BOURBON COUNTY FARM BRINGS $525 AN ACRE.

One of the best land sales made in the county in several years was put over yesterday, when Mr. Walter Clark, acting for the Phoenix Motor Co., of Lexington, sold to Mr. J. E. Krieger, formerly of Shawhan, a tract of land located on the Bethlehem pike, near Paris, containing twenty-four acres, for $525 an acre, or a total of $12,600. The land is known as the Holt property, the former home of Mr. and Mrs. Blanton Holt, who moved to Lexington some years ago. There seems to be no longer such a thing as saying anything is "dirt cheap," when the present prices of real estate are taken into consideration.

The Eals & Harney Real Estate Agency, of Cynthiana, reports the following sales of real estate made for Bourbon county people: For Crouch & McDaniel, of Bourbon county, seventy-three acres of unimproved land, to Charles McDaniel, of Harrison county. On Tuesday they sold for Mr. Matt Lair, of Paris, his splendid farm of 151 acres, known as the A. S. Thompson farm, to C. D. Wagoner, of Harrison county, for $260 an acre.

Through the Paris Realty Co., Miller & Lilliston, of Paris, sold their new store room at the corner of Main and Fifteenth streets, with residence attached, the purchaser being Mr. A. S. Wilson, of Red House, Madison county. Mr. Wilson will move to the property in a few weeks and will open a grocery in the business house. The price paid for the property was $7,000.

Mr. Forrest B. Thomas purchased yesterday from Mrs. Jas. H. Haggard a frame cottage on Vine street, for $1,250, cash. The cottage is well located and of modern design.

BASKET BALL GAME TONIGHT AT THE Y. M. C. A.

At the Y. M. C. A. to-night the boys' and girls' basket ball teams of the Paris High School and the Lexington High School will meet in a double-header contest for honors. Both teams have been going strong, the Lexington team being especially so. Paris has not been far behind, and with several days of intensive practice, will be fit and fine to give the lads and lassies from Lexington High School a good time.

Play will be called promptly at 7:30 p. m. With a good record behind them the Paris teams may count on a good attendance of their friends and boosters.

LETTER TO PARIS MAN RECALLS ROOSEVELT'S PROPHECY.

Mr. James M. Russell, of Paris, recently received a letter from his classmate, Mr. George Bird Grinnell, of New York, in which he recalled the prophetic words of former President Teddy Roosevelt. After telling Mr. Russell of his appreciation of a fine box of Bourbon county tobacco sent him, Mr. Grinnell adds:

"Since I wrote you last we have had a good deal of sorrow and sadness in this family, and the holiday time has been a very grievous one. My sister and two of my nieces have been ill with pneumonia and influenza, and the husband of one of them, a splendid young Italian officer, who fought through the war and was several times wounded and several times decorated for bravery in action, died on December 29. . . . Then, on January 6 came the death of former President Theodore Roosevelt, which seemed to me a national calamity. I had known Mr. Roosevelt for many years and am deeply grieved at his passing. He wrote me in a letter not very long ago, 'You and I and the rest of our generation are now getting within range of the rifle pits. We, all of us, have to face the same fate a few years earlier or a few years later, and I think that what really matters is that according to our lights we shall have borne ourselves well and rendered what service we were able as long as we could do so.'

"This is good doctrine, and one that he has always lived up to. The trouble with most of us is that we have every intention of rendering good service, but pretty much put it off always until a more convenient season. So we do not do it, either for our fellows or for ourselves."

PRESIDENT NOMINATES JOUETT SHOUSE TO TREASURY POST.

President Wilson has cabled to Washington the nomination of John Skelton Williams, to succeed himself as Comptroller of the Currency, and Jouett Shouse, formerly of Lexington, to fill the post of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. Shouse will succeed Thos. B. Love, recently resigned and will have charge of the Bureau of Internal Revenue and the War Risk Insurance, the latter particularly being now in a chaotic condition. The position pays a salary of $5,000 a year. The nominations are expected to be confirmed immediately.

THE TOBACCO MARKET.

The Paris tobacco market continued on the upward trend Tuesday, with high prices prevailing at the New Independent House and a blocked sale on at the Paris House. The Independent house sold a total of 196,300 pounds for $94,735.34, a floor average of $48.22. The market was stronger than at any time this season, and the bidding was active. The weed was in splendid condition and buyers were eager to get the good ones.

The blocked sale was resumed at the Paris house Wednesday. With offerings considerably below the standard of quality heretofore prevailing on the local market the house disposed of 330,920 pounds of tobacco for an average price of $42.80. A feature of the day's sale was the prices paid for tobacco of good quality. Color and soundness counted, and this kind went under the hammer with prices paid as high as at any time during the season. Receipts were not so heavy, and the long line of wagons that filled the driveways were practically unloaded and will be sold before the week closes. Wagons can now get in at any of the warehouses and further blocked sales are not anticipated.

Some of the best crop averages at Wednesday's sale were reported as follows:

NOW, WOULDN'T YOU LIKE TO BE A FARMER?

