NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

NOTE: All advertisements intended to make changes in their ads, should notify us of their intention to do so, not later than Monday morning.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

NOTICE.

During the next few weeks we will send out quite a number of bills for subscriptions due, and hope our friends will respond promptly as we need the money.

The John Reffer farm in Cranberry is for sale. See advertisement.

Next Wednesday, week, the 19th is La Fayette day in our public schools.

The corner stone laying of the new chapel at Herman drew a large crowd, Tuesday.

Twenty Butler Knights drilled for the parade on Washington street, Wednesday evening.

The school directors of Parker township have rented the old church building in Brain for school purposes.

The P. & W. Time-table on our 23 page, is the corrected one. The one on the 4th page is not correct.

The new '96 dancing class held in Boos' hall under the management of Miss Stella Page, is progressing rapidly.

Some of our colored people who attended Vogel's Minstrel at the Park Theatre were very greatly pleased with it.

Two rigs, one of them Andy Rod's, were badly smashed in a collision at the north end of the Plankroad bridge last evening.

On Tuesday, Nov. 8th—general election day—the people of Butler will vote for or against a special tax for lighting the town.

The First Ward Hose Co. is cornering all the pumpkins in a squashes in the market for their pumpkin supper in the Armory, Oct. 31.

The new train on the P. & W. leaves Butler at 1:05 p. m. and connects for Allegheny, and also from New Castle, returning to Butler at 4:30.

H. S. Albert, a practical horse-shoer and blacksmith, has lately moved from Beaver Falls to North and is working there, where he has located with his family and opened shop.

During Sheriff Redick's term there was one period of 24 hours in which but one man was in jail, and during Sheriff Brown's term there was nobody in jail for one day, but it has been many a year since our jail stood vacant for three weeks, as is now the case.

The free concerts given in Highland and Schenley parks make good business for the Ticket Office, and the crowd at Highland last Sunday afternoon was estimated at 25,000, and at Schenley that evening two to three times that number, nearly all of whom paid the Traction Co. ten cents each.

Just below Valencia, on the P. & W. R. R. there is a particularly fine looking farm—nice house, large barn, nice woods, etc., and everything in order and on the farm is a large sign which reads "Wilson." That is the proper thing. Every farmer should have his name on his barn—it is his place of business.

A large number of Butler county people will probably visit Pittsburg and Allegheny next week, and we will remind them that the best place to get a "birds-eye view" of the two cities and three valleys on a clear day is from Mt. Washington. Take the "Incline" in the center of the Smithfield street bridge, and walk up Grandview Ave. to the point where you can see down the Ohio. Then walk back through the town and take the West End or Saw Mill run cars, and they will land you at the foot of 5th Ave.

Butler people have probably done more swearing at their water supply than the citizens of any other like town in the State, but if any fault can be found with our water now it must be in the main or local reservoir, and not in the source of supply, the Boydston dam. The dam is built across a narrow valley whose sloping hillsides are covered with scrub oak, a fifty yards wide and from fifteen to twenty feet high, constructed of splendid masonry. This is a fine new local reservoir, and reserves enough clear sparkling water to supply Butler for at least two months if not a drop of rain fell during that time. D. S. Hutchinson of Boydston is employed by the Water Co. as keeper of the dam and takes pleasure in showing it to Butler visitors.

Next week will be Pittsburg's district for her visitors. Her preparations are tremendous preparations for the meeting of the Knights Templar. The large buildings are decorated with bunting and pictures; electric arches span the streets; a large electric cross has been attached to the tower of the Court House and a large cross built on the side of the hill opposite the Monongahela House.

The parade will form on Ohio St. at 10 a. m. on Tuesday, march down Federal, cross the bridge to 6th St. and then down to the Court House, and then down Federal to Shenley Park, when it will be reviewed and dismissed. Thousands of seats have been erected along Forbes St. and these are being reserved at $1 to $5 each. The headquarters of the Grand Commandery of the T. H. C. is in the High School building of Fifth Ave. Quite a number of Butler County Knights will be in the parade.

