

APRIL AMERICAN MAGAZINE.

In the April American Magazine are the opening chapters of Edna Ferber's first serial, entitled "Fanny Herself," a novel which promises to be fully as interesting as the best adventure of Emma McChesney, although in a different vein.

Perhaps the most helpful "success" article that has been published in months is "Are You a Square Peg in a Round Hole," by Herman Schneider, Dean of the School of Engineering of the University of Cincinnati, whose system of eliminating misfits has turned many a failure into a success of the first order.

Among the other features of the magazine are the winning letters of the prize contest entitled "How Marriage Helped Me Win," together with the announcement of a new contest for readers. Good material is included in "Interesting People," "The Family's Money" and "Getting Ahead."

HIS FOOD NEVER TASTED SO GOOD

Kentucky Farmer Tells How Tanlac Toned Up His System.

"NEVER FELT SO GOOD"

All the milk, butter and eggs produced on his farm did him no good till he tried Tanlac, said J. T. Goolman, R. F. D. No. 7, Winchester, Ky. "I felt tired and worn-out all the time, and lots of times I had to lay off until I had rested awhile," he said. "My stomach bothered me and anything I ate hurt me. Gas formed on my stomach and I belched and bloated—I felt like I had a brick or something heavy in my stomach all the time."

"I had aches in my back and legs, and was so nervous and out-of-sorts that I felt blue and down-and-out. At night I couldn't sleep, and when I got up I felt worse than when I went to bed. I had a bad taste in my mouth nearly all the time, my tongue was coated, and I had sick headaches."

"Finally, my friends advised me to try Tanlac. Well sir, I haven't felt so good in years. Tanlac straightened me up in a hurry."

"I feel like a new man. I work every day and don't feel tired and dragged-out any more. I eat anything I want. My headaches have left and I don't bloat or belch now. I am mighty thankful for Tanlac, for it has done me more good than anything else and I have tried nearly everything."

"I always keep two or three bottles of Tanlac on hand, and all my family use it. I wouldn't be without it in the house for a minute."

Tanlac, the master medicine and reconstructive tonic, is sold exclusively in PARIS by Varden & Son. Other exclusive agents in nearby towns are as follows: HUTCHISON, Snell & Wood; MILLERSBURG, W. G. Wadell; ELIZABETH, Oscar Smith; CARLISLE, Trueman & Son; GEORGETOWN, C. H. Arnold; WINCHESTER, Duty Drug Company; AUSTERLITZ, B. S. Parish. (adv.)

COSTS STATE $23 TO EDUCATE CHILD.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction V. O. Gilbert, has prepared figures showing the cost of education in Kentucky as compared with other States.

The school population of Kentucky is 690,880 and the per capita expenditure is $9.76. Based on the attendance it is $22.99. The cost of carrying a pupil through the first eight grades is $183.20, based on the attendance. Of this cost $3,024,554 comes out of the State funds, the State per capita being $4.37.

Tennessee has a per capita of $1.33. In that State $95,183 is appropriated annually for education, spending $13.61 per capita of attendance annually; Alabama with a per capita of $4.14 appropriates $2,983,922 and spends $15.33 annually on each child attending. Mississippi with a per capita of $2.35 appropriates $1,454,941 annually and spends $9.30 on each child.

The State of Texas appropriates $4,991,705 and spends $25.88 annually on each child attending. The per capita of that State is $3.73. Ohio with a per capita of $1.93 appropriates $2,300,714 and spends on each child $48.82; Illinois with a per capita of $2.05, spends annually on each child $42.92.

Of the Southern States only Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana take precedence over Kentucky in the amount spent each year on the education of each child; but in the north, west and east the amount varies from $27 in New Mexico to $77.14 in Nevada.

The Oil In Tobacco. Although the Havana or Havana seed tobaccos are low in nicotine, they are high in oil. The settlement in a pipstern or the brown stain obtained from blowing tobacco smoke through the meshes of a handkerchief is not nicotine, as commonly supposed, but is in reality tobacco oil, nicotine only being obtained in extract by an elaborate process of distillation and double distillation. The oil in cigar tobacco prevents the smoke being inhaled, as it would cause a strangulation and painful irritation.

Appius Claudius. Appius Claudius, surnamed Caecus (the blind), was a Roman statesman who lived during the third century before the Christian era. He was a Roman censor, 312 to 308, and consul, 307 to 296. He commenced the Appian way and completed the Appian aqueduct. From his Roman jurisprudence, oratory, grammar and Latin prose date their beginning. He abolished the limitation of the full right of citizenship to landed proprietors. In his old age he is said to have become blind, whence his cognomen "Caecus." He was the author of works in both prose and verse, of which almost nothing is known.

