Primary Called For March 16th.

At a meeting of the Democratic Committee of the Seventh Congressional district, at the Capitol Hotel in Frankfort Monday afternoon, a primary election was called for March 16, to nominate a candidate for Congress. If only one candidate has announced by March 2, a meeting of the committee will be held and the candidate declared the nominee. J. Campbell Cantrill, the present Congressman, is now the only announced candidate.

Desha Breckinridge and Samuel Wilson, of Lexington, and Henry Breckinridge, who is now making his home in Lexington, appeared before the committee and protested against any action now on the ground that the present Legislature will pass a primary election law. Mr. Cantrill also appeared before the committee and urged that no "snap" action was desired, and that everything was regular.

The meeting was called to order at 2 o'clock by Mike Meagher, member of the Democratic State Executive Committee. Charles Morris, a member of the committee, was selected as secretary. The following members were present: John Griffin, Franklin county; W. O. Davis, Woodford county; W. P. Kimball, Lexington; L. T. Doty, Owen county; W. P. Roberts, Fayette county; R. H. Anderson, Scott county; and Charles Morris, Oldham county.

Mr. Doty offered a resolution providing for a primary to be held on March 16. Mr. Breckinridge appeared before the committee and asked to be given a hearing. He declared that the only purpose of the primary being called this early was to shut out other candidates than Mr. Cantrill. He urged that no action be taken until after the Legislature had passed a general primary act. Mr. Wilson then made a talk along the same line asking the committee to wait and give everybody a chance. Mr. Cantrill replied to this, urging that there was nothing of a "snap" nature about the call at this time. He said that it had been customary to make the call sixty to ninety days before the primary, and that everybody had a chance.

Mr. Davis offered an amendment to the resolution providing for a primary to be held in August. This was voted down 5 to 3.

Another amendment was offered providing that in case the Legislature passes a primary election act the call for the primary on March 16 is to be void. This was also voted down by the same vote. The original resolution was adopted by a vote of 5 to 3, those voting against the resolution being: Griffin, Davis and Kimball. Those voting for it were: Doty, Crabb, Roberts, Anderson and Morris.

PRIMARY RESOLUTION ADOPTED.

The following is the substance of the resolution adopted:

A primary is called in the counties of the Seventh district between the hours of 6 a. m. and 4 p. m., March 16.

The right to vote at said primary election shall be limited and restricted to those who affiliate in good faith with the Democratic party, and who possess the qualifications prescribed by law.

To carry the call for the primary into full force and effect a sub-committee, composed of R. H. Anderson, of Scott, W. B. Crabb, of Henry, and W. O. Davis, of Woodford, is hereby appointed, which committee is to make all preparations for the primary, including the printing and distribution of ballots to the officers of the election.

An assessment of $3,000 is fixed for defraying the expenses of the primary, and any person desiring to become a candidate must deposit $1,500 with the chairman of the subcommittee not later than March 2.

The District Committee shall meet in the courthouse in Lexington on March 6, and if only one candidate has qualified, then the committee is empowered to resolve itself into a convention, and declare the one qualified candidate the nominee.

Polls shall be opened in each precinct in all counties in said district in the usual regular voting places.

At the close of the polls the election officers shall count the ballots and certify to the county the result of the vote.

No candidate shall be allowed to select the device of the Democratic party for his emblem, and the order in which names shall appear upon the ballot shall be determined by lot.

The officers of the primary election shall be selected from lists offered by candidates in accordance with the primary election law.

The candidates shall be entitled to name a challenger in each precinct by written notice five days or more before the primary.

On the third day after the returns have been made to the chairman in each county the committee shall meet at Lexington and canvass the votes and issue a certificate of nomination.

The chairman of the subcommittee shall give due notice of the time and manner of holding said primary, as required by the primary election laws.

Home Endorsement

Hundreds of Paris Citizens Can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Paris people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Paris reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers in faraway places. Read the following:

Mrs. J. T. Martin, Eleventh and Main streets, Paris, Ky., says: "Kidney trouble in my case was brought on by a fall I received two years ago. My back ached until I thought it would break and sharp twinges often shot through my kidneys, as if someone were hitting me. I tried various remedies, but could not find relief until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Wilson's drug store. After using them one week, I felt like a different woman and I was soon completely cured. I gave a statement for publication in 1903, telling of my experience and at this time I am glad to confirm all I then said in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. I think more highly of them than ever."

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

She Sleepeth.

Paris, in commercial sense, is apparently sleeping the sleep that knows no wakening. In recent years this has become very noticeable. She comes forward at the dawn of a bright day to go to rest in the evening in the same way, contented with what she has, given to her without an effort to acquire, and as the days pass, in the same "hum-drum" way.

