LIQUID CURES ECZEMA
WHERE SALVE FAILS

In regard to skin diseases medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERMS OUT. A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D. D. D. Prescription, penetrates to the disease germs and destroys it, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 25-cent trial bottle will start the cure, and give you instant relief.

Attacks School Principal.

A severe attack on school principal, Chas. B. Allen, of Sylvania, Ga., is thus told by him. "For more than three years," he writes, "I suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys. All remedies failed till I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Such results are common. Thousands bless them for curing stomach trouble, female complaints, kidney disorders, biliousness, and for new health and vigor. Try them. Only 50c at Oberdorfer's.

Playing for the Tobacco Vote.

Judge O'Rear has become very sensitive. He not only refuses to answer any questions asked by Governor McCreary, but there are certain subjects that he will not have mentioned in his presence, or in his hearing. When his attention was called to the fact that Governor Willson had spent over $270,000 in the last three and a half years in calling out the troops he indignantly wanted to know what Governor McCreary would have done under similar conditions. Those who know the Democratic nominee, and have seen him face every kind of public crisis for more than forty years, have no fear that he would have maintained order without impoverishing the state, and without working a hardship upon the tobacco growers who for so long have tottered under the burdens laid upon them by the tobacco trust. He would have protected the honor of the State without draining the Treasury of its funds, and he would have made a criminal trust answer in the courts for its offenses.

In a recent speech Governor McCreary has stated his position upon this important question, and it is a credit to his courage and fairness. He said:

"I believe the Governor of Kentucky should wisely use whatever authority the law gives him or that may be necessary to preserve peace and maintain the law, whether the offense be nightriding or any other violation of the law, and when disturbances occur the Governor should carefully examine all matters connected with them, and the law should be enforced against the tobacco trust the same as against night riding, so as to protect the farmers from the greed and oppression of trusts, and maintain the dignity of the law. I have repeatedly denounced the tobacco trust as an unlawful combination, and the Supreme Court of the United States has decided that it was operating in violation of law and in restraint of trade. The American tobacco trust and all other trusts are the result of Republican legislation. While in Congress I made repeated efforts to repeal the tobacco tax and to remove burdens unjustly placed on farmers and laboring men, but I was not successful, because the House and Senate were under the control of the Republicans, who were the representatives of protected interests instead of the masses."

Quills and Their Uses.
Quills are things that are sometimes taken from the pinions of one goose to spread the opinions of another.

Trading on the Court's Opinion.

Judge O'Rear hardly crossed the line into the Eleventh District before he began to remind the mountain people that he had written the opinion which had perfected the titles to their lands and made their homes secure. That is true, but it is only half true. Judge O'Rear could not have put that decision upon the books had not his fellow Judges, all Democrats, empowered him to do so. It was not a political decision, nor was it the result of personal influence or persuasion. It was a just verdict, which the Supreme Court of the United States upheld, and it not only secured to the mountain people their humble homes, but made it possible for capital to build railroads, open mines and bring timber to market, and otherwise uncover the riches of that marvelous section. There was general rejoicing all over Kentucky when this decision enfranchised the mountain people. Politics had nothing to do with it, and Judge O'Rear had just one vote on the question.

It will become the Judge of the Court of Appeals to point to his decisions, and remind the people who profited by them that his hand wrote them, and that for this reason he should receive their generous consideration. It is not only against the ethics of the Judge's profession for him to do this, but it brings the whole Court in disrepute to have its decisions played upon the bargain counter as if they were matters of barter and sale.

The more the people of the State see of the Republican nominee for Governor, the more they will realize that instead of a broad, liberal, fair-minded Judge, holding the balances level with a firm hand, he has become the time-serving politician, appealing to every petty prejudice, and seeking every advantage.

Delusive Dreams of Calvert Estates.

A news dispatch from Baltimore, Md., says: "Again the story of the big Calvert fortune said to be lying for centuries in the heart of Baltimore has come to life and this time a number of Kentuckians have been given the idea that they are to receive many thousands from a big piece of land in Baltimore."

There is no doubt that 6,000 acres of land in Baltimore are well worth $12,000,000, and it would be a pleasant thing for the Kentuckians who are being told they are Calvert heirs to share it.

The Kentuckians might as well forget it, however, because hundreds have fallen for the same story these many years.

Claims to the so called Calvert part of the estate in the center of Baltimore have been coming in for the last quarter of a century with a regularity that is no longer surprising. Some of the older inhabitants say that the same kind of claims were coming to Baltimore as far back as they remember.

All of the claimants suspect or believe that they are heirs to Sir George Calvert. Pittsburg has laid its claim for several of its citizens. So have Cleveland, Toledo, Chicago, Denver, Los Angeles—even inoffensive Wheeling, and a great list of other cities. So Kentucky is late.

For the benefit of Kentuckians who may be told that they have a chance to get some of the Calvert millions out of Baltimore real estate it would be well to bear in mind that it was on August 8, 1729, that an act was passed for erecting a town of sixty acres on the north side of Patapsco, to be known as Baltimore town, and commissioners were appointed consisting of Major Thomas Tolley, William Hamilton, William Buckner, Dr. George Walker, Richard Gist, Dr. George Buchanan and Col. William Hammond.

On December 1, 1729, these commissioners bought from Daniel and Charles Carroll the tract of sixty acres, paying forty shillings an acre, and then the town was laid off. Sir George Calvert's estate had nothing to do with the building of the city of Baltimore, and [there is] no question about the Calvert title in any of the later extension of the city. Once more the story is nailed, but it will arise again in some other part of the West, unless history fails to repeat itself."

Lodge News.
The 1912 meeting of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will be held at Winnipeg, Manitoba. A strong movement to send the 1913 assembly to Berlin, for the stimulating effect on the Order in Europe, will be organized.

Hotel keepers licensed to sell intoxicating liquors will hereafter be barred from admission to the Odd Fellows Order. This was the decision of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows at Indianapolis last week, which adopted an amendment to the constitution to this effect by a vote of 139 to 15. Saloon keepers have been barred for some time, and a fight has been on to put hotel proprietors holding saloon licenses in the same class.

ALL MY PIMPLES GONE

Girl Tells How a Blotchy Skin Was Cleared by a Simple Wash.

"I was ashamed of my face," writes Miss Minnie Pickard of Altamahaw, N. C. "It was all full of pimples and scars, but after using D. D. D. Prescription I can say that now there is no sign of that Eczema, and that was three years ago."

D. D. D. has become so famous as a cure and instant relief in Eczema and all other serious skin diseases, that its value is sometimes overlooked in clearing up rash, pimples, blackheads, and all other minor forms of skin impurities.

The fact is, that while D. D. D. is so penetrating that it strikes to the very root of Eczema or any other serious trouble, the soothing Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients are so carefully compounded there is no wash for the skin made that can compare with this great household remedy for every kind of skin trouble.

D. D. D. is pleasant to use, perfectly harmless to the most delicate skin, and absolutely reliable. A 25-cent bottle will give you positive proof of the wonderful effectiveness of this great remedy.
