PARIS MEN FIGURE IN FATAL AUTO COLLISION

A collision on the Lexington pike, near Paris, Friday night between an auto operated by Paris men, and a motorcycle with side car attachment, driven by two Lexington men, resulted in the death of one and serious injuries to the other, of the Lexington men. Victor Adams, thirty-five, garage proprietor, was killed, and Wm. Jennings, thirty-three, Lexington barber, was seriously injured. The Paris men were John Clay and Robert Burnett.

Burnett, who was driving the machine at the time the accident occurred, stated that it was unavoidable. He declared he was traveling at a moderate rate of speed toward Lexington as were Adams and Jennings in the motorcycle and side car.

The automobile approached the motorcycle to pass and Adams pulled to one side of the road. The front part of the automobile, according to Burnett, cleared the motorcycle and he was preparing to pull into the center of the road again when he felt a pull on his rear hub cap. He immediately pulled farther to one side of the road and in doing so lost control of the machine throwing it into the ditch and fence.

The motorcycle and side car turned completely over and Adams and Jennings were found lying on the road. Both were unconscious, Adams' body was crushed in several places.

Immediately after the accident Clay and Burnett came to Lexington and reported the accident to police headquarters. They were released on their own recognizance, after a formal charge of manslaughter had been placed against them. They were formally arraigned Saturday morning before County Judge Doak and recognized to appear for trial on Monday, April 17, at ten o'clock.

Authorities who investigated the accident said it appeared that the right rear hub of the automobile caught the rear wheel of the motorcycle, turning the latter machine over two or three times.

County Detective Frank Hall went to the scene early Saturday morning and estimated that the automobile left the road and ran into a wire fence, more than 200 feet from where the machines touched.

Mr. Clay is a son of Harry B. Clay, of Duncan avenue, and Mr. Burnett is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Burnett, of Nineteenth street. They keenly regret the accident and the resultant consequences, but state it could not have been prevented or foreseen. They are still suffering from the nervous shock and strain occasioned by the accident.

MONTHLY MEETING OF BOURBON POST

At the monthly meeting of Bourbon Post, No. 30, American Legion, held in the County Court room Friday night, the report of the chairman of the theatrical committee showed a balance of $275 realized from the musical revue, "Fads and Fancies of 1922," recently given at the Grand. A communication from the State headquarters at Louisville, was read, in which a plan was outlined for increasing the membership and suggesting prizes for the Post accomplishing the greatest percentage of increase.

The Post ratified the action of the Executive Committee in contributing $750 to the Soldiers' Memorial Fund Committee for the purpose of assisting in the purchase of the memorial community house. Committees were appointed to formulate plans for appropriate observance of Decoration Day. An appropriation was made to the national organization for the purpose of adding to the fund being collected to decorate the graves of soldiers and sailors who are buried in foreign countries.

BEAUTIFUL SOCIAL FUNCTION FOR CHARMING BRIDE-ELECT

Mrs. Henry Judy and Mrs. Wm. Clark entertained last Thursday, April 6th, in compliment to their cousin, Miss Margaret Ferguson, whose marriage to Mr. Harvey Rogers is to take place the last of the month.

As the guests were ushered into the room they could hardly believe their eyes. The rather gloomy apartment known as the Masonic Hall, had been metamorphosed. Dainty white muslin curtains, a mass of spring flowers, and twenty-four tables covered with exquisite damask, glittering silver and glass, and all the charming little conceits that go to add the finishing touches to a luncheon of this kind, made it seem the work of fairy fingers. On each table was a tall slender blue basket tied with maline the same shade, holding a handful of yellow jonquils. The place cards were tiny little brides gowned complete with bouquet and veil and the space for the name made a sort of rest for the body to stand on.

The bride's own table occupied the center of the room. The cover was of lace and the color scheme carried out in every detail. A large silver vase held the center piece of Emperor jonquils and the china had the same lovely decoration. Six of the bride's young friends sat with her.

As soon as the guests were in their places the luncheon was served, and such a one as can only be had in this beloved old Kentucky of ours. We forget there had ever been a Herbert Hoover and that every woman present had once signed a "conservation card." Ham, fruit salad, cheese loaf, peas and champignons, beaten biscuit, hot rolls, creme de voaille, Nesselroede pudding, individual cakes and coffee.

