of crime That we'd hate to leave behind us Imprints on the films of Time.

After a particularly rank play on the part of a Maysville player in the game at White Park Monday afternoon, a disgusted bleacherite was heard to remark: "Aw, hang crepe on yer nose. Your brains are dead."

Among the standing delegation on an outbound car to the Fair grounds Tuesday afternoon was a Paris merchant and one of the special police who was doing special duty at the grounds. As the car slowly groped its way along the merchant, who was impatient to reach the grounds, remarked: "Even a policeman can't arrest the flight of time." His companion, a matter-of-fact personage, replied: "Oh, I don't know. When I was coming down town early this morning I saw a policeman enter a side door and stop a few minutes."

A bunch of Paris urchins were very busy matching cigarette pictures near the Paris Grand the other day when a ministerial-looking gentleman apparently a stranger in these diggins, came by and asked: "Can any of you show me the way to the postoffice?" Jimmie J., one of the players in the popular game, detached himself from the pile of pictures long enough to indicate the necessary direction. The minister, for the first time noting the nature of the boys' amusement, stopped for an admonishing word. "Young man," he said solemnly, "don't you know that is considered gambling, that game you're playing there? Come a d go with me, and let me show you the way to Heaven."

"Ah, gwan mister," retorted the rude Jimmie. "You show us the way to Heaven, nothin'. Way you don't even know the way to the Paris post-office."

The minsiter resumed his walk and the boys continued their game.

Conductor Thompson, who succeeded Capt James Dunn on the Maysville passenger run, had his first experience Tuesday with an unruly passenger. The individual, who had accumulated an unusually large package of "juice," had wandered into the ladies' car, and was contentedly smoking a large perfect in defiance of the rules. Conductor Thompson, spying him on his rounds, called him down with the remark: "No smoking in this car. The smoking car is just ahead." "I ain't smoking," asserted the passenger. "You Ain't," said Capt. Thompson. "Why, you've got a cigar in your mouth." "I know that," replied the unruly passenger. "I've got shoes on my feet, too, but I ain't walking 'em!" and then he proceeded to the smoker, while Capt. Thompson thoughtfully stroked his chin and went ahead.

It was a case of "Love me or love my dog" at a certain nice boarding house on Main street last Friday. The star boarder, who, by the way, has lived at the house for the past four years, took exceptions to the presence of a monster dog, that, some few days ago, adopted the yard as his home, on the squatter sovereignty plan. The dog was one of those long-legged, rough-coated, jumble-jawed creatures that spends most of the time wagging his tail if anyone chances to notice him. This dog's genial disposition made many friends for it among the boarders in the house.

Now everyone liked the big dog but the star boarder. Perhaps the dog was getting too much attention from the folks around the house, or perhaps it was because the dog took a violent dislike to the star boarder, but, anyway, the star boarder delivered his ultimatum Friday to the landlady. "Either that mangy canine quits this place or I go today," said the star boarder.

"Why, Mr. ——" (but it wouldn't be just right to give his real name) said the landlady, "Of course we'll get rid of the dog at once. He's just a stray, anyway."

The star boarder took his accustomed place on the lawn with a satisfied smile, and an air that plainly said: "Now, you ducks, see who is the cheese around here."

When the rest of the congregation heard of the demand of the star boarder that their pet must be banished they raised a howl.

Then a few of them got together and started a petition on the rounds. It was signed by everybody in the house, from the cook to the boarders, with the exception of the star gazaboo and the landlady, of course. The petition read something like this:

"We, the undersigned, hearing that it is up to getting rid of either Mr. — or the dog, respectfully request that instead of sending the dog away that the star boarder be asked to go."

As a last resort a compromise was effected by the diplomatic landlady by restricting his dogship to a certain portion of the lawn and giving the

"People talk of coffee and rolls in the morning and breakfast at twelve o'clock," exclaimed a disgusted traveling man in front of the Fordham the other morning, while waiting for a Lexington car. "That may do for frog-eating Frenchmen, but not for an American who does a day's work before the rest of the world is up. You might as well try to get up a head of steam by feeding a boiler with a hand-full of shavings. Stoke a man as you do a furnace and you will surely get the powre. That's my motto."

WHAT CURES ECZEMA?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D., can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription.

Because—We know that it gives instant relief to that torturing itch.

Because—D. D. D. starts the cure at the foundation of the trouble.

Because—it cleanses, soothes and heals the skin.

Because—it enables Nature to repair the ravages of the disease.

Because—The records of ten years of complete cures of thousands of the most serious cases show that D. D. D. is today recognized as the absolutely reliable Eczema cure.

Drop into our store today, just to talk over your case with us.

Strong Healthy Women

If a woman is strong and healthy in a womanly way, motherhood means to her but little suffering. The trouble lies in the fact that the many women suffer from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism and are unfitted for motherhood. This can be remedied.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Cures the weaknesses and disorders of women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in motherhood, making them healthy, strong, vigorous, virile and elastic.

"Favorite Prescription" banishes the indispositions of the period of expectancy and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It quickens and vitalizes the feminine organs, and insures a healthy and robust baby. Thousands of women have testified to its marvelous merits.

It Makes Weak Women Strong. It Makes Sick Women Well. Honest druggists do not offer substitutes, and urge them upon you as "just as good." Accept no secret nostrum in place of this non-secret remedy. It contains not a drop of alcohol and not a grain of habit-forming or injurious drugs. Is a pure glyceric extract of healing, native American roots.

ALL MY PIMPLES GONE

Girl Tells How a Blotchy Skin Was Cleaned By a Simple Wash.

"I was ashamed of my face," writes Miss Minnie Pickard of Altamahaw, N. C. "It was all full of pimples and scars, but after using D. D. D. Prescription I can say that now there is no sign of that Eczema, and that was three years ago."

D. D. D. has become so famous as a cure and instant relief in Eczema and all other serious skin diseases, that its value is sometimes overlooked in clearing up rash, pimples, blackheads, and all other minor forms of skin impurities.

The fact is, that while D. D. D. is so penetrating that it strikes to the very root of Eczema or any other serious trouble, the soothing Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients are so carefully compounded there is no wash for the skin made that can compare with this great household remedy for every kind of skin trouble.

D. D. D. is pleasant to use, perfectly harmless to the most delicate skin, and absolutely reliable. A 25-cent bottle will give you positive proof of the wonderful effectiveness of this great remedy.
