DEATHS

Life Is But A Brief Span, A Debt That All Must Pay

HUFFMAN

Fern May Huffman, aged one year and nine months, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Huffman, died Wednesday afternoon at the home of her parents, in Covington, after a short illness of pneumonia. The funeral and burial took place Saturday in Covington... Mr. Huffman is a former resident of Paris, where he has a large circle of friends, who extend their sincere sympathy in the loss of his only child.

STIPP

Following a long illness of a complication of diseases, Mrs. Mary Stipp, aged about eighty, died in Clintonville Sunday morning. Mrs. Stipp was the widow of James Stipp, for many years a farmer of the Clintonville precinct. She was before her marriage Miss Ballinger, of Clark county, and a sister of the late Mrs. James J. Haggard. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, followed by interment in the Clintonville Cemetery.

ANDERSON

The body of Col. Langhorne T. Anderson, noted breeder of riding and saddle horses, who died in a Cincinnati hospital, following an operation for bladder trouble, was taken to Maysville, his old home, where the funeral was held Sunday. Col. Anderson is survived by his father and three sisters... Col. Anderson was in his fifty-second year. As a breeder of fine saddle horses, he was well-known to the horsemen of Paris and Bourbon county and throughout the State and was also widely known to horse show followers. He had exhibited his horses at practically all the shows in the country, and was also noted as a judge of horses, having served in that capacity at many exhibitions. He was a man of fine attainments, and had a host of friends throughout the country who regret to learn of his death... From a poor boy Langhorn Anderson became one of the best-known figures in this section of the State. His horses became noted all over the world and millionaires from every section of the country became his guests at his fine country home, "Point au View," near Maysville, and deferred to his judgment in all matters affecting the saddle horse. His everlasting monument will be his devotion to his mother, father and sister. He was never married and lived for them lavishing his wealth upon them without stint or limit. Mr. Anderson's mother died about three weeks ago, and his aged father, Thomas F. Anderson, is lying utterly helpless at the old home.

DOINGS OF THE TRAVELING MEN

Our merchants, as a matter of business are interested in anything pertaining to the traveling men, who make this territory. The following notes of interest concerning traveling men well-known to Paris people are from Sunday's Lexington Leader... Noah Rose, Lexington, selling flour for Spears & Sons, Paris, says business is good... Justin McCarthy has resigned from the R. W. Rounsavall Company to take up a position selling goods on the road... At latest reports Clarence Fugazzi is still walking around the territory. Clarence says he likes it so well that he cares not whether his Ford is ever returned... Bill Barkley, the banana man, has already begun distributing his Christmas gifts, consisting of baskets of fruit. One was left with a good friend at Millersburg the other day... Johnnie Sullivan, of the J. P. Sullivan Wholesale Grocery company, is fully recovered from his recent serious operation and is back on the road again... Cricket Campbell was seen parked about a mile away from Bill Welsh's store at Clintonville, last Tuesday. Asked what he was doing there, Cricket said he was waiting until he could time his arrival at the store about dinner time. That he did was evidenced by the fact that Cricket and another peddler enjoyed a very palatable meal at Bill Welsh's table.

FAMOUS PLAY COMING TO PARIS SOON

"The Bat," the world's greatest mystery play, due to be seen here shortly, was recently presented by one of the touring companies in the small Virginia town of Welch. By actual count, there were forty-four persons in the town who failed to crowd their way into the auditorium to witness the performance.
