OTHER TOBACCO MARKETS.

LEXINGTON MARKET.

Thursday's sales on the Lexington tobacco market were 277,075 pounds at prices ranging from $21.50 a hundred down and at an average price of $8.29 a hundred.

Offerings as a whole were of poorer quality than on any day since the opening of the market, the percentage of good tobacco on the breaks very low.

WINCHESTER MARKET.

At the Planters' Loose Leaf Warehouse, in Winchester, 119,829 pounds of tobacco, including Thursday's sales, have been sold, the amount realized being $10,909.60, at a general average of $9.15.

The amount sold Thursday was 223,365 at $2 to $14.50. H. G. Bush's crop of 3,025 pounds brought $12.20.

FRANKFORT MARKET.

The tobacco sales at Frankfort, Thursday, amounted to 32,873 pounds at an average of $8.41 a hundred. The prices ranged as high as $17 a hundred.

MAYSVILLE MARKET.

Loose leaf tobacco sales at Maysville, Thursday, were light, only three houses reporting. They sold 33,480 pounds. The market was slow and inactive. Prices ranged from $1 to $16 a hundred. The Home house sold 26,070 pounds at an average of $7. The Farmers' house sold 4,010 pounds and the Growers 3,400 pounds.

LOUISVILLE MARKET.

There was another fairly good volume of new tobacco on the Louisville breaks Thursday. All told 100 hogsheads of new tobacco were disposed of at auction—98 burley and 2 dark. The quality of the new was poor, the percentage of color grades being very low. Prices were on a level with Wednesday and generally satisfactory to sellers, rejections being only moderate. The offerings of the burley were readily taken at steady to firm prices. Receipts are increasing and prospects are for good volume of business next week.

SICK HEADACHE.

Sick headache is nearly always caused by disorders of the stomach. Correct them and the periodic attacks of sick headache will appear. Mrs. John Bishop of Roseville, O., writes: "About a year ago I was troubled with indigestion and had sick headache that lasted for two of three days at a time. I doctored and tried a number of remedies but nothing helped me until during one of those sick spells a friend advised me to take Chamberlain's Tablets. This medicine relieved me in a short time." For sale by all dealers. (adv-dec)

A TEST FOR LIVER COMPLAINT.

Mentally Unhappy—Physically Dull. The liver, sluggish and inactive, first shows itself in a mental way—unhappy and critical. Never is there joy in living, as when the stomach and liver are doing their work. Keep your liver active and healthy by using Dr. King's New Life Pills; they empty the bowels freely, tone up your stomach, cure your constipation and purify the blood. 25c at Druggists. PRIVATE WRITES HOME TWO TROOPERS FORGOT FRAY TO SETTLE FOOTBALL DISPUTE.

London.—If you want to know how our boys are behaving, listen to this," writes a private in the Coldstream Guards.

"The other day we were moved up to relieve a company of the 'blind half-hundred' (Royal West Kent regiment), who were being pretty badly shelled in their trenches. Quite close to me I found a first-class scrap going on between two privates, who, ignoring the shells, were settling a dispute in the old English manner. And what do you think the row was about? The respective merits of the Aston Villa and the Queens Park ranges football teams."

GERMANS STEAL GUN SECRET

American Device, Sold to England, Reported Used in Big Siege Pieces.

New York.—That the English government has under consideration a device, the invention of Americans, to give shells a rotary motion before they leave the gun and that the secret already has been stolen and sold to Germany and is responsible for the remarkable effectiveness of the 42-centimeter siege guns that reduced the forts at Liege and other cities is the startling story going the rounds of semi-official circles in Washington and New York.

STOPS EXTORTION.

Berlin.—To husband the resources of the empire and prevent extortion when the supplies diminish as an inevitable result of the war, the federal council, or bundesrat, has fixed a scale of maximum prices for all cereals. The price of wheat is highest, with rye next.

THEY'RE NOT "COLDSTREAMS."

London.—A correspondent writing to one of the papers says: "Don't talk about 'Coldstreams.' It is quite wrong. They are the 'Coldstream guards' or the 'Coldstreamers.' I had this from one of their officers, and he was very insistent about it."

COSTS $40,225,000 A DAY

Russia's Bill for War Is Almost Double That of Any Other Power.

