Standard Road Rules.

The movement now well under way to standardize the rules of the road on European highways is deserving of success.

In the days when the roads were devoted almost entirely to local traffic and when travellers journeying on them more than a dozen miles from home were the rare exceptions.

But the highways have now become great arteries of traffic—not merely interurban, but interstate traffic.

To the thousands of motorists who undertake tours of any considerable length the fact that there is little or no uniformity in the rules of the roads of different States, or even of different cities and towns of the same State, is a source of continual vexation.

Standardization of road rules is at least as important and desirable in this country as it is in Europe.

The Blackbirds,

Blackbirds have been increasing in numbers in Kentucky in recent years, and like the English sparrow, they seem disposed to take up their residence in town, says the Courier-Journal.

In some instances the birds congregate in shade trees in great numbers and keep up more or less continuous chatter throughout the night.

Mrs. Major testified that she and Mrs. Harry James (whose husband is a policeman) and Linda Blackwell, all negroes, were given tickets to attend the concert, which they were desirous of hearing, as Mrs. Major and Mrs. James had daughters in the chorus.

HAPPY THO' MARRIED?

There are unhappy married lives, but a large percentage of these unhappy homes are due to the illness of the wife, mother or daughter. The feelings of nervousness, the befogged mind, the ill-temper, the pale and wrinkled face, hollow and circled eyes, result most often from those disorders peculiar to women.

Mrs. Dickover.

"I suffer greatly for a number of years and for the past three years have been unable to do any housework," writes Mrs. D. F. Dickover of Utes, Ohio, Route 4. "The doctor told me I would have to go to a hospital before I would ever be better. A year ago this winter and spring I was worse than ever before. At each period I suffered like and again I was worse than ever before. I was so bad for six months that I am the mother of six children. I was so bad for five months that I knew something must be done, so I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce, telling him as nearly as I could how I suffered. He outlined a course of treatment which I followed to the letter. I took two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and a fifty-cent bottle of 'Smart-Weed', and have never suffered much since. I wish I could tell every suffering woman the world over what a boon Dr. Pierce's medicines are. There is no use wasting time and money doctoring with anything else or any one else."

The Medical Adviser by R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y., answers hosts of delicate questions about which every woman, single or married ought to know. Sent free on receipt of 31 stamps to pay for wrapping and mailing only.
