NEWS OF MILLERSBURG

The commencement exercises of the M. F. C. were continued Monday with the annual concert at the M. F. C. Auditorium. This, like all the previous exercises, was well attended. Advanced pupils of the musical department were given an opportunity to show what they had done during the year. The brilliancy of each performer in many respects surpassed those of former years. There is no question but what the members of the musical faculty are superior teachers. The vocal numbers of the work reached its climax in its last number, "Invitation to the Dance," with two pianos and six violins. On Tuesday morning the M. F. C. Auditorium was filled to overflowing, many being compelled to stand during the entire commencement exercises. This was partly due to the fact that Dr. Crowe was to deliver the baccalaureate address. His discourse on Sunday being a logical one all lovers of culture were anxious to hear him again. At the appointed time the class of 1914, with the members of the faculty of the Institute took their places on the rostrum. The class was made up of the following: Misses Jennie McMillan, A. B., Christine Patterson, A. B., Margaret Anne Peterson, A. B., Martha Adelaide Smith, A. B., Mildred Washington Bruce, B. S., Mattie Lydia Burford, B. S., Nell Loraine Hammond, B. S., Ruth Russell Norris, B. S., Dr. John M. Crowe, of Pulaski, Va., the able orator of the occasion, delivered the baccalaureate address, taking as his subject "Heroes and Heroines." His address was a masterly effort, and many beautiful pictures were drawn. It was sublime, eloquent and at the same time practical.

Dr. Fisher awarded the diplomas at the close of the address in an appropriate and touching address. The honor roll was then read. In a short address Dr. Fisher called attention to the building of the annex which is to be erected during the present summer, and appealed to the student body and all friends of the Institute to do what they could to enlist the interest of new students for next year.

He also announced that in the very near future the name of the Millersburg Female College would be changed to something more appropriate. Many of the students and the faculty left for their respective homes Tuesday afternoon and evening, and the remainder left Wednesday.

—Dr. W. M. Miller and family returned Wednesday after a two weeks' visit in Atlanta, Ga.

—Mr. William Peed, of Lexington, was at the bedside of his brother, Mr. J. J. Peed, Monday and Tuesday.

—Mrs. Mollie Peed, son and daughter, Mr. Alfred Peed and Miss Mary Peed, of Mayslick, were at the bedside of Mr. J. J. Peed, Tuesday.

—Mrs. O. W. Ingels entertained a number of her friends Wednesday afternoon with a buffet luncheon in honor of her sister, Mrs. E. H. Dorian, of Memphis, Tenn.

—The Millersburg Military Institute commencement exercises begins Sunday, May 31, at 10:30 a. m., with the baccalaureate sermon by Rev. Mark Collis, D. D. pastor of the Broadway Christian church, Lexington. On Monday morning at 9:00 a. m., the usual competitive and exhibition drill, followed by base ball game between M. M. I. and Cynthiana High School, and at 8:00 p. m., in the drill hall a play will be given by the cadets, entitled "The Private Secretary," for which admission will be charged.

On Tuesday morning in the drill hall, at 10:30 o'clock, the graduation exercises will be held. Rev. M. B. Allen, D. D., President of the Georgetown College, will deliver the address to the graduates.

The graduating class consists of Rodney King Dugan, Jr., Woodlawn, Ky.; Thomas Montague Farnsworth, Jr., Harrodsburg, Ky.; Edward Warfield Fithian, Paris, Ky.; William Barbour Mason, Lancaster, Ky.; John Willia May, Lexington, Ky.; Lawrence Price, Paris, Ky.; Ben Clay Plummer, Cynthiana, Ky.; Calvin Darnall Secrest, Brooklyn, N. Y.; James Madison Todd, Lexington, Ky.; Paul Erwin Thompson, Versailles. The public is cordially invited to attend all the exercises.

—The Millersburg Military Institute has sent out beautiful invitations for the Commencement. They are in the form of booklets, the cover of which is marked with the M. M. I. monogram embossed in gold and the seal of the school in navy blue and gold. The cards are tied with blue ribbon to match.

On the inside covers are the following:

The Senior Class of the Millersburg Military Institute requests your presence at their Commencement Exercises Tuesday morning, June the second Nineteen hundred and fourteen M. M. I. Drill Hall Graduates

Rodney King Dugan, Jr. Thomas Montague Farnsworth, Jr. Edward Warfield Fithian. William B. Mason. John William May, Jr. Lawrence Price. Ben Clay Plummer. Calvin Darnall Secrest. James Madison Todd. Paul Erwin Thompson. The program will be found elsewhere.

