DODGING THE DOG TAX.

Dodging the dog tax seems to have become a general practice in Kentucky and little effort appears to be made to enforce the payment of the impost fixed by law.

Sometime ago over 1,600 indictments were returned in a single county against delinquent dog tax owners, but the prosecutions were dismissed conditions on the payment of the tax.

The dog owner may have no other property but he has a vote and usually strong prejudices against the impost.

KALAPA YEARLINGS BRING TOTAL OF $75,900.

It remained for the yearlings from Edward F. Simms' Kalapa Farm, Paris, to furnish the best average of any of the Fasig-Tipton sales this season to date, when 20 of them went under the hammer at Saratoga, New York, Thursday night, and brought a total of $75,200.