This has characterized Paris since her birth, something over a hundred years ago when cows browsed on the commons men sat idly around blacksmith shops, taverns and stores, chewed tobacco and whittled. The advance of time has made the people a little more energetic, but this energy was forced upon them when it became apparent that there was nothing else for them to do.

What next: Railroads replaced the stage coach, Paris blossomed under a favored sun and matured into a city, not because of the efforts of her people—possibly it was predestined. Time has made Paris a thriving city; there is little doubt to this. In the past ten years the change has been as if by magic. What was the cause? Was it the people who spent their lives in the community, or was it from outside interests? The latter is most probable.

Some little enterprise has contributed materially, but there exists to this day the feeling in the breast of the average citizen that "whatever does not come to us we will not seek." We can daily see the fruits of this spirit, which from a candid view promises to prove the undoing of [the proud little town and reduce it to a rank far beneath the class to which it rightfully belongs.

Sometime ago a Commercial Club was organized and for a time the activity of this organization knew no bounds. But what came of it? Nothing, absolutely nothing. Then, drifting back into the same channels matters continued, as if no organization of the kind had ever been perfected.

There is work for a hustling Commercial Club here; work in plenty. Some weeks ago Paris was mentioned as the divisional center of the L. & N., and the terminus of a new line which was surveyed into the rich mountain country. With no Commercial Club to push the interests of Paris it was permitted to go on, and on, and on, until, when it was announced that Winchester, bidding strong for the new road, had all but secured it, the eyes of the people were opened. Sitting up they started in wonderment and asked, "What's doing?"

It can be easily conceived something in the extreme was doing. It means, to express it in very few words, that Paris has virtually lost what with an effort could have been her gain. But battles are not won until the last gun is silenced and there is yet hope of the chance to retrieve our apparent losses. Let's get together; unite in the one common cause to make Paris what she should be. Lay aside the desire for selfish, personal gain and unite. Blessed with the natural advantages that she is Paris should be made a better town. We cannot expect outsiders to do it for us when there is no effort on the part of those locally interested.

Shoulders to the wheel, all of them. Do it now, or some fine morning we will awaken to find Paris a mere flag station, while the cows will be browsing on the commons, men sitting idly about, just existing, as in the days of long ago.

The Strong Point.

"I have found just the party for you, Lord Duncan—a lady with a dowry of half a million." "And when can I see this lady?" "Just keep thinking of the dowry—don't ask to see her."—Flegende Blaetter.

ALL DRUGGISTS

Despair and Despondency

No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the despondency endured by women who carry a daily burden of ill-health and pain because of disorders and derangements of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. The tortures so bravely endured completely upset the nerves if long continued.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive cure for weakness and disease of the feminine organism.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It tones and builds up the nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Honest medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing to urge upon you as "just as good."

It is non-secret, non-alcoholic and has a record of forty years of cures. Ask Your Neighbors. They probably know of some of its many cures.

If you want a book that tells all about woman's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers. In handsome cloth-binding, 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

ONE WAY OF SAVING A BABY—FREE TO TRY

The mother does not live who would not do all in her power to keep her child healthy, but often she does not know how. So when a doctor of standing points the way all can afford to listen.

It is an accepted fact that nine out of ten of the troubles of infants and children is intestinal. You notice it by the fact that the child is constipated, it belches, is peevish and cries. Don't give a remedy that contains an opiate, because the child will get in the habit of needing it, and don't become alarmed and run at once for a doctor.

Try a scientific laxative first. Give a small dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the remedy that is intended for the use of children. It is mild, gentle and non-gripping. The remedy is absolutely pure and is guaranteed in every particular. Mrs. Toomey of Emingsville, Pa., and Mrs. Fred Crooms of Alanson, Mich., never give their children anything else. These are only a few among thousands of women.

You can buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of any nearby druggist, for they have all sold it for a generation, but if you want to test it on your child first send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will cheerfully send you a free sample bottle.

Address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 402 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

The Famous Rayo Lamp

The best part of the day is the evening, when the whole family is gathered together around the lamp.

The old days of the smoky fireplace and flickering candle are gone forever. In their place have come the convenient oil stove and the indispensable Rayo Lamp.

There are to-day, in the United States alone, more than 3,000,000 of these Rayo lamps, giving their clear, white light to more than 3,000,000 homes.

Other lamps cost more, but you cannot get a better light than the low-priced Rayo gives. It has become so popular we may almost call it "the official lamp of the American family."

The Rayo is made of solid brass, with handsome nickel finish—an ornament anywhere. Ask your dealer for a Rayo lamp; or write for descriptive circular to any agency of the Standard Oil Company
