DEATHS

Life Is But A Brief Span, A Debt That All Must Pay

WILMOTT

—W. T. Wilmott, aged sixty, a former resident of Bourbon county, where he had been engaged in farming, near Hutchison, died in a Louisville hospital, Saturday. For the past few years he had been a resident of Shelby county. He is survived by his widow, who was formerly Miss Lou Boone, of Bourbon county, and one daughter. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Wilmott, of near Hutchison.

BUCHANAN

—Frank Buchanan, of near Paris received a telegram yesterday telling of the death of his brother, John Buchanan, in Waterville, Washington, after a short illness. The telegram gave no other particulars.

Mr. Buchanan was in his sixty-seventh year, and was a native of Bourbon county. He left his old home near Clintonville thirty-two years ago, and went West, growing up with the country. He had been a resident of Waterville, several years, having been engaged in ranching near that city.

BARKLEY

—Mr. W. H. McMillan, of Paris, received a message from Lombard, Ill., telling of the death there of his aunt, Mrs. Louise Barkley. Mrs. Barkley was in her ninety-seventh year.

Mrs. Barkley was a woman of unusual intellect and ability and maintained a marked interest in home and public affairs to the very end. She was prominent in all the good works of church and charitable circles of Lombard, and was loved by all who knew her.

The funeral was held at her residence in Lombard, after which the body was taken to her old home in Columbia, Tenn., where the burial took place on the family lot, beside the bodies of her husband and son, who died many years ago.

LUCKETT

—Mrs. A. D. Luckett, aged eighty-four, died at her home in Evansville, Indiana, last week, following a long period of illness due to the infirmities of age. Her husband, a prominent business man of Evansville, preceded her to the grave several years ago. Since his death Mrs. Luckett had been making her home with her son, John L. Luckett.

Mrs. Luckett is survived by her son, John L. Luckett, of Evansville; two daughters, Mrs. Blanche Morehead, of Paris, and Mrs. John T. Deppen, of Houston, Texas, and one grandchild, Mrs. W. K. Griffin, of Paris.

The funeral was held at Evansville, after which the cortege proceeded to Greenville, Ky., her old home, where the body was interred on the family lot in the Greenville Cemetery.

BEST

—The body of Col. Carl M. Best, formerly of Millersburg, who died suddenly last week at his home, "Sunnyside Farm," near Langhorne, Pa., was laid to rest in Philadelphia, Saturday, with simple but impressive services.

Col. Best will live long in the hearts of Bourbon county people, who appreciated to the fullest his efforts in the interest of education of the youth of the State. Col. Best did more for the advancement of education in Bourbon county than any man who ever lived in Millersburg. His school was always filled to the limit, and each year he was unable to take care of many applicants. He was a gentleman in the highest sense of the term, and a man who commanded the respect and esteem of all who knew him.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. Best, who has been prostrated since the sudden taking away of her life companion. For many years THE NEWS and its force has had pleasant business relations with Mrs. Best.

DEAVER

—Mrs. Kate C. Deaver, aged sixty-six, died at her home near Muir, after an illness of more than eighteen months, due to a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Deaver was a daughter of the late Edward and Georgia Darnaby Coon, her father having moved to Kentucky from Virginia in early manhood. Early in life she was married to Alonzo Deaver, of Bourbon county, a brother of Mrs. Bishop Hibler, of Paris. Mr. Deaver later purchased the farm near Muir, where the family have since resided.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Deaver leaves one daughter, Miss Jennie McCann Deaver, of Muir, and one sister, Mrs. M. E. McCann, of Lexington. She was a lifelong member of the Bryan Station Baptist church, and found pleasure in a

MRS. BAYLESS' WILL

The last will and testament of Mrs. Laura Wright Bayless, who died at the Massie Memorial Hospital, in this city, last week, has been admitted to probate. The document, which bears date of April 22, 1921, was witnessed by W. H. Whitley and Lillian Hough. The document makes the following bequests:

After payment of just debts, funeral expenses, etc., directs that her executor, John T. Hedges, named in the will, sell the home at Duncan avenue and Pleasant street and reduce same to money, also all remaining personal estate; to dispose of proceeds, as follows: Erect marker at her mother's grave in Paris Cemetery; $500 to her cousin, Mrs. R. P. Dow, Sr.; $250 to her cousin, Alice T. Finley; her farm on the Maysville pike, to brother, Lindsay Wright, of Shelbyville, Indiana; $100 each to Katie and Lizzie Gay, of Lexington; Mary Hutchison, Memphis, Tenn., $100; Presbyterian church, Paris, $250; Church Society Paris Christian church, $300; Mrs. J. Walker Muir, Paris, $100; one-half of the rest and residue of property to Transylvania University, Lexington, one-half to Midway Orphan School, Midway, Ky.

