

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES.

Women Registration September 3 to 10.

The government wants to have a complete census of the ability of the women of our country, and the work of registration will be under the supervision of the Women's Committee of the National Council of Defense.

Mrs. G. F. Clay has been appointed chairman of the work for Bourbon county and has already appointed committees and assistants to aid in rushing to completion the work so necessary and so needed in helping our government in this hour of need when the millions of men are going to war and women are taking their places here at home.

Following facts about the registration will aid those who have not had the opportunity to read anything on the subject.

No woman will be required to register. The Government will not penalize her if she refuses to comply with its request. Nor will she be forced to perform the work for which she signs up her fitness. It is up to her whether she refuses her co-operation to her country during war times.

An ever-growing labor shortage will be felt in this country; first, because of the millions of men who are withdrawn from civil life and industries; second, because of the new war industries which will require labor. American women must therefore work—all of them, rich and poor—just as English and French women have worked, regardless of their private means. A census is therefore necessary for the Government to discover which of its women can be depended on to do this work.

A large percentage of the women are the mothers of young children, and therefore can neither leave home, nor accept paid positions. Such a woman is asked to register under the domestic section, and moreover to state how much of her time she can or will give to the Red Cross work.

Each registrant must state whether she is trained or untrained. If she expects to take training that she may be of more service to her country, she should register this plan.

There are ten branches of service which the card mentions, which cover every known service which a woman can do. They are agricultural, clerical, domestic, industrial, professional, public service, social service, Red Cross, and Allied Relief, miscellaneous and contributions. The woman must state whether she is trained or untrained. A list, printed on the card allows her to be more specific as to her training and experience. This list follows:

1. Agricultural — Dairying, Farming, Fruit raising, Gardening, Poultry raising, Stock raising.
2. Clerical — Accountant, Book-keeper, Cashier, Clerical work (gen), Filing, Office assistant, Office Manager, Private Secretary, Typewriter, Shipping Clerk, Stenographer.

A PLEA FOR CLEAN STREETS FOR SUNDAY.

A Paris merchant who takes a pardonable pride in civic conditions in Paris complains that the streets of Paris present a deplorable and altogether unrepresentable sight on Sunday morning. It seems that many merchants who take a great pride in keeping their pavements clear of all debris and litter every day in the week will not take the least trouble to have the same conditions obtain on Saturday night. The result is that on Sunday the streets of Paris are filled with an indiscriminate mass of rubbish, paper, tobacco odds and ends, trash of all kinds, all tending to make an unsightly appearance on the following morning when people are going to church.

It is suggested that for the sake of bettering civic conditions in Paris, merchants sweep out their stores before the close of business on Saturday nights, and then clean their pavements, throwing the accumulations of rubbish into a receptacle of some kind, instead of permitting it to be swept into the streets, where it floats and eddys around. Paris streets on Sunday should be immaculately clean, of all days in the week.

The plea is made for the sake of having a cleaner and more sanitary appearance on the streets on Sunday. It is a point well taken. If it is good and wholesome to have clean streets six days in the week, why would not the same principle be worthy of application to Sunday, the seventh day? Let's have a more rigid observance of the slogan, "Clean up, brighten up," and have it apply to the pavements and streets of the city for Saturday night, so that they may not resemble the interior of a dismantled junk shop on the day following.

FORMER PARIS PASTOR LOSES VALUABLE WATCH.

While with a party of friends at a pleasure resort near Cincinnati, Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Peter Robertson, formerly pastor of the Presbyterian church (Northern) in this city, had the misfortune to lose a valuable gold watch. The timepiece was one which had been presented to him by the people of Paris as a memento of their high regard for him and their appreciation of his work for the betterment of Paris during his ministry here. It bore an engraved inscription on the back of the case reading: "To the Rev. Peter Robertson from the Citizens of Paris, Ky."

Rev. Robertson promptly reported his loss to the police, and local jewelers and pawnbrokers were given an accurate description of the watch, and ordered to keep a lookout for it.

Paris was the first place in which Rev. Robertson had a charge after being ordained as a minister. In Cincinnati he had charge of the Mohawk Avenue Presbyterian church, and, as in Paris, soon became very popular.

BOURBON MAN IN NEAR-ACCIDENT IN WINCHESTER

An accident which came near resulting seriously occurred in Winchester, Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Jephtha Haggard, of Bourbon county, lost control of a team of mules he was driving when the animals ran off. In their flight they crashed into the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Nelson, on South Main street. Mr. Haggard was thrown from the wagon by the force of the impact, but luckily escaped serious injury. The wagon was smashed, but the "jarheads" escaped injury.

Over the Top

THE GREATEST OF ALL WAR PICTURES

WITH SERGT. ARTHUR GUY EMPEY (HIMSELF)

Recognized As The Most Human War Story Written by a Fighting Man

Here is Your Chance to Get Into the Fight Yourself

All of us can't go to the fighting line, but the marvel of motion pictures makes it possible for all of us to be with our boys in spirit and to share their thrills and fights with them.

Empey's "Over the Top" is being read by the millions because it is the most human document ever written by a fighting man. How much greater even is your opportunity to see the living, breathing pages of this greatest of all trench stories brought into action by the wonder of the motion picture camera. Come on, all loyal Americans, here is your chance—get into the fight with Empey himself.

Produced Through Effective Co-operation of The U. S. Government!

Greatest Production in The History of Motion Pictures

Vitagraph has spared nothing in making "Over the Top" the tremendous production the subject so richly deserves. Louis Meredith, James Morrison and a host of other screen favorites make up an all-star cast in support of the "Fighting Sargeant." Every modern innovation in motion picture making, vast numbers of actors and actresses, many hundreds of trained soldiers and aviators—all have been assembled by Vitagraph for the making of "Over the Top." As a photo production alone, it is a supreme achievement, but in addition it is one of the most thrilling, intensely dramatic, deeply human stories ever screened.

Scene in Vitagraph's master production, "Over the Top" with Sergt. Arthur Guy Empey, himself.