The ladies in line with Mrs. Judy and Mrs. Clark were the guest of honor and prospective bride, Miss Margaret Ferguson, and her mother, Mrs. John Stuart Roberts, the mother of the groom, Mrs. Louis Rogers, Miss Anderson, of Georgetown, and Mrs. Lowry Barton, of Cincinnati.

The fortunate ones, who held the best scores at bridge, were, first prize, Mrs. Charlie Wilmoth, a silver bon-bon dish. Mrs. Henry Clay Herndon, from Georgetown, who was Miss Hannah Ferguson, won second prize, a silver bon-bon dish; third prize, a long, slender perfume bottle, was won by Mrs. John Yerkes, and Mrs. Durand Whipple carried off fourth prize, a beautiful silver pencil.

The honor guest, Miss Ferguson, was presented with an exquisite silver vanity box.

The guests numbered nearly a hundred, many of them being out-of-town friends. Among them were: Mrs. Lowry Barton, Cincinnati; Mrs. Chas. M. McKinlay, New York City; Mrs. Quincy Ward, Cynthiana; Mrs. Bryan McMurtry, Cynthiana; Mrs. Sanford Allen, Millersburg; Mrs. Bush Allen, Millersburg; Mrs. Julian Allen, Millersburg; Mrs. Owen Ingels, Lexington; Mrs. Powell Bosworth, Lexington; Mrs. Howard Judy, Lexington; Mrs. Stanley Dickson, North Middletown; Mrs. Robert Ferguson, Newport; Mrs. Robert Anderson, Georgetown; Mrs. Henry Clay Herndon, Georgetown; Mrs. Wm. Kenney Ferguson, Georgetown; Miss Elizabeth Ferguson, Georgetown; Miss Mary Hall Anderson, Georgetown.

BURGLAR-FORGER ESCAPES

The office of the T. J. Flora Coal Co., at Fourteenth street, was visited Friday night by a burglar, who secured a number of the firm's blank checks and several rubber stamps.

Later in the evening a negro man presented a check drawn on the Flora Co. for $24, at the Roche Drug Store, in payment for a small purchase, and received the balance in cash. Shortly after the check was discovered to be a forgery and a search was made for the negro. Patrolman Judy found him on the 8 o'clock interurban car, bound for Lexington. Seeing the officer the negro went into the lavatory, jumped through the window and made his escape. He was pursued a short distance by Patrolman Judy, who fired several shots, but the fugitive continued his flight with accelerated speed and disappeared in the darkness.

Another way of proving yourself to be a coward is to write an anonymous letter to somebody.

BASE BALL

For the first time in many years Paris baseball fans have had an opportunity of seeing a big league team in action, the visit of the Boston Red Sox on last Saturday furnishing the opportunity.

The team arrived here from Lexington early in the afternoon. A parade was formed, comprising members of the Red Sox team in autos, the Paris team of the Blue Grass League, the Paris High School team, and autos, headed by the Y. M. C. A. Boys' Band.

A large crowd gathered at the League park, to witness the exhibition game between the two divisions of the Boston team, the Regulars and the Yannisians. The game was a fine exhibition of hard hitting, but aside from that, it was nothing out of the ordinary. The only thing to remember well was the fact that it was a big league team, "showing off." The game opened with lots of pep and talk, and for two or three innings the first-string men opened staged. In the first half of the third inning the first-tring men opened up with their heavy artillery, and two home-runs, followed by a double, netted them five runs off "Rip" Collins, the bad man from Texas. Again in the sixth the old-timers jumped on the big fellows for four runs. The Yannisians scored three runs in the fourth, seventh and ninth, and one in the first. The work of Penneck, twirler, and Burns, first sacker, for the Regulars, and Ruel, of the Yannisians, was up to the notch. Secretary Harold Harris, of the Commercial Club, brought the visitors to Paris. The score by innings:

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Regulars	0	0	5	1	2	4	2	1	0
Yanigans	1	0	0	3	0	0	3	0	3

The two divisions lined up as follows: Regulars—Monosky, cf; Karr, rf; Walters, 2b; Burns, 1b; Pittenger, 3b; O'Roarke, ss; Chaplin, Penneck, c; Yannisians—McDonald, 1b; Foster, 3b; J. Collins, 2b; Rosenthal, cf; Ring, ss; Mattes, if; Piercy, rf; Ruel, c; Collins, p.

There will be a business meeting of the members of the Paris Church League, at the Y. M. C. A. to-night (Tuesday) at 7:30 o'clock. It will be advisable for all members to attend, as matters of importance will be transacted.

