

JAILER FARRIS COMMENDED.

Under the heading, "A Lynching That Failed," Sunday's issue of the Cincinnati Commercial-Tribune editorially commends and endorses the action of Jailer Jos. Farris, of Paris, in defending the prisoner and himself last Saturday morning in the following:

LYNCHING THAT FAILED.

That Kentucky jailer who stood off a mob bent on the pastime of lynching a negro, deserves a medal and vote of thanks from the Kentucky Legislature, provided the members of that august body really believe the laws they labor to put on the statute books are worthy of respect and should be enforced.

"Because lackadaisical and cowardly officers of the law have permitted mobs to wreck vengeance on prisoners without resistance the habit of lynching for crimes against women has grown until now 'regulators' assume the prerogative of hanging negroes for petty larceny. If the people could be impressed with the fact that the invocation of mob law weakens every bulwark of liberty and of defense enjoyed by the common every day citizen these sporadic outbreaks of outlawry would cease and self-control, the highest attribute of civilization, would supplant wild desire for bloody vengeance.

"Past experiences have led members of mobs to believe they may act without danger to themselves. Whatever opposition has been met usually has been of a sham character and many men who take oaths to uphold the laws and constitution of the State evidently think it better to let the law slide rather than shoot a neighbor and a voter whose ballot might be needed in the next election.

"If more Sheriffs and Jailers would exercise the same courage and determination shown by the Kentucky official lynching soon would cease to be a thing of reproach in Kentucky. "Kentucky would have a better name in some directions if there had been more jailers like Farris, of Paris."

WHAT'S THE REASON?

Many Paris People in Poor Health Without Knowing the Cause.

There are scores of people who drag out a miserable existence without realizing the cause of their suffering. Day after day they are racked with backache and headache; suffer from nervousness, dizziness, weakness, languor and depression. Perhaps the kidneys have fallen behind in their work—give them the help they need. You can use no more highly recommended remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills—endorsed by people all over the country and by your neighbors in Paris.

Mrs. Hodges, 821 West St., Paris, Ky., says: "I had dizzy and nervous spells and my back and head ached, showing that my kidneys were weak. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I used them and they gave me relief."

Mrs. Hodges is only one of many Paris people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Hodges had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. KENTUCKY DECLARES WAR.

A call for volunteers has been issued by the State of Kentucky. It deals with war, war upon a condition that has existed in the Blue Grass State for many years. There are 208,084 men and women in Kentucky who can not read or write. This appalling condition is in a measure due to the school districts of the State, which have not furnished adequate educational facilities. But in the main the large percentage of illiteracy must be attributed to the lack of desire for knowledge evinced by men and women who are content with primitive methods of intellectual intercourse. They have been isolated from the world for many decades, and, while they have resisted educational advancement with almost Chinese obstinacy. There have been cases known in which parents have kept children from school because they did not wish their progeny to have an intellectual advantage over them.

Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, president of the Kentucky Illiteracy commission, has issued an eloquent appeal to Kentuckians to assist in wiping this blot of ignorance from the State. She wants men and women who will go into the mountains and other districts where illiteracy obtains and teach untutored eyes and hands. But the enthusiasm of Mrs. Stewart and the number of volunteers will not be available unless the educational laws of Kentucky are more stringently enforced. In her task as chairman of the illiteracy commission requires not only teachers, but compulsory school attendance in fact as well as in theory.

The reward is worth the battle. The illiterates of Kentucky are men and women, who in many instances can trace their lineage back to Virginia days before the migration that settled the Blue Grass State. And when they are brought out of darkness and given a place in the sun they will constitute a citizenship of which Kentucky will be proud.—Cincinnati Times-Tar.

ACUTE INDIGESTION.

"I was annoyed for over a year by attacks of acute indigestion, followed by constipation," writes Mrs. M. J. Gallagher, Geneva, N. Y. "I tried everything that was recommended to me for this complaint but nothing did me much good until about four months ago I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them from our druggist. I soon realized that I had gotten the right thing for they helped me at once. Since taking two bottles of them I can eat heartily without any bad effects." Sold by all dealers.
