Union Woolen Mills.

I would desire to call the attention of the public to the Union Woolen Mill, Butler, Pa., where I have new and improved machinery for the manufacture of

Barred and Gray Fannels,

Knitting and Weaving Yarns, and I can recommend them as being very durable, as they are manufactured of pure wool. They are also of superior texture, and will wear longer than any other woolen goods. For samples and prices send a

SIMMONS

For Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Sick Headache, Chronic Diarrhoea, Jaundice, Impurity of the Blood, Fever and Malaria, and all Diseases caused by Derangement of Liver, Bowels and Kidneys.

Symptoms of a Disordered Liver.

Best Remedy. Pain in the Side, sometimes the point is felt under the Shoulder-Blade, mistaken for Rheumatism; general loss of appetite; Bowels generally constive, sometimes alternating with lax; with considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of the stomach, which is relieved by a slight, dry cough and flushed face is sometimes attendant, often mistaken for consumption; the patient complains of weakness and dizziness; nervous, agitated and nervous, sometimes a pricking sensation of the skin exists, spirits are low and dependent; yet one can hardly suppose any fortitude to try to resist, distress, nervous, nervous. Several of the above symptoms attend the Liver, but cases have occurred when but few of these existed, yet examination after death has shown the Liver to have been extensively diseased.

It should be used by all persons, old and young, whenever any of the above symptoms appear.

Persons Traveling or Living in Un-healthy Localities, by taking a dose occasionally to keep the Liver in healthy action, will avoid all Malaria, Bilious attacks, Fevers, Nausea, Headaches, Dropsy, and all Disorders of the Stomach, and will insure a good and healthy

U. P. GENERAL ASSEMBLY AT PITTSBURGH.

The Question of Instrumental Music up for Discussion.—

Speeches on Each Side.

The Pittsburgh papers of last week contained the interesting proceedings in the U. P. General Assembly held there on the "Instrumental Music" question below two of the leading speeches, one on each side of the question, as made on the 29th ult.

The Assembly met at 2:30 in the afternoon, by which time the church was literally packed, many having retained their place during the recess.

The Moderator then announced that the special order was the consideration of the report of the Committee on Music.

Dr. N. C. McDill, of Indiana, was recognized by the Chair. He said the large attendance at the sessions showed that there were important principles underlying the subject under discussion, and that the people were deeply interested. He said the fundamental principle of the church was the worship of God, and that the church should be consecrated to that purpose. He said that the church should be a school of holiness, and that the church should be a school of righteousness. He said

truth, and that the church should be a school of love. He said that the church should be a school of peace, and

unity. He said that the church should be a school of justice, and that the church should be a school of mercy.

school of grace, and that the church should be a school of glory. He said

church should be a school of mercy.

made to get the General Assembly to authorize their use. The Assembly had better sense and declined to authorize but did recommend. In this city, he asserted, a brother was at church last Sabbath, at the Fourth Church, and found the old version in use there.

The pastor of the church in which the Assembly is held showed his good sense in making the acceptance of the controversial question the subject of the new version should be adopted. He asked the audience if it would have been possible under the old version to have arranged the service of praise which was arranged on the night the Assembly opened. The action taken by the last Assembly was eminently proper. It is not tramping on simple conscience and is good sense. It gives congregations who desire to inroduce instruments the privilege to do so—leaving it entirely at their discretion.

When Dr. Carson had concluded there was an outburst of applause, which was checked as promptly as possible by the Moderator, who begged the audience to refrain from demonstrations of applause.

Dr. J. Carson advanced to the platform and said: "When the union designated by those dates above the pulpit was formed, there was no clapping of hands indicative of victory over opponents. The great question was "How can we come together?" not "How can we answer each other?" "I stand here," continued the speaker, "as the representative of the memorialists to this body. I am oppressed with the responsibility resting upon me, but am encouraged by the consideration that if the cause be not of the Lord, any mistake I may make will not make much difference—I only should be damaged. If it is of the Lord, I have confidence in the belief that He will be able to overrule for good any injury
