Painting the Roadsides.

About this time of year many merchants used to be organizing campaigns for decorating (?) the roadsides for many miles around with their advertising. As soon as the spring mud had dried out, they had their teams and men out erecting and painting signboards along the country highways.

Very much less of this sort of work will be done the coming spring in many localities it has stopped altogether. The merchants found out that it did not have advertising value, and they were spending their good money for nothing.

One objection to this outdoor advertising was that it soon became defaced and shabby. Even a neatly painted sign, if exposed to rain and dust, would look ancient in a single season. It would convey an appearance of dinginess that was left handed advertising for the store that erected it. Boys would use it as a target, and jokers would take paint and alter over words with humorous intent.

The most serious objection to these signs was the public animosity that they created. In many States legislation has been enacted against them. In others various associations have taken the matter up, and have made it a business to wreck roadside signs, confident that they were within their legal rights.

The simple fact is that the people don't want their pretty country roads defaced by advertising. When they go outside of the towns, they like to see country scenes and open air life, and want to forget about business. The signboard is a reminder of commercialism. If erected on a man's place of business, it would not be objected to, if neatly done. Placed on the highway, it offends by being out of place, and it does not help to sell goods.

Loafing in College.

Dr. T. M. Balliet, dean of the pedagogy school of New York University, told the National Educational Association a few days ago that present day college terms are "four years of loafing." This agrees with an article by a college undergraduate recently printed in The Outlook, which says college courses are so easy that students slip through with little work.

Yet many students, apparently perfectly truthful, say they have to work hard to pass tests and keep out of conditions. The parent looking for a good college for his boy or girl feels puzzled to know which point of view is correct.

The bright student may get the substance of a lesson in ten minutes, over which the duller fellow would work an hour. By dodging studies like mathematics and the classic languages, which call for steady grind, many long hours are saved.

With ten minutes hurried reading of a subject like literature, civil government, political economy, the student with ready wit and facile speech might make a far better showing than the slow tongued grind.

The frequent cases like these indicate the fallacy of too many electives. The educator with scholastic tastes may think each student is selecting the course that accords best with his own needs and gifts. But probably the majority of students pick the easy courses.

A college should not be satisfied with its work unless careful thought is given to each individual student. If he is slipping along on easy courses, the authorities need to hand out some real intellectual wood-pile for him to saw and split. Few parents send their boys to school to spend their time with their feet on the piazza rail of fraternity houses, or eating and sleeping on the ball ground.

NO MORE FREE SEED.

THE NEWS has been asked several times by interested parties as to whether or not the distribution of garden seeds would be kept up by the Government, and whether the Congressmen would continue their time-honored privilege of sending seeds to their constituents. We have learned upon reliable authority that, since the home gardening movement began throughout the country as a means of meeting the increased cost of food, the Department of Agriculture has been swamped with hundreds of thousands of requests for free seed. Officials of Department have informed us that there will be no further free distribution of free seed to the general public.

IT'S SURPRISING

That So Many Paris People Fail To Recognize Kidney Weakness.

Are you a bad back victim? Suffer twinges; headaches, dizzy spells?

Go to bed tired—get up tired? It's surprising how few suspect the kidneys.

It's surprising how few know what to do.

Kidney trouble needs kidney treatment.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only.

Have convinced Paris people of their merit.

Here's a Paris case; Paris testimony.

Kidney sufferers hereabouts should read it.

Mrs. Chas. McCord, S. Pleasant St., Paris, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills on different occasions, getting them from Oberdorfer's Drug Store and I have found them a splendid medicine. Whenever my kidneys have been irregular in action or when my back has been weak and lame, I have always found that a box or so of Doan's Kidney Pills proves sufficient to cure me of the attack."

Price 50 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. McCord had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. (adv)

AMERICAN AIR FLEET BEGUN

The Navy is now receiving bids for the construction of a monster Zeppelin-type dirigible to be built at a cost approximating half a million dollars. It is to be fully 500 feet long and equal to any of the monsters now in service in the European war zone. Orders have also been given for 200 smaller aeronautic vessels including biplanes, triplanes and smaller dirigibles, most of which are to be completed at an early date as a beginning to the aeronautic fleet which is to be placed on a par with other world powers in this respect.

RANK FOOLISHNESS.

You occasionally see it stated that colds do not result from cold weather. This is rank foolishness. Were it true colds would be as prevalent in midsummer as in midwinter. The microbe that causes colds flourishes in damp, cold weather. To get rid of a cold take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is effective and is highly recommended by people who have used it for many years as occasion required, and know its real value. Obtainable everywhere.

When all run down you can get nothing more on tick.

Candy is going up, but the manufacturers can get around the high price by making all-day suckers harder.

—The annual Senior and Junior reception of the M. C. was held Friday evening from 8 to 11. It was one of the events that had been looked forward to for a number of weeks. The young ladies, as well as many of the visiting ladies, were handsomely gowned for the occasion. Flowers were in greater profusion than in any of the past receptions. The floral decorations were elaborate, and everything as far as possible was carried out emblematical of St. Patrick's Day, as were also the souvenirs. The receiving line, which was long, was stationed in the drawing room, with Dr. C. C. Fisher at its head. The orchestra was stationed in the rear of the front hall, and sweet music was dispensed during the entire evening. There were more than four hundred invitations out, most of which were responded to. All of the surrounding towns were represented, the floor space was crowded, and guests moved from room to room with difficulty. Merriment was continuous from the time the first guest arrived until the last departed. The inclement weather did not deter the crowd. The dining room was a thing of beauty, and the decorations were artistically arranged. Cut flowers and potted plants were in evidence everywhere. The refreshments consisted of individual cakes, iced ice lilies and mints. It was one of the most pleasant receptions ever held in the college. The classes and Mrs. Fisher, who was in charge, are to be congratulated for the manner of conducting it.

EAT WITHOUT FEAR OF INDIGESTION OR SOUR, ACID STOMACH

Instant Relief! "Pape's Diapepsin" Ends Your Stomach Distress. Try It!

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just eat has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women to-day know that it is needless to have dyspepsia. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps the stomach sweetened and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it stops fermentation and acidity and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. (adv)
