

Lameness

Sloan's Liniment is a quick and reliable remedy for lameness in horses and other farm animals.

"Sloan's Liniment surpasses anything on earth for lameness in horses and other farm animals. I would not sleep without it in my stable." — MARTIN DOYLE, 422 West 19th St., New York City.

Good for Swelling and Abscesses.

Mr. H. M. GIBBS, of Lawrence, Kan., E. F. D., No. 3, writes: "I had a mare with an abscess on her neck and one on her chest. Sloan's Liniment entirely cured her. I kept it all the time for galls and small swellings and for everything about the stock."

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is a quick and safe remedy for hog cholera.

Governor of Georgia uses Sloan's Liniment for Hog Cholera.

"I heard Gov. Brown (who is quite a farmer) say that he had never lost a hog from cholera and that his remedy always was a tablespoonful of Sloan's Liniment in a gallon of slops, decreasing the dose as the animal improved. Last month Gov. Brown and myself were at the Agricultural College building and in the discussion of the ravages of the disease, Gov. Brown gave the remedy named as 'unfailing.'" — OBSERVER.

SPECIAL TO WOMEN

The most economical, cleansing and germicidal of all antiseptics is

Paxtine

A soluble Antiseptic Powder to be dissolved in water as needed.

As a medicinal antiseptic for douches in treating catarrh, inflammation or ulceration of nose, throat, and that caused by feminine ills it has no equal. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority. Women who have been cured say it is "worth its weight in gold." At druggists. 50c. large box, or by mail. The Paxton Toilet Co., Boston, Mass.

SOLITE OIL

News Over the State

Smallpox Near Cynthia.
Cynthia—The smallpox epidemic has again appeared in this county there being several cases in different sections. The schools at Lair and Renaker have been closed. There is no evidence of the epidemic in this city.

Repaying Crop Loans.
Lexington—The $375,000 which was loaned by the United States Treasury to the Lexington banks for crop-moving purposes last fall, will all be repaid by the first of next month. The banks have been repaid in monthly installments, and the last balance will be wiped out by April 1. A banker said that the financial situation here is excellent, there being plenty of business and money easy.

Exhume Body Second Time.
Lexington—It became known here that the body of Mrs. Laura Wilder Simpson, former Chicago society girl who died on February 23, from a bullet wound in her head, had been exhumed and examined for a second time on last Saturday night.

This source of information also said that a physician and a lawyer from Chicago, whose names are not known, conducted the second autopsy on the body Saturday night.

Two coroner's juries have returned non-committal verdicts in the case, although insisting that it was not suicide, while Laurence Simpson, the widow of the dead woman, has been insisting on a special grand jury investigation. Judge Kerr, however, refused to impanel a second grand jury and said that the case would be presented to the regular grand jury next month.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Beautify Your Hair! Make it Soft, Fluffy and Luxuriant.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but will please you most, will be after a few week use, when you will see new hair fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all. (adv)

Why is it that a woman can hoist a bracelet up on her forearm and it will stay there all day, and that if a man hoists his cuffs to wash his hands they dip into the water in about three seconds.

It doesn't matter how nicely a woman is dressed, you can always get her goat by staring at her shoes.

Grandpa Mintliker says he can remember when they used to say to a young fellow: "Does your mother know you are out?" Instead of "Do you know where your mother's lecturing tonight?"

TO PROLONG LIFE OF PLANTS

Abundance of Fresh Air is the First Necessity for Those Kept for Indoor Adornment.

Many persons are unsuccessful with house plants because they do not give them enough fresh air. The atmosphere of the ordinary living room is both too dry and too warm for the average potted plant, and the room is usually kept so tightly closed during the cold months that the air is seldom pure.

Plants of all sorts, whether they are raised indoors or outside, must have an abundance of fresh air. Two or three times a day open some of the windows and allow new air to enter the room. Lower one or two windows an inch or more every day when the outside temperature is not very low. On all mild days in winter throw open all of the doors and windows. You will be surprised at the difference it will make in the vigor, color and growth of the plants when they do have all the good air they need. Good air, good light, good soil and plenty of moisture are the living requirements of all plants.