Are you one of the people who never read advertisements? Read C. E. Miller's ad. this week. It is running over with good cheap things for you in footwear. He made a large cash deal recently which enables him to sell at a lower price than his competitors can buy them for. That is not all. He wants to meet you so bad that he is willing to pay your railroad fare from any point in the county. Do you want money? He gives you a dinner ticket with a very small purchase and guarantees the price to be 25 per cent cheaper than elsewhere. Read the ad. by all means.—Adv.

TIMBER.

At the close of the 16th session of the Free Methodist conference in New Castle, Pa., the following resolutions were made and among them that of Rev. E. S. Zahner for Butler. The report of the committee on religion, presented by Rev. Mrs. H. E. Monroe, of Philadelphia, is the originator and lecturer. The entertainment will be given under the auspices of Grace Lutheran Church. The young people of Grace Church will be assisted by the young people of the various churches of the city.

The entertainment is the finest religious one ever before given in Philadelphia. The last time it was given two nights for the same purpose, and it drew about 8,000 people. It was given at the East End, Pittsburg, in January for the benefit of the Lincoln Avenue Methodist Church, and it drew the best known people in that part of the city took part in the entertainment. In short, no one can see it and not take part in the Luther entertainment.

Mrs. Monroe is not an entire stranger to Butler county. She is the wife of Joseph Earhart, of Karns City, and she attended Passavant's school of Zeligstein and returned to Butler county, Pa. and is employed in the P. & W. R. Co.

This regiment is now dismounted on foot, which means they are making those great rallying days, forgetting for once their syndical differences and remembering that they are a part of the same old and common shire in the great captain and king of Proletariat.

Next week in Pittsburg After a very successful week of Shakespeare at the Theatre will introduce itself to its thousands of friends in the farcical comedy of the Poor Man of Soudry. There can be no question but that this Company has taken a strong hold on the affections of every element of our town and its great city and its surroundings. It is by far the best organization this House has ever seen, and it is well to have a permanent residence in the Smoky City. The Poor Man of Soudry will run to the final fall of the curtain.

The Avenue Theatre of Pittsburg will open its season, Monday October 10th, having taken an auspicious occasion to inaugurate its season by presenting the comedy of the Poor Man of Soudry. MRS. J. E. ZIMMERMAN.

"Go to Jail."

Nearly everybody who sees the inside of our new jail wants to go there—our Sheriff, however, not as prisoner.

Hereafter the Sheriffs of Butler county will be provided with ample quarters—parlor, dining room, kitchen, pantry, five bed rooms, large attic, etc. The kitchen and dining room are connected directly with the elevator of the jail by an iron door, and the bathroom is situated in the rear of the building.

The main or principal story of the jail contains twenty cells, each complete with bed, wash bowl and closet, and all hemmed in by an iron grating clear of the walls.

The inmates contain six cells or dungeons, and two bath rooms.

The upper story is for women and children—has four cells, two large sick rooms and two bath rooms.

The whole building is heated by steam and well ventilated.

The Sheriff's office will remain in the Court House, but hereafter the District Attorney will occupy the corner room of the Sheriff's house on an official of Butler responded liberally to the appeal of the Hospital association, but by the constant occupation of the hospital in the care of patients the funds at the disposal of the management have been exhausted, and the need of replenishment is greatly felt.

A meeting of the Hospital Association was held on Monday in Y. M. C. A. building, and the members of the association were advised with regard to raising funds to defray the expenses of the hospital. For this purpose it was decided to hold a public entertainment throughout the county for money, and especially to farmers for contributions to the fund. It was also decided to have available equally with cash. Contributions especially desirable are those of butter and eggs, potatoes, apples and other vegetables and fruits.

Such contributions may be left either at the store of J. T. W. Campbell or that of A. Troutman's Sons, where an actual record will be kept of everything received for the benefit of the hospital, and the donations placed in the hands of the hospital management.

Another decision that an effort be made to sell membership certificates at a fee of three dollars each, for the purpose of raising money to be used in the maintenance of the hospital. These certificates will entitle the holder to a seat on the train to the Association and to vote for directors at the annual election to be held in February.

No stronger appeal can be made to the generosity of the community, in town and country, than to have them contribute to the fund for the hospital. It is to this appeal that our people are asked to respond with such liberality as they can, and to have in mind the good of the hospital and the philanthropy that dwells in their hearts may prompt.