REAL ESTATE DEALS

Charles P. Cook purchased of French Thompson, colored, a vacant lot located on South Pleasant street, adjoining the Embury home, for a private price. Mr. Cook will probably build a residence on the lot, which is a very desirable building site.

J. Will Thomas sold to Wm. Johnson, colored, a one-story frame house, on Hanson street, for $625. Stanley Young is erecting a large building on the lot in North Middletown, which he recently purchased from his brother, Graham Young. Mr. Young will use the building as a general repair shop for autos and trucks.

Albert Wright, Paris contractor, is making extensive improvements in remodeling the old colonial house on the Xalapa Farm, formerly the home of the original owner of the estate, the late H. C. Buckner, and family.

John Arkle, of Paris, has been awarded the contract for erection of the new home planned by C. L. Steenbergen, manager of the Paris Gas & Electric Co., on the lot on Pleasant street he purchased some time ago. The new home will be of brick, and will be thoroughly modern in every detail.

CONDUCTOR DIES SUDDENLY

Sidney E. Lawrence, one of the best known passenger conductors on this division of the Louisville and Nashville, died suddenly in Cincinnati, Sunday night. He had just completed his run from Knoxville to Cincinnati, and going to his home had taken a bath preparatory to retiring. He was discovered dead in bed after by his wife. Mr. Lawrence was well-known in Paris.

FREDERICK WALLIS SPEAKS ON "IMMIGRATION"

Mr. Frederick A. Wallis, Deputy Police Commissioner of New York City, and former Commissioner of Immigration at the port of New York, who is here on a combined business and social visit, addressed an audience at the Presbyterian church, Sunday night, which filled the auditorium of that handsome edifice to its utmost capacity.

Mr. Wallis' subject, "Immigration and Americanism," was handled in a manner which showed thorough familiarity with all phases of immigration problems and the intelligent, common-sense remedies which should be applied to existing defects. Mr. Wallis showed that the immigrant himself and not immigration is the great problem which confronts America to-day.

Mr. Wallis will deliver an address in Lexington, Wednesday, at the State meeting of the Christian Endeavor. His services are in constant demand for addresses in different parts of the country. He recently completed a series of addresses throughout New England.

PARIS HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Inter-High-School debate between Frankfort and Paris will take place in the auditorium of the Paris High School, Monday evening, April 17, at eight o'clock.

In the process of elimination Frankfort has won against Lawrenceburg and Paris against Mt. Sterling.

The line-up for Paris on the negative side of the question—"Restricted Immigration," is as follows: Paul Jones, Reid Bishop, Rene Clark, Henry Clay; Misses Elizabeth Stuart, Elizabeth Lilleston.

Paris is much interested in the contest. The team is working faithfully. Last year's contest resulted in the Paris High School winning the silver cup and there is the hope of another trophy to be gained.

Every teacher in Bourbon county, including the city of Paris, joined the Kentucky Educational Association and a large number will attend. The sessions open in the first Christian church, in Louisville, Tuesday, April 11.

AN APPROPRIATE START FOR THE CAMPAIGN

Yesterday marked the opening day in the "Clean-Up-and-Paint-Up" campaign for the city of Paris, as called for in the proclamation issued last week by Mayor January. It inaugurated the greatest game in which the people of Paris have taken part in many years. The line-up for the game is as follows: For the people—Business men, club women, Boy Scouts, ministers, health authorities, manufacturers, dentists, doctors, lawyers, merchants, newspaper people, nurses, public officials, schools, parents, children and others. Against the People—Germs, dirty yards and streets, back yards, ignorance, impure air, flies, garbage cans, rats, indifference, filthy habits, poor housing, procrastination. Three goals are to be fought for—human lives, human happiness and human comfort.

Every citizen this week will become a volunteer health officer. Paris will be made as neat as a parlor, as clean and healthful as paint, rakes, scrub brushes and labor can make it. Let everyone fall in line. Remember the city wagons will call for all garbage and refuse placed at a convenient point on the sidewalks Wednesday morning. The wagons will not return for anything not placed on the streets by Wednesday morning.

BIBLE CLASS BAZAAR

The Women's Bible Class of the North Middletown Christian church will hold an Easter bazaar in the Rash building, in North Middletown, on next Friday, April 14. They will have on display and for sale pot flowers, pies, cakes, salads, dressed chicken, ice-cream, candy, etc., and also many home-made articles, such as aprons, bonnets, etc.
