Announces for Re-election.

In another column will be found the announcement of Mr. Rudolph ("Roxie") Davis for re-election as Coroner of Bourbon county, subject to the Democratic primary August 2, 1913.

Mr. Davis has served the county as Coroner for the past term with credit, and asks the Democrats to re-elect him to said office.

He is a popular and trustworthy young man, and, if elected would no doubt fill the office to the satisfaction of his constituents.

Laundry men Close Meeting.

With the election and installation of officers for the ensuing year, the nineteenth annual convention of the Kentucky Laundry Owners' Association, in session at Lexington, came to a close Friday at noon. Louisville was selected as the place of meeting for the next year's convention.

The officers selected were:

George T. Graves, Lexington, president.

J. H. Johnson, Louisville, vice-president.

George P. Deuser, Louisville, Secretary.

George Mercke, Louisville, Treasurer.

Besides the election of officers the following were chosen as delegates and alternates to the National Association meeting this year: F. M. Funk, F. A. Asmuth, Geo. T. Graves, delegates, and Eugene Perkins, John M. Nichols and W. A. Patterson, alternates.

Presbytery Has Large Session.

The annual convention of the Ebenezer Presbytery, which closed its sessions at Carlisle, Thursday, was one of the most largely attended in years, most of the Presbyterian churches of the ten counties of the district being represented by ministers and elders.

The Rev. A. S. Venable, of Millersburg, was elected moderator, and the Rev. R. M. Shive, of Paris, clerk.

The Rev. R. L. Kinniard, of Catlettburg, was received into the Presbytery. There were about thirty-five ministers and elders in attendance, besides many delegates.

Candidate for Coroner.

Mr. Geo. M. "Pug" Kiser announces himself in this issue of the News as a candidate for Coroner. Mr. Kiser is a sterling young Democrat, and has done much in the interest of the party. This is his first venture in politics. He has a large family connection, being the son of Allen M. Kiser, an old Confederate soldier, and who was formerly jailer of Bourbon County. Mr. Kiser is very popular and will make a strong candidate.

Seek Heirs of Man Born in Bourbon.

In an effort to locate heirs to the estate of the late Clark Leroy Chamberlain, who died in Coxsackie, N. Y., Aug. 11, 1911, Dr. Richard H. Van Den Berg, and Leonard A. Warren, of that city, were in Paris Saturday.

At the time of the death of Mr. Chamberlain, valuable papers were found which indicated that he left considerable property, consisting in part of real estate in New York valued at $24,000, and personal property in cash amounting to $35,000.

In the safe deposit vault in New York there was found much valuable jewelry, diamonds, rubies and pearls, also stock certificates in various corporations.

Among his papers was found various memoranda showing that he was born in Bourbon county April 30, 1868. His father was Richard Chamberlain and his mother was Kate Chenoweth.

Various stories are told of his life in Kentucky, one concerning a murder that he committed when he was a young man. It is stated that the murder was committed in a saloon in which difficulty his brother participated. They were afterward arrested, but broke jail and made their escape.

Shortly before his death Chamberlain confessed to having also committed murders in California and in Australia. His escape from Australia was said to have been by rowboat at night. After drifting for several days without food or water he was picked up by a sailing vessel and finally reached New York City, so the story goes.

About the year 1900 he married Nellie Barnes, a spiritualist, and they conducted spiritualistic meetings in West Twenty-third street, New York City. During one of the seances his wife is said to have become insane and was, for a time, confined in a sanitarium. She escaped from the sanitarium and was found in Richmond, Va., where a few days later she committed suicide by shooting.

Upon investigation by the administrators and attorneys it has been ascertained that Nellie Barnes was originally from California and owned considerable property there.

Soon after the death of his wife Chamberlain spent his summers in Green county, New York and his winters in Florida. The manner of his death was tragic. He was found dead in a boarding house in the Catskill mountains, Green county, from chloral hydrate poisoning. The coroner conducted a rigid investigation, but could not find sufficient motive to warrant arrest for murder.

Papers and utensils found among his effects indicated that he was a professional analytical and pyrotechnical chemist.

As the laws of New York state provide that a diligent search be made for heirs before a final settlement of the estate, the administrator and attorneys are making an investigation all through this part of Kentucky in search of heirs. If none is found within a reasonable time, under the New York statutes the entire estate will escheat to the state of New York.

There was considerable interest shown in the investigation made here. It was thought by many that Chamberlain might be one of the missing Current brothers, who killed Constable William Burton, of Paris, in 1873. The Current brothers were arrested and for greater safety were taken to the Clark county jail, in Winchester.

They were later tried and convicted, but broke jail and made their escape, as was supposed, to Texas. At that time an effort was made to have the Governor of Kentucky offer a reward for their capture, but he refused, and little or no effort was made to apprehend them.

"WE KNOW HOW"

Even WE Admit

that there are more important things in the world than having the right clothes. We realize that, as the poet says, "A man's a man for a' that."

But, unfortunately, people WILL judge a fellow by the way he looks, and even more unfortunately, lots of fellows don't look as well-dressed as they might. It isn't because they don't want to, or because they don't try, it's because they don't know how or where to get garments that will bring out the best of them and hide the worst of them.

We don't say that we CAN, because it wouldn't be modest, but we're morally sure that we MIGHT show you a suit that would cause the first friend you met to congratulate you on your improved appearance. COME and SEE.