A codicil to the will, dated August 31, 1921, witnessed by Robt. C. Talbot and Lillian Hough, directs the disposition of her personal and household effects to various persons in Paris and other places named in the will.

John T. Hedges is named in the document as executor, with power to sell any and all real estate owned by Mrs. Bayless at her death, and to dispose of her personal estate as directed in the will. The estate, which, with the exception of the home on Duncan avenue, and her farm, is composed principally of Government bonds and stocks in various corporations, is valued at approximately $38,000.

TOBACCO MARKETS OPEN

In accordance with the plans of the Burley Tobacco Association the opening of the Paris warehouses took place yesterday, the first consignment of thirty-two loads being received at the local house, under the management of John M. Clay.

The registration of the tobacco crop began last Monday, but was limited to the tobacco which was ready for delivery. H. O. Lucas, of Mt. Olivet, and Luther Humphreys, of Cynthiana, have been assigned as graders for the Paris houses, and were on hand yesterday. Paris has been placed in the Central District No. 2, with the Georgetown, Cynthiana, Richmond, Winchester and Falmouth houses.

The announcement that the final lot of last year's Burley crop had been sold to the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company was heartily welcomed by the Bourbon county growers. There seemed to be considerable disappointment that the long looked for third payment was to be necessarily postponed for a short time.

COURT NEWS

A verdict for the defendant was rendered in the Clark Circuit Court at Winchester, Friday afternoon, in the case of Willie McCormick, of Winchester, against Chief of Police Fred Link and Harry Baldwin, of Paris, and Patrolman Harry Strode, of Winchester. McCormick sued for $5,000 as the result of an alleged false arrest. The first trial of the case resulted in a hung jury.

McCormick alleged that he had been damaged in reputation to the extent of $5,000, and evidence was presented to show that he had been nicknamed "John Doe," as a result of the alleged arrest in November, 1921.

The defendants, Link, Baldwin and Strode, and the latter's bondsmen, alleged that McCormick was questioned at the Winchester police station because he was alleged to have been in the company of the man who was accused of having robbed the Baldwin store, in Paris. The officers allege that McCormick had never been in custody. McCormick was an employe of the Martin Chemical Company, in Winchester.

Deputy Sheriff Robt. M. Gilkey arrested a colored man named Ed. Franks, Jr., on a warrant issued from the Woodford County Court, charging him with raising a check from the original amount to a larger sum, and having it cashed in Paris. At the time of his arrest Franks was engaged in stripping tobacco on the farm of Henry Biddle, near Paris. He was brought to the Paris jail, and taken back to Midway Saturday morning by Woodford county officers.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

At the recent meeting of the Board of Council, held in the Council Chamber at the City Hall, Mayor E. B. January read his veto of the tuberculin-test ordinance, which was passed last May and amended in October. The amendment was reconsidered at a recent meeting, leaving the ordinance as it was passed in May. Action on the veto will be taken at the next meeting of Council.

Chief of Police Link reported that he had served notices on each of the Paris grocers to close their places of business on Sunday, adding that this had been agreed to all save one. The ordinance was declared unconstitutional by some members of the Council on the ground that it was class legislation, in that it singled out one line of business. This matter was also left for a future meeting of the Board.

Dr. D. S. Henry, who has opened a new subdivision to Paris, on which he has erected a number of modern homes, told the Council that he was unable to get the gas or water companies to agree to extend their mains to the new addition, and requested the Council's assistance in this matter. The Board went on record to take steps to induce the companies to put their mains through this section of the city. On motion of Councilman Kenney, the name of the new street in this addition, which has heretofore been called Evergreen Court, was changed to January Court, in honor of Mayor January.

The names of several delinquent taxpayers of the city were turned over to City Attorney Charles A. McMillan, with instructions to bring legal proceedings to secure their payment. Curtis Henry was granted license to operate a bowling alley in the Stuart & O'Brien building, at the corner of Main and Eighth streets, formerly used as a dance hall.
