Sneak Thieves Getting in Work.

Sneak thieves are abroad in Paris, and while they have invaded several residences no losses of any consequence have been reported. On Friday night a thief entered the residence of Mr. Thomas Funk, on South Main street, effecting an entrance through one of the front windows. The attempted robbery was not discovered until Saturday morning when Mr. Funk's trousers were found on the floor, the pockets turned out. His purse which contained a considerable sum of money was found by the window where the intruder had dropped it, after being frightened by the inmates. The residence of Mr. W. H. Clark, on South Main street, was burglarized on the same night, but the thief was frightened away before he secured any valuables.

Rosedale Lot Sale.

The Rosedale lot sale at Paris, Ky., May 14, 1913, will be one of the finest locations for a resident lot sale in Paris for years. This undertaking comprises a vast number of beautiful and well graded lots, close in, which heretofore have not been on the market for thirty years. The situation on Cypress street, one of the most principal streets of Paris, has commanded the attention of home-seekers and speculators. Investments in land or homes bring definite results. Money placed in lots and the addition of a bungalow, means a saving account in dollars and cents. Just what you and I are looking for. A street has been opened fronting on Cypress, running direct to Houston, cement walks, beautiful shade trees, water main and sewers have been installed. This is the most beautiful addition to Paris that has ever been put on the market and the lots, any of them, would make a most pleasant and convenient site for a home. Walk out and look them over. Remember the Rosedale lot sale, May 14, 1913, at Paris, Ky. 6-3t

The house was lighted by silver candelabra holding pink tapers. In the receiving line were Mrs. Craig, her mother, Mrs. Joseph Davis, of Paris, and Mrs. Bailey Berry, of Lexington. Misses Sue Ford Offutt and Lois Fimmel presided, gracefully, at the punch table, and the following ladies assisted in entertaining the guests: Mesdames Craig Bradley, Porter Nunnell, John B. In the center of the table was a large silver bowl filled with Killarney rose buds and around it were silver candle sticks holding pink candles. Here Mrs. John R. Downing poured coffee which was served with an elegant substantial lunch. Mesdames Will Thomson and Bryan W. Wolfe assisted in the dining room. Two hundred guests called during the afternoon."

Announces for Representative.

Mr. Reuben B. Hutchcraft, Jr., announces in this issue of the News his candidacy for Representative of Bourbon county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary August 2. Being one of the most prominent young attorneys in this city, the junior member of the firm of Cline & Hutchcraft, a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hutchcraft, and a member of one of the most prominent families of Bourbon, Mr. Hutchcraft enjoys a wide acquaintance throughout the county. Mr. Hutchcraft is an honor graduate of the Transylvania University and finishing his course in that institution entered the Law Department of Harvard University, where he graduated with high honors in 1911.
