News Will Issue Again Saturday

Christmas coming on Monday this year the News will veer from its usual custom of getting out a paper on this day, coming as it does on the day of publication and instead will issue three times this week. This is done in order to give the employes a holiday on Christmas day and the advertisers in the News another chance to display through this paper their holiday goods. It has been the custom of the News heretofore to go to press on Christmas day as on any other day of publication, but we feel that of all the days of the year Christmas is one that should be observed as a holiday and instead of issuing next Monday night we will go to press with the third edition this week on Saturday at noon.

All advertising matter for the following issue should be in today and we request that all the merchants who desire advertising changes hand in their copy as early as possible. We would appreciate any effort on the part of our advertisers to assist us along this line.

OPEN AFTER SUPPER.

Our store will be open every night until after Christmas for the accommodation of the holiday shoppers. Come in and look over our stock.

Thinks Well of Bourbon Fowls.

Edwin B. Borchers, who has charge of the poultry department of the Louisville Evening Post, in writing on the recent poultry show held in Winchester has the following to say of two exhibits of fowls from this county: "Mrs. Robert C. Talbott, of Austerlitz, Ky., had one of the largest and finest displays of turkeys ever exhibited in Kentucky. Mrs. Talbott recently carried away all the awards of the State Fair.

"Of the small exhibits, a first premium White Wyandotte pullet owned by Miss Mary Graham Jones, of North Middletown, attracted especial attention on account of the remarkable beauty of the bird, which promises to win premiums at many shows."

Plain Figures.

A. F. Wheeler & Co. have marked in plain figures.

OPEN NIGHTS.

Our store will be open every night until Christmas for the benefit of shoppers who are unable to come to the store during the day.

Seek Relatives of John Conway.

A letter addressed to former Governor Willson from Dakota states that a Kentuckian, John Conway, recently died near Garrison, N. D., leaving 160 acres of fine land and $1,000 in cash, without any heirs. It adds that it is understood that there are heirs in Kentucky who should share in the estate but their names or addresses are not known and the letter was made public in the hope that some heirs might be located in the State. There are several families by the name of Conway in Bourbon county.

Dressed Turkeys.
