The "oldest inhabitant" dug his way out to the road last Thursday morning, and then—

The old man gazed upon the snow, And shook his silvery head, Then spoke deliberately and low, And this is what he said:

This is a regular old-time storm. Had it a few years ago, Now if the weather shifts to warm, I think I would have a thaw."

Oil Notes. McMarlin & Co.'s No. 2 on the Covent farm near Mars station, has been doing 50 barrels a day since the day before Christmas.

The horse No. 2 on the Blakeley is in good 150 barrels.

A good well was struck on the Wm. Casdollar, near Calvary, Monday night, by Forst & Co. It started off at 15 barrels an hour.

At Calvary Junction a horse was torn to shreds by a mule on the road to the derick. The goading well is yet making over 200 barrels a day.

The Ziegler well below Harmony is yielding 50 barrels a day, and a dozen new wells are going down on an area of five or six acres.

A Mysterious Case. Miss Nellie Balfour, a daughter of Samuel Balfour of Adams Twp., and who is now living with her brother in Allegheny, has told him and others of a mysterious assault made upon her, one night some weeks ago, in her father's house near Mars station.

The light in her room was burning low and she thinks she recognized the man, and her brother is hastening the case worked up with a view to prosecution.

New Officers. The newly elected County Officials will be sworn into office next Monday, and on and after that day William M. Brown, will be Sheriff of Butler Co., David E. Dale will be Register and Recorder, Jas. S. Wilson will be County Treasurer, John W. Brown will continue to be Prothonotary, Samuel T. Marshall, Jas. C. Kishadon and John Hendry will be County Commissioners and John Kennedy will be Coroner.

Messrs. Brown and Humphrey are the only two that succeed themselves, and we hear nothing but good words spoken of the retired officers, and they will hold a reception in the lobby of the Court House that afternoon.

Messrs. Douthett, Albert and Henninger, will begin their work of adding the accounts of the county that day.

Christmas Services.

The festival services at all the churches in Butler, Christmas Eve and Christmas morning, were well attended and brought sunshine to the hearts of all the children.

The Christmas treat at the Presbyterian church was held on Christmas evening at half past six. In addition to the usual exercises, distribution of candy, etc., a Christmas carol was given, the principal parts being taken by Mrs. E. P. Scott, Mary Wick, Lon Russell, Carl Leichter, Joe Heinenman, Annie Redie, and Gardner Lowry. It was a complete success, and the immense crowd fully appreciated it.

At the German Catholic church the program given in the CITIZEN last week was fully carried through and was enjoyed by large crowds that assembled to hear it.

The U. P. Church held their entertainment on Christmas eve. A full program was carried out, and candy and nuts distributed to those present. The mite boxes were opened and found to contain about $50, which sum is intended for the West End Mission Chapel. The affair was a complete success.

The elaborate decorations of the German Lutheran Church have come to be a matter of no surprise to the attendants there, but this year they fairly outdid themselves. A very complete program was given through, and a pleasant time had by all.

The M. E. congregation held their treat on Thursday evening, and the program was well selected and performed. The usual candy and nuts, etc., were distributed, and everybody was as happy as everybody could have been.

The Sunday School of the First English Lutheran Church held its festival of the Nativity on Christmas eve, Dec. 24th. Always tastefully decorated on holiday occasions, the church this year presented a very pretty appearance. A corps of busy workers, assisted by Mr. G. A. Miller as decorations artist, spent several days previous in beautifying the building. The walls were adorned with mottoes taken from Isaiah's prophecies of the Christ; festoons of laurel starting from the keystone of the arch above the chancel were arranged gracefully through the church to the gallery in the rear, and as fine a tree as was ever set up in Butler, ornamented with a profusion of Christmas emblems occupied the chancel and gave completeness to the scene. Beginning at seven o'clock with the singing by the choir, of "Kirie White's" "When Marched on 'The Nightly Vigil,'" the exercises, consisting of a service of song, responsive scripture readings, recitations by various members of the school and an address by the pastor, continued for a few minutes before eight when the tree was lighted and the gifts distributed. Each member of the school and all the children of the congregation received a box of candy and an orange. Candy was also passed around on trays to all present. Teachers and scholars exchanged gifts, and numerous other presents of a more private nature were distributed. During this part of the exercises Mr. Harry Klinger sprang a most agreeable surprise on the pastor of church, Rev. T. L. Grieb, by presenting him in the name of the congregation with an envelope containing a subscription for a set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica. About a month ago Rev. Titzel had entered his name with H. C. Heineman & Son, as a subscriber and learning of the congregation took up the subscription and presented it as their Christmas greeting—a gift highly appreciated and prized by the recipient not only on account of its value but also because of the good will which prompted its bestowal.

The collection listed at the exercises as a Christmas thank-offering was devoted to the Orphans' Home at Zelienople. Throughout the services were orderly, devout, and very enjoyable.

The Christmas Service in Bethany Reformed Church was interesting throughout. The church was tastefully decorated with evergreens and the tree with its ornaments was beautiful when lighted; but the most attractive feature was the pastor's church, the children sang and recited remarkably well. The most interesting part of their program was a service entitled "Immanuel, 'Glad With Us' by nine children and 'Bringing Gifts to Christ' by thirteen. A very appropriate address was made to the children by Rev. Limberg. Each child received a treat and after visiting in the Lord's Prayer and singing "Praise God," all went home rejoicing that Merry Christmas had come again. The offering was unusually large.

Sick People. This isn't a Joke, It can be Explained. $1.50 plus $2.40 = $3.00.

Teacher, to Visitor: "Now, there's an industrious boy in the corner seat. James, go and put your example on the board."

James chalks the above figures on the board and exclaims the peculiar result as follows: "The folks over to the CITIZEN office said I'd give 'em $3.00 if they'd send me the value of $1.50 plus $2.40, and I'd 'ad 'em I decided to do it."

James was wise, too. He learned that $3.00 was the clubbing price at which he could get the CITIZEN for the family and Annie Campbell for himself and the girls.
