THE BOROUGH ELECTION.

The borough election passed off quietly, with the exception of the fight in the 3rd Ward for Council. Some of the politicians of both parties were anxious to defeat Peter Schenk for re-election, and there was considerable pulling and tugging, and also loud talking at the polls, but Peter's reputation and personal friends carried him through, although the ward is Democratic.

J. M. Galbreath, Esq. made so acceptable a School Director that he had no trouble being re-elected in that ward and McAbey carried the ward for Collector, the balance of the ward tickets is Democratic by majorities ranging from 1 to 25.

J. N. Patterson, Democrat, was elected Burgess by a majority of 25, the vote being 565, Patterson 523.

McAbey, Republican, is elected Collector, by a majority of 25, the vote being 565, McAbey 540.

Marshall, Democrat, is elected Auditor, by 11 votes—Baker 513, Marshall 524.

Colbert, Republican, is elected Overseer of the Poor, by 23 votes—Colbert 520, Trickett 497.

Mathers, Republican, was elected High Constable, the vote being, Mathers 543, Many 471. "Jo-Jo" is delighted.

Aiken, Republican, for Assistant Burgess is elected, the vote being Aiken 553, Ledeker 483.

THE WARD TICKETS. In the 1st Ward, the Republicans elected their full ticket by the vote.

In the 2nd the Democratic ticket was elected, excepting Duffy, who was beaten by Dr. Byers for Council. In this ward there were two School Directors to be elected, and J. I. Klingler and George Ketterer are the men.

In the 3rd the Democratic ticket was elected, excepting Bellis for Council and Campbell for School Director, who were defeated by Schenk and Galbreath, as noted above.

In the 4th ward the figures are close, in the entire Republican ticket is elected—J. E. Black is the new Councilman, and Alex. Mitchell the new School Director.

In the 5th Ward, the Republican ticket is elected, excepting "War-horse" Sam. Miller who was defeated for Judge of Election by Charley Ohl, by a few votes. On the "other hand" Ira McKinley, Esq. for School Director ran fifty votes ahead of his ticket.

THE P. & W. R. R.

A dispatch from Pittsburgh to a New York magazine last Friday said: "The statement made some time ago as to Mr. Andrew Carnegie's joining hands with the Baltimore and Ohio is fully corroborated. As part of the deal Mr. Carnegie has agreed to turn the control of the Pittsburgh & Western road over to the Baltimore & Ohio in time to handle the new combination in shape to handle the spring rail-traffic."

Mr. Carnegie has owned 35,000 shares of P. & W. R. R. stock, for some time. He has now added 50,000 more ($2,500,000) to that by purchase of common and preferred stock in the market at figures which make his Oliver option cost him little or otherwise. His company is said to have cost him 12 1/2 and less than 18 1/2.

The "put" which H. W. Oliver, Drexel, Morgan & Co., J. D. Collier and J. D. Chaffant have got on Mr. Carnegie will be exercised so that the new Baltimore and Ohio road will be in the hands of the annual meeting of the Pittsburgh and Western in May. The labor and rail traffic will probably open much earlier this year, and the Pittsburgh and Western, with its Painesville and Cleveland extensions, will be promptly put in shape for it.

The Valley road, recently bought by the Baltimore & Ohio, will do the Pittsburgh & Western traffic from Akron and Ohio, leaving the P. & W. R. R. office at King to succeed Mr. Henry W. Oliver as President of the Pittsburgh & Western.

By this means Mr. Carnegie gets a short and cheap line from his mill to the lakes. It is understood that Mr. Carnegie is "re-organizing" his property, and has entered into negotiations for the John Hopkins and city of Baltimore blocks of the Baltimore & Ohio Block. It is reported here that these blocks will be sold, with the following exceptions:

Neighboring Elections. In Pittsburg, Henry I. Gorbey, Republican, was elected Mayor, beating John J. Bailey, Democrat, by about 4,000, and in Allegheny Jas. G. Wyman, Republican, was elected Mayor, beating H. R. Stapp, Democrat, by about 2,000.

In Meador, Mott, Republican, was defeated for Burgess by Whistler, Democrat, by 28 votes. A quarrel among the Republicans in Meador, led to a riot, and the election of a mixed ticket.

At Beaver Falls the whole Republican borough ticket was elected, and the Republicans elected six out of nine Council members.

The important series of illustrated articles on modern anatomy of the great power, which began in the March issue of Harper's Magazine, with "The Army of the United States" by General Wood in the April, and also those which deal with the study of insects, which he describes, not only those insects which are pests to the farmer, but also those which destroy entire fields of grain, cotton and rice, and ravage orchards, gardens and lawns, and which are so common and so dangerous to the health of man, are now being published in a series of 12 issues, which will be available in case of war.