It is no longer proper at least, in Bourbon county, to speak of "poor, down-trodden farmer." Ten years ago the farmer took the price that was offered him for his tobacco and farm produce, and had very little to say in the way of complaint. To-day he practically fixes his own price for everything he raises, and those prices are of a kind that make him smile. Ten years ago the farmer was lucky to wear jeans. To-day he has his jeans full of money, owns automobiles, good clothes, and is right ahead of the procession on everything. When he wants to sell his land he gets to-day from $300 to $400 an acre for it. Ten years ago he was lucky and very well satisfied if he disposed of a "parcel of land" for $100 an acre. He used to thank his lucky stars if he was successful in getting ten cents a pound for his tobacco. There was talk of tobacco men becoming millionaires when the price of the weed went up on the markets to seventeen cents a pound. To-day the farmer revels in "velvet" when his tobacco brings from fifty to seventy-five cents a pound.

In 1917 Mr. B. W. Rash, of the North Middletown precinct, this county, plowed up ten acres of old sod land and planted it in tobacco. He realized for his crop a little over $6,000. In 1918 he again planted the same ground in tobacco and the proceeds of the crop sold on the Paris market a few days ago for $8,000, netting him for the two years on the ten acres a total of $14,000, or $1,400 an acre. Besides this there are still standing on the ground sixty-five large oak and ash trees, which are worth to-day what would have been considered a small fortune ten years ago to the farmer.

IN THE SERVICE OF THEIR COUNTRY.

A telegram was received recently by Mr. Clyde Colliver, of Paris, from his brother, Capt. Morton Colliver, announcing his safe arrival in New York from overseas, where he has been in the service with the American Expeditionary Forces.

Camp Knox, with its attached artillery range at Stithon, 20 miles south of Louisville, will become a permanent military reservation, according to announcement made in Louisville. Camp Taylor has a capacity of about 42,000 men in barracks.

Capt. William Collins telegraphed his father, Mr. John T. Collins, in Paris, announcing his safe arrival in New York. Capt. Collins has been overseas for several months with the American Expeditionary Forces. He will probably return to Paris next week, when his final discharge papers have been issued him.

Private Albert Wachs, of Paris, cabled Mrs. S. M. Turpin that he would likely reach the United States in a short time. He stated that he was about to embark with a large detachment of soldiers who had been on overseas duty for a long time, and that he was very anxious to get back to Kentucky again.

General March, Chief of Staff, informed the Senate Committee that shipping arrangements had been made by which 300,000 men might be transferred home monthly and that all of the American expeditionary force could be returned home and demobilized within six months.

How many Americans will be held abroad in the army of occupation is to be determined by President Wilson, General March stated, but more Americans already have been designated for return home than originally proposed by Marshal Foch.

Corporal Sherman R. Snapp, who is now stationed at Camp Lewis, Washington, in the Personnel Office at the Camp Headquarters, writes relatives in Paris, that he will receive an honorable discharge from the service within the next two months. Corporal Snapp, who held a responsible position with the Royal Baking Powder Company, of New York, before entering Uncle Sam's Army, said in his letter that the Royal Company had recently written the Commanding General at Camp Lewis, stating that "Mr. Snapp's old position was open and waiting for him and requesting the General to hasten his discharge." Mr. Snapp before resuming his work in the "Golden State" of California will probably visit his mother, Mrs. Alyce Snapp, in Paris.

Back from camp and from hospital where he spent several months, Sergt. Vance Huffman, former Paris boy, is a guest of Paris friends and relatives. Young Huffman, while at Camp Shelby, Miss., was injured when he was thrown underneath an army wagon and trampled by one of the horses. He was transferred to the Base Hospital at Camp Sheridan, where he remained several months in a critical condition, resulting from his injuries. He has received an honorable discharge from the service. Huffman is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Huffman, of Covington, formerly of Paris, and is a brother of Mr. Clyde Huffman, of the R. P. Walsh store.

Private Mike Atlas, formerly of Paris, is in Germany, as a member of the American army of occupation, according to advices received from him by Paris friends. Atlas writes that he was in Coblenz, Germany, on December 13, and that he crossed the Rhine on the same afternoon, after first winding up "the watch on the Rhine." He writes that Coblenz is a beautiful place, and a wonderfully fine summer resort. While a resident of Paris, Atlas was assistant ticket agent at the Tenth street passenger station of the Louisville & Nashville, and afterward was in a similar position in the Grand Central Passenger Station in Cincinnati.

Corp. J. Ford Fithian, sends THE NEWS a clipping from "The Bayonet," the official camp paper published at Camp Lee, Va. The clipping is a poem published under the name of Dr. James D. Hughes, Supt. of Schools of Education of the School of Toronto, Canada, and is entitled "The Son."

The poem appeared in a recent issue of The Bayonet, in which also was published an article regarding the death of Maj.-Gen. Cronkhite's son. Both saw service in France with the 84th Division, which was trained at Camp Lee and of which Gen. Cronkhite was commanding officer. Just a week before his son's death Gen. Cronkhite wrote to a friend at Camp Lee:

"I know only too well that words may not heal the heart wounds of those who have lost their offspring, for I may so readily place myself in their places. But I know, likewise, that their loss is the result of a Higher Will, and that they have given their lives for those who are left behind and for the greatest cause for which man's life was ever sacrificed."

Corp. Fithian stated in his letter that he believed he would get his discharge from the service in about a week or so, and that he was looking forward to a return to civil life with a great deal of satisfaction.