—The young men of the town entertained the visitors and other friends who were here for the purpose of attending the commencement exercises with a dance Tuesday night at the Opera House. There were not many out-of-town guests present, with the exception of those visiting here. There were about fourteen couples on the floor, just enough to make it pleasant. At midnight a delightful lunch was served at the Stirman House, which was partaken of by most all present. The music was furnished by a Lexington orchestra. There were a few visitors from Paris and Cynthiana.

DEATHS

RENICK.

—Miss Elizabeth Renick, the pretty and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Renick, died in Nashville, Tenn., Monday evening, from typhoid fever.

Since last September she had been a student at the Ward-Belmont College, and was making her home with her aunt, Mrs. Neade Frierson. Six weeks ago she was stricken with typhoid fever, and her mother was called to her bedside.

She seemed to be on the road to recovery until about a week ago, when she suffered a relapse, and in spite of all the efforts of the most skillful physicians she continued to grow worse until the end came.

Miss Renick was born in this city in September, 1898, and would have been sixteen years old next September. She was a member of the Presbyterian church, having professed faith with that denomination at an early age. For several years she was a student at the Paris City School, and attended Bourbon College. Later she entered the private school of Mrs. Fanniebell Sutherland, where she continued until last fall, when she entered the Nashville College.

She was a beautiful and accomplished young woman, and by her gentle manners made a host of friends. Her death was a severe shock to her parents, as well as to her numerous friends, who were devoted to her. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Coleman Renick, a student in Center College, Danville.

Mr. and Mrs. Renick and son were at her bedside when the end came, Mr. Renick having been called to that city Sunday.

The remains were brought to this city Tuesday afternoon, and taken to the Renick home on Duncan avenue. The funeral services were conducted from the residence yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock by Eld. W. E. Ellis, and the burial followed in the family lot in the Paris cemetery. The following were the pall-bearers: Jos. M. Hall, John M. Brenna, C. K. Thomas, Fred Batterton, W. H. Harris and Dr. M. H. Dailey.

IN MEMORIAM.

When a beautiful girl like Elizabeth Renick passes from among us it leaves a void in our lives which is difficult to fill. But when we realize that she has gone just a little way from us and that we shall soon follow on, it leads us to inquire into her new life and to endeavor to find in what her new happiness consists. For the spiritual world never becomes quite so near and so real to us as when we follow into it our dear friends and sympathize with them in the improvements and enjoyments of that blessed life. What must have been the joy of our Lord in receiving her spirit, which has passed through this world of sore temptation with an improving virtue. What a delicate refinement was hers. And how tenderly she felt for those she loved. What goodness, what purity, what sympathy and intensity of love she ever manifested for her loved ones, and with it all how gentle and sweet and lovely. She silently spread around her that soft, pure light, the beauty of which, and the power are never fully known until it is gone. Her calm, gentle spirit, her sweet and loving sympathy and her just and clear preception of right, fitted her preeminently for the place which she held in the hearts of her many friends. No one who ever knew her well could easily forget the peculiar, attractiveness with which she drew her friends to herself—so gentle, so tender, so loving. The world was beautiful to her and life was sweet, and she tried to show her generous impulses, noble aspirations and unselfish devotion by her life of beautiful unselfishness toward others. But she has gone on before us and will be waiting to greet us at the beautiful gate, for she is not dead.

There is no death; What seems so is transition.

This life is mortal breath, Is but a suburb of the life elysian, Whose portal we call death.

She is not dead, the child of our affection;

But gone into that school Where she no longer needs our poor protection, And Christ himself doth rule.

In that great cloister's stillness and seclusion,

By guardian angels led Safe from temptation, safe from sin's pollution, She lives whom we call dead.

Let us be patient; These severe afflictions,

Not from the ground arise, But oftimes celestial benedictions Assume this dark disguise.

We see but dimly through the mists and vapors,

Amid these earthly lamps; What seems to us but sad funeral tapers, May be heaven's distant lamps.

Her beautiful life is suggestive of heaven, whither she has gone. She is resting at peace with God and the richest heritage to her loved ones is the Christian example she has left them.

The following little poem was read at her burial by request, entitled, "What Do They Say."

"O, what do you think the angels say?"

Said the children up in Heaven, "There's a little girl coming here to-day."

She's almost ready to fly away From the earth we used to live in;

THE EXPRESS IS IN THIS TOWN AND IN TO STAY

FOR seventy-five years—three-quarters of a century—the express has been the right-hand of the shippers of commercial America. The express came to Paris in 1854, and it came to stay. For 50 years it has been the right-hand of commercial Paris.

It is here to stay. The other day when reports went out that the express companies might retire from business, a protest went up. From whom this protest—the express companies? No! The merchants of the country—shippers everywhere—petitioned Congress that no action might be taken that might have the effect of forcing the express companies to retire. Commercial organizations all over the land have joined in this appeal to Washington.

For seventy-five years in the past and for a good many years in the future Express Service will mean