Nevertheless, it is small comfort to debt-ridden European nations that they are Italy carrying fewer soldiers on their backs.

RUSSIA SEES STAR OF FREEDOM DAWNING

LONDON, March 19.—Despotism has been overthrown and liberty is dawning for the people in Russia.

Czar Nicholas has abdicated, following a brief revolution in which the Douma (national assembly) conquered over aristocracy. The future of the thirteen-year-old Czarevitch is uncertain.

Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch, the idol of the masses, soldier and author, has assumed the regency.

All the imperial Cabinet Ministers have been arrested by the Douma's orders and imprisoned, according to the news agency.

The Czar's palaces at Petrograd and at Pavlovsk have been seized by the soldiers.

A new national Cabinet, all Liberals, is announced, with Prince Lvoff as President of the Council and Premier, and the other offices held by the men who are close to the Russian people.

For several days Petrograd has been the scene of one of the most remarkable risings in history. Beginning with minor food riots and labor strikes, the cry for food reached the hearts of the soldiers, and one by one the regiments rebelled, until finally those troops that had for a time stood loyal to the government took up their arms and marched into the ranks of the revolutionists.

The President of the Douma, Michael V. Rodianko, was the leading figure among the Deputies who unanimously decided to oppose the imperial order for a dissolution of the house. They continued their sessions, and M. Rodianko informed the Emperor, then at the front, that the hour had struck when the will of the people must prevail.

Even the Imperial Council realized the gravity of the situation and added its appeal to that of the Douma that the Emperor should take steps to give the people a policy and government in accord with their desires and in order that there should be no interference with carrying on the war to a victorious end.

The Emperor hastened back from the front, only to find that the revolution had been successful and that a new government was in control. The Empress who, it is alleged, has been influential in the councils opposed to the wishes of the people, is reported to have fled.

Although considerable fighting took place, it is not believed that the casualties are large. The members of the new national cabinet, all liberals, are announced as follows: Premier, President of the Council and Minister of the Interior, Prince Georges E. Lvoff. Foreign Minister, Prof. Paul N. Milukoff. Minister of Public Instruction, Prof. Maulloff, of Moscow University. Minister of War and Navy, ad interim, A. J. Kuskoff, formerly President of the Douma. Minister of Agriculture, M. Terschareff, Deputy from Petrograd. Minister of Finance, M. Tereseltenko, Deputy from Keiv. Minister of Justice, Deputy Kerenski, of Saratoff. Minister of Communications, N. V. Nerasoff, Vice President of the Douma. Controller of State, M. Godneff, Deputy from Kazan.

SHOES OF ALUMINUM.

(Toronto Star.)

Owing to the increase in the cost of leather, which has been on the upward trend for many years, there has been a demand for some substitute that will take its place to a certain extent in the manufacture of shoes, and in some parts of the country there has been received with favor a shoe partly made of aluminum.

The use of leather is not dispensed with entirely, but the sole and counter, the parts most subject to wear, are made of the metal. The hard usage of shoes comes on the heel and sole, and in the case of aluminum the wearer walks on the heel and a rocker, across the sole of the shoe, which parts are renewable and may be readily replaced without sending the shoe to the shoemaker.

The new shoes are no heavier than those of leather, and are said to be much more economical on account of the increased service secured.

ANOTHER FORD JOKE.

A Chicago company, beginning with a modest capitalization of $5,000, has created an enormous run on Ford cars that are not yet Fords. The company in question conceived the scheme of equipping the stock Ford chassis and motor with a body designed after the sumptuous lines of the palatial European motor cars, the result being a roadster selling in the neighborhood of $600, which bore the same resemblance to its sisters in the regular Ford dress that a peacock bears to a barnyard hen. The expenditure of a few hundred dollars brought such an avalanche of inquiries and orders that the company which manufactured the cars was forced to corral the entire output of the Chicago Ford outfit for the space of a day to catch up with their deliveries.

When the case was reported to Ford in Detroit it is said it created a mental state not at all in accord with his well-known peace proclivities. Nevertheless the war goes merrily on.

DON'T SCOLD, MOTHER! THE CROSS CHILD IS BILIOUS, FEVERISH.

Look at Tongue! If Coated, Clean Little Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, mother! A little given to-day saves a sick child to-morrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup. (adv)
