Eighteen persons were poisoned in and about Petrolia last Friday, by eating head cheese (hogs head), but they all recovered.

A new blast furnace in this State, was recently opened with prayer. This shows that Bob Ingersoll has not really captured the country.

The fact that a Newark cashier could steal more than his bank owed has struck Wall street dumb with astonishment and admiration.

We direct attention to the advertisement of the "Scientific American." We will receive subscriptions for this valuable publication at this office.

The Rev. W. H. McKinney, of Evansburg, will preach at the Baptist Church this place on Sunday morning next, Nov. 20th. All are invited to attend.

Why do students learn faster at the Normal School than elsewhere? For us, read this handbook sent for a green stamp. Address J. A. Cooper, Edinboro, Pa.

What a comfort it is to be a prominent man, either in politics or finance. The latest crank gave Jay Gould six days to prepare for death, and is now in jail in New York.

Highest cash price paid for corn, oats and all kinds of produce at the store of Jacob Boos, nearly opposite the Willard Hotel, Main street, Butler, Pa. n16tf

When you want anything in the line of Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Silverware, Spectacles, &c., do not fail to call in at E. Grieb's and examine the stock; no trouble to show goods.

Wm. Gallagher, of Clearfield township, sued William Leibold before Esquire Walker, last Saturday, and got judgment for $52 and costs. The suit was for an old debt, due for an old rig.

The ladies of St. Peter's Church, Butler, will hold their next reception for the benefit of the Parsonage Fund on Thursday evening of this week at the residence of Mrs. McComber. All are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Susan C. Slentz, has received a draft for $3,000 from the society of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, of which her husband, the late O. F. Slentz, of this place, was a member.

For cold-blooded brutality the managers of the York county almshouse are ahead. They turned a poor woman out of doors with her sick child, and the infant died in her arms as she was begging her way to York.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those painful complaints and weaknesses so common to our best female population. Send to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 293 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., for pamphlet.

"E. Andrews Potville, Pa." suggests wire rope such as used for clothes lines as a convenient fire-escape. He would have the wire reeled and fastened to an upper window, and upon the wire at intervals of say twenty inches he would have wooden knobs.

Two sharpers are going through the country victimizing the farmers. They offer to sell mackerel in half-barrels at a very low price. Upon purchasing, the victims find their half-barrels filled with rubbish, with a thin layer of fish on top.

The report that a daughter of Mrs. John Arlin, of this place, was sick with the small-pox, has caused Mrs. Arlin to have a slight malial fever, but she was not confined to bed. There are no cases of small-pox in or about Butler that we know of.

Winter Term of the Pine Grove Normal Academy will begin Tuesday, November 29, 1881. Smallest attendance of the year. Ample accommodations for all that desire to attend. The best term for young men and women. Send for a catalogue, and circulars on instrumental music $1.00. C. Krahn, Principal, Wolf Creek, Mercer county, Pa.

The inhabitants of Mechanicsburg, Westmoreland county, are highly excited over the discovery of a cave in a mountain ledge of rock on Mr. Enos's farm near that town. In it were found a human skeleton, remnants of his clothing with brass buttons, a revolver, a little containing $20 in gold, a crock, full of lead ore, and some rusty pieces of sheet iron.

Messrs. Ihmsen & Co., of South Side, Pittsburgh, glass manufacturers, have agreed to build a glass works here, if the people of the town donate the old distillery lot, near the depot, and some adjoining lots, making about three acres in all. Some of our citizens are now raising the money by subscription to pay for the property, which will cost about $1,200, and they will easily succeed in every business firm in town subscribes a very little. A glass works here giving steady employment to a large number of men and boys, will benefit every business firm in town, more or less.

Farmers Look Here. The undersigned are now taking orders for fruit trees for spring planting. We represent one of the most reliable nurseries in Rochester, N. Y. Please send your orders in immediately. WALKER & BIDERMAN, n16tf

Under a law passed in 1794, James Garvin was lately arrested in Erie for profane swearing and fined $6.70, at the rate of 67 cents for each oath or curse, as the law provides. Garvin refused to pay, and was jailed.

The will of David Dougal was left at the county Register's office last Thursday, to be registered. The same day a caveat against admitting it to probate was filed. A hearing was had in the county court on Saturday, and Register Gallagher decided not to admit the will to probate. This last will of Mr. Dougal was executed on the 31st day of December, 1880. The only property disposed of in it is given to Catharine Protzman, Lewis S. Mitchell, James and William Dougal in equal shares. Mr. Mitchell is appointed executor. The will is contested by E. P. and Wm. Wilson of Hanover, on county this State, who are grand-nephews of Mr. Dougal. They will contest the will on the grounds that Mr. Dougal was not of sound mind and memory at the time of the execution of said will; that the execution thereof was procured by fraud, duress, undue influence, etc.; and that the execution, attestation and publication thereof were not duly and legally made. The property disposed of in the will are the two lots on Main street, Butler, north of the Diamond. Mr. Dougal deeded the Protzman's farm on which they live, in Summit township, some time ago. The will was certified into the Orphans' Court, when the trial upon it will be had.

