ATTRACTIVE WINDOW DISPLAY

A most unique window display, one that is attracting attention from both young and old, is the "Animal Cracker Circus." in the show window at the C. P. Cook & Co. grocery, planned and arranged by Walter Dalby, son-in-law of Mr. Cook. The display represents a typical circus ground, with tents, the "animals" on parade, the circus people disposing themselves in athletic stunts. The whole is made up of animal crackers, made by a well-known wholesale concern, and furnishes a never-ending delight to the little ones, who regard the antics of the "animals" with unfeigned delight and joy.

BASKET BALL

The Paris Y. M. C. A. basketball game of the season Monday night, when they defeated the Frankfort team in a game played on the Frankfort floor, by the score of 28 to 26. The Paris boys were a little slow in getting started, and the first half ended with Frankfort in the lead by the score of 19 to 10. Hayden, Kennedy, Chipley and the other fast Paris boys got into action in the second half, and made it a different story, making the final score read to their advantage. The team will play the Lawrenceburg team in that city to-night. Their next game at home will be with a team as yet unannounced.

HOT DROP DRUNKS

(Paintsville Herald)
Occasionally we hear the songs of "cawn juice," but some of the boys seem to like the paralyzing effects of hot drops on Sundays. You will see some little how-legged boys with a cigar stuck between their lips and a Cardul bottle filled with water and lightning hot drops in their pocket. They will strut up beside some little school girl and oh, what times they do have.

CURIOS IN MIRROR FRAME

(Danville Advocate)

While repairing an antique mirror for Mrs. J. Harris Buchanan, Eugene Coomer, of the firm of H. Coomer, found in the space between the wood back and the mirror four almanacs bearing the dates of 1849. The mirror had been framed in 1873 in Lexington and the almanacs were issued as an advertisement for Dr. Jane's medicines. Miss Cook had gotten the antique mirror for Mrs. Buchanan at Crab Orchard, in Lincoln county, and it had for years been in the possession of the Guest family. There are many interesting things in the old almanacs.

Ambition is the key that unlocks the door leading to success.
