Bourbon Farm Brings Good Price

Harris & Sneakes, real estate agents, sold privately for the heirs of the late Dr. Noah Moore, their farm on the Cynthia pike, containing 235 acres of well-improved land. The purchasers are the Misses Cockerel, of Irvine, Ky., who paid $137.50 per acre for the farm. Possession will be given at once. The farm, which was offered about two years ago at public sale to settle up the estate, was bought by the heirs at $135 per acre. The Misses Cockerel are well-known and substantial people of Estill county, and own a large body of land near Irvine. Recently they sold a tract to the Louisville & Nashville railroad for $17,500. They will move to Bourbon county on October 1 to make their future home.

Kress & Company To Build On Church Site.

That the old Baptist church at the corner of Main and Sixth streets will be torn away in the near future and replaced by a modern and substantial business block is shown by the announcement made by Mr. Toole, representative of the S. H. Kress & Co., of New York who own the property. The announcement was made by Mr. Toole while on a visit to this city looking over the ground, and who gave out the information that the company contemplates the beginning of the work of improving the property in a short time. The company, which operates 350 five and ten cent stores in various parts of the country, according to Mr. Toole is very much pleased with the business outlook in Paris and are very anxious to get their business in this city started. The cost of the proposed improvements will amount to between $25,000 and $30,000. The building will be a three story structure of white pressed brick. The main floor which has a frontage of 66 feet on Main street will be divided into two store rooms, the one on the corner to be the largest of two and which will be used for the retail business of the firm. The second and third floors will be fitted in modern office suits. The old church property was purchased about two years ago by Kress & Co., through the local real estate agent, Lee T. Beall, who has since represented the foreign concern in a business way in this city.

Bourbon Man in Litigation.

The fifth trial of the suit of Jesse Fishback against Perry Ward, in which ten barrels of corn are in controversy, is being held in the Nicholas Quarterly Court before Special Judge Samuel Holmes. Fishback now resides in Indiana, but formerly lived in Bourbon county, while Mr. Ward is a farmer of Nicholas county. It is alleged that Ward sold Fishback some corn in a pen, and when it was measured some months afterwards it is said that it fell short ten barrels. Suit was instituted following a dispute as to who should stand the loss for the alleged shortage. The case was tried twice in the court of Judge Plummer in Carlisle and twice in the Quarterly Court. Owing to the unusual nature of the case it is attracting a great deal of attention.

Beautifully your home for the children's sake.

Dear Amy:—
 Don't you think that lots of parents do their children a wrong by not fixing up a beautiful home for them? I think nothing has such a refining influence upon the children as a lovely furnished home; it is a necessary part of their education.
 I'm going to see that my children grow up in the proper home atmosphere. I feel like I owe this also to my husband and to myself.
 Bring the kiddies to see Baby John.
 With love, always your friend,
 Lou.