Though the story of the Cabinet quarrel is denied there has something occurred to intensify the relation existing between the President and his Attorney General. Mr. MacVeagh refuses to speak on the matter, and says that any correction of the story must be made by the President. His friends are not so reticent. They say it is part of the plot of the 'Arthur Grant-Cooking combination' to break MacVeagh down before the country. They say that it was never for a moment that Arthur's intention to resign was known to Blaine. MacVeagh knew this from the start, and handed in his resignation which would have been accepted at once had not Cameron forbidden it. 'The Pennsylvania Senator feared that MacVeagh's retirement would have a great effect on the Pennsylvania election, and that the Independent, or Garfield, element would be enabled to defeat the Republican machine. But there was a still deeper plot at work, and this was in regard to the Star Route prosecutions. The plan was to induce MacVeagh to remain in the Cabinet for the present and conduct the cases. As soon as his consent had been obtained, it was the intention of Arthur, and the Grant-Cameron combination, to have MacVeagh resign, and then to throw the entire blame upon the shoulders of MacVeagh.'

The unexpected courtesy paid to the British Nation during the Yorktown celebration in the saluting of the British flag by the land and sea forces, at the order of the President of the United States, touched the English heart as did the messages of the Queen to Mrs. Garfield the hearts of the American people. The evidence of this was furnished last Wednesday, in the demonstrations of respect to the United States flag during the ceremonies of Lord Mayor's Day in London. One of the time-honored observances marking the day which closes one municipal term and begins the next is the Lord Mayor's Show, a procession of the circus order, which parades the leading thoroughfares of the City for the delight of the small boys and the convenience of the pickpockets, who reap a rich harvest in 'working' the dense throng along the sidewalks. Each Mayor endeavors to make his Show attractive by the introduction of new features, in addition to the traditional Giants, Man in Armor, and gilded Lord Mayor's Coach. This time a bold venture was made that under other circumstances would have been perilous, but which proved a genuine 'hit.' The Stars and Stripes were carried in the procession, preceded by a military band playing the 'Star Spangled Banner,' and later in the procession came a naval band playing 'Yankee Doodle.'

Wanted. All kinds of grain for which I will pay the highest market price in cash at my mill. GEO. REIBER, Butler, Pa. Nov. 3, 1881.

Picnic at Mt. Slowcoach.

EAU CLAIRE, Nov. 8, 1881. Not a picnic where the social hop, brass bands and undisciplined enjoyment are supposed to be commingled. But a genuine old fashioned Sabbath school picnic. The Sabbath school had been flourishing all summer. A larger attendance than ever before known had been reported by the secretary. The superintendents never absent and the teachers rarely. The sultry season had no perceptible effect, and the attendance of the "rank and file" was a very encouraging feature. Now industry and attention must have their merited reward. Gently as the soft summer's gale rustles the forest leaves was the coming picnic whisked from ear to ear.

No one knew where the report originated or who was its author. Even when the superintendent was consulted his voice gave forth an uncertain sound. But the demand for the picnic increased even with no supply visible. One bright Sabbath morn the matter was brought before the school, game wanted in one day and some hundred dollars were wanted the next. It was decided that the picnic should be held on the 11th inst. at 10 o'clock, and a day was chosen. The "business conference" met later in the week. It was decided that the festival should be spread, as hungry mouths could not be served from baskets. The music committee, with a few exceptions, consisted of the congregational choir. Some of the committee wanted to know what to sing but the rest didn't know; some of them wanted to meet and ascertain, but some of them didn't. The benefit of an organ was tendered but it was profusely declined by the chairman of the committee. The table committee did not rehearse either until the morning of the picnic. The evening day arrived. Crowds poured in from the surrounding country. Early in the day they gathered into the church to listen to the benign counsel and kind admonitions of the youthful pastor. The choir were in their favorite pews, but lo, and behold! Some of them couldn't sing, and some of them wouldn't sing, but a remedy arises for every emergency. As the merrily youthful voices poured forth the notes of grand old "Coronation" all feelings of animosity were buried in oblivion. The treat in the church was only equalled by the treat in the adjoining grove. No difference of opinion arose concerning the disposal of the dinner. The swing erected for the occasion was continually rattling and anarling to the great discomfort of the occupant's. Swings sometimes bear a striking resemblance to human beings. But throughout the day we all exhibited a quiet joy. The Sabbath school had no eminently disagreeable features afterwards, and we all hope for a continuance of prosperity.