Keep a box of rich earth in the house for repotting plants during the winter. Fresh earth added is always beneficial to plant life. When preparing, heat the earth to kill worms. If you want sturdy house plants give them plant food. Ammoniated bone meal is a good fertilizer for house plants. Beware of the fancy jardiniere. It is responsible for many decayed roots. All plants with shiny surfaces can be washed with soapsuds containing a little olive oil.

Instead of carrying potted ferns through winter after winter, so that they get worn out, give them an occasional rest. Cut them down close and you will be surprised to see how they will reward you in the spring by leafing out with renewed vigor.

To keep a rubber plant in condition, it must have plenty of earth, plenty of water and a shower bath once a week. When it has dried, after the bath, wipe the leaves and sponge them with milk.

If your palm is infested with scales, wash the leaves in a weak solution of soapsuds. After several washings, at intervals of a few days apart, you will find that the scales will disappear, the palm will look fresh and green, and make a new growth. An occasional bath of this sort will keep it in fine condition.

IN ALL SHADES OF PETUNIA

Designers Have Worked Wonders With Materials of Velvet, Silk and Crepe de Chine.

Petunia shades in velvet, silk and crepe de chine are so alluring that it is small wonder that the petunia costume has become a fad. Because of the cost of the materials in which the peculiar purple and red tones are most perfect, these get-ups are usually seen at afternoon receptions and at evening dances. One of the most successful models is a three-piece costume, consisting of a petunia red-colored silk skirt, a blouse, also of the silk, cut away at the shoulders and elbows to show a round-necked guimpe in petunia rose malines, and a three-quarter coat in petunia purple velvet, lined with satin matching the rose of the malines. The purple velvet hat carries petunia red ostrich plumes and the gloves and shoes are in black suede. This choice of minor accessories is a wise one, for were they in white, gray or even in glaze black, they would glare at the dull petunia tones.

Dull and inconspicuous accessories invariably accompany the petunia evening costumes. These are usually in two or more shades in malines and are chiefly worn as dancing frocks by young girls. Occasionally, however, a young matron is seen in a trained gown of petunia-shaded malines or chiffon, brightened by a necklace or a dog collar in rubies, amethysts or emeralds set in dull Dutch silver.

CONGRESS MAY ACT ON THE INSURANCE SITUATION

A Federal investigation may be made of the Kentucky insurance situation. Representative J. C. Cantrill admitted Tuesday at Washington that he is examining the State insurance tangle, and if public sentiment seems to justify it, and he is convinced that the situation can be aided, he will introduce a resolution calling on the House to investigate the entire matter.

"I have been receiving a number of letters lately," said Mr. Cantrill, from business men in my district saying that the insurance companies are declining to write Kentucky risks and that their property is unprotected. I have received letters from many others who are dependent upon the insurance business for a livelihood asking me whether the companies are compelled to transact business in the State.

"It happens that I am a member of the Rules Committee. I had not intended mentioning my investigation until I had gone further into the subject, but I am willing to say this: If I find that an investigation can help the Kentucky situation by evolving Federal legislation to meet the subject, and if I find that the people of the State really want their rights and privileges in such matters defined, I shall introduce an appropriate resolution and ask the Rules Committee to hold hearings upon it. I imagine I can induce the committee to take this step, and, if the hearings justify this resolution, to authorize a House investigation of the whole subject. And if I decide to introduce the resolution I believe that the hearings before the Rules Committee will result in its adoption."

LUKE McUKE SAYS

After a man reaches the top he always forgets those who helped to hold the ladder for him.

A household tragedy is when a half dozen young men take turns in taking the seventeen-year-old daughter out everywhere when the 27-year-old daughter never even has a caller.

The skirts are to be tighter this summer. Well, if a girl happens to get bitten by a mosquito she won't be able to get her skirt on over the bite.

And after all, it isn't the tight skirt that attracts our attention. It's the motive power.—[Cincinnati] Enquirer.

The wheat crop of Argentina, Australia and New Zealand was 12 per cent. less than last year.

The Eastern railroad rate advance case decision by the Interstate Commerce Commission is not expected before May, as the railroads have asked for more time.
