THE PROPOSED FALL FESTIVAL

The Fall Festival and Style Show, which was planned to be held in the Paris house of the Bourbon Tobacco Warehouse Company, October 26, 27 and 28, under auspices of the Paris Commercial Club and the merchants of Paris, has been called off, for a number of reasons.

Lack of heating facilities at the big warehouse, and means of transportation for the exhibits to the house where the exhibition was to have been held, were given as the chief reasons for abandoning the plan. Withers Davis, chairman of the proposed affair, said plans will be begun at once and advanced during the winter and summer months, for holding a gigantic exhibition next fall, a little later in the season, provided the merchants will get together and each lend his earnest efforts toward making the festival a success. Apathy among some of the merchants, some who were among the principal boosters for the affair in the beginning, was in no small measure the cause of the festival being called off.