Paris.—The war bill which Europe is meeting daily is now figured up as follows:

Russia	$14,000,000
Germany	7,225,000
France	7,000,000
England	5,000,000
Austria	4,000,000
Various	3,000,000
Total	$40,225,000

The French appropriation is from official figures as announced by M. Ribot, minister of finance; the English estimate by the London Statist; the German total from "an authoritative source" in a Geneva paper, and the other sums from various conservative estimates which have appeared in one place or another. The items "various" represents the probable expense to which Serbia, Belgium and the neutral countries of Switzerland, Italy, Roumania, Turkey, Greece, Holland and Denmark have been put.

This vast total does not include the destruction of property where fighting is taking place nor the well-nigh incalculable losses to Europe of 20,000,000 men under arms being taken from production. There are no indications in France that exhaustion has set in, but it is evident that the accumulated treasure of even the richest country on the continent is being poured out at a rate that adds $200,000,000 a month to the national debt.

WHERE HEROES FELL

Mad Tumult of Death in Man-to-Man Battle.

Writer Gives Graphic Picture of Bayonet Charge—Germans, Scots and Britons Fall Side by Side in Bloody Charge.

In the North of France.—The initial effort of the massed German strength to tear their way through the allies' lines at Ypres and thus drive in the opening wedge by which their sweep of the French coast was to be made possible was broken by one of the most superb and self-sacrificing displays of heroism ever attempted by a body of soldiers.

The attack opened with a terrific cannonade against the British positions. Shells tore in, shrieking and bursting in a mad tumult of death, scarring the British trenches, blasting through bomb-proofs and making an inferno of the allies' position.

Under cover of the furious artillery fire the German columns started to advance at the double. Rank upon rank, regiment upon regiment, they loomed through the smoke held low as a screen by the dense fog that prevailed. The word passed along the British trenches that this was the supreme effort of the German advance.

While the first line was setting itself firm to withstand the shock of the fierce impact they knew was coming, a great wave of Britons boiled up and over the edge of the British ditches. They rolled pell mell down the approach to the trenches and when they scrambled to their feet there were two regiments of them—one Scottish and a regiment of the guards.

They formed quickly, with bayonets fixed, and went down into the center of the gray line of advancing Germans, yelling a battle cry that was blood-stirring. They charged like demons.

The artillery of the allies opened fire behind them to give them cover, but soon they had advanced past the range of safety at which the French gunners might fire without hitting the charging line of Britons.

The Germans came on at a steady tread, in numbers that it seemed must engulf the two lines charging down upon them.

Then came the clash. It was cold steel from the moment they struck. Thrusting, recoiling, parrying, countering and thrusting again, the Scots and the guards fought their men hand-to-hand, giving back before the steady press of Teutons, but fighting all the way.

They fell side by side, the Germans, the Scots and the gallant Britons, those behind trampling them, but still they rose and fought again until the "dressed" German line resembled a mob. Confusion spread through the German ranks. Panic seemed to have seized them, and they "milled," losing all sense of direction, knowing only that a horde of demons had been turned loose in their midst and had made it a man-to-man fight.

The German charge was broken, for no front could extricate itself from such a turmoil in the face of the trenches, and the Germans were forced to retire to reform.

Reserves were brought up to fill the gap where the brave Scots and the gallant Britons had gone out to their mission of death, and the line again was in a position to hold.

In scattered twos and threes—shattered twos and threes—the Guards and the Scots found their lines. But the two regiments were done. If they had broken the German advance they had given their lives to do it. Not a small company was left of the two regiments.

12—RECEIVERS OFF THE HOOK
You'd be surprised to know how many telephone receivers are left off the hook every day, not only in residences, but in business offices. Sometimes it is done through carelessness and often by accident.
An extension desk set located on a table or desk is apt to be moved into such a position that the receiver rests on a book or is displaced in some equally simple manner. In homes, children and servants are most frequently responsible for this trouble.
When a receiver is left off the hook and the operator is unable to attract the attention of the subscriber, the "howler" is connected and produces a loud noise. If this fails to cause the subscriber to replace the receiver, the telephone is out of order until an employe can reach the place and put the receiver on the hook.
When your receiver is off the hook no one can call you. The result is annoying to you, to those who wish to telephone you, who are told your telephone is "out of order," and to us.
So, you see, it is rather important to all of us that the receiver remain in place when the telephone is not in use.
