

Sales Must Grow! Trade Must Flow!

We propose to show to the people of this vicinity that despite the cry of scarcity of money and hard times, we still crowd our store with eager purchasers.

New Shirt Waist—A great collection of all that is new and stylish in wash waists. Correctly made and perfect fitting in laws, dimities, organdies, madras and gingham. Fine...

For Skirts and Waists. White P. K. Welts and ducks. 12 1/2 to 25c. Printed P. K. Welts and ducks. 10c to 25c. Linen, houseman. 10c, 12 1/2 and 15c. India Linon and Victoria Lawn. 12 1/2 to 40c. Striped, plaid and fancy white goods. 10c to 25c. Denim for skirts—blues, browns and tans. 12 1/2 to 15c.

L. STEIN & SON, Store Closes at 6 p. m. except Saturday.

Now That the dread house cleaning is over the next most important work is picking a new carpet.

To pick a carpet in our well stocked carpet room, is a pleasure, so say the many who have done so. We have the famous Hartford Axminster, Wilton Velvets, Body and Tapestry Brussels and Ingrains in all the up-to-date patterns, only, and prices that will astonish you.

$1.00 Axminster Rugs, Neatest thing for the money ever shown in Butler at DUFFY'S STORE

Men Won't buy clothing for the purpose of spending money. They desire to get the best possible value for the money expended. Not cheap goods but goods as clear as can be sold and made up properly. Call and examine my large stock of Spring Suitings. Right up to date, the latest styles, shades and colors that could be bought, called and a mine them.

G. F. KECK, 12 North Main Street, Butler, Pa.

PAPE'S, JEWELERS.

Diamonds, Watches, Clocks, Jewellery, Silverware, Spectacles etc. We have a large and well selected stock.

We Repair all Kinds of Watches. If you have broken jewelry that you think beyond repairs bring it to us and we will make it as good as new.

We take old gold and silver the same as cash allowing the highest market price.

Aslo Paints For Buggies, Wagons, Furniture, Decorative Work, etc. MADE TO PAINT BUILDINGS WITH REDICK & GROHMAN, 109 N. Main St., Butler, Pa.

Rockerstein's Summer Millinery.

We call your attention to our large and well selected stock of Choice Millinery. We have endeavored to make our stock surpass all previous years in style, durability, quality and price.

ROCKERSTEIN'S, 328 South Main St., Butler, Pa.

SEND ONE DOLLAR. We will send you a bicycle with a complete outfit. This offer is good for a limited time only. Hurry!

Constipation, Headache, Billiousness, Heartburn, Indigestion, Dizziness, Indicate that your liver is out of order. The best medicine to remove the liver and cure all these ills, is found in Hood's Pills

Hood's Pills

By means of the Kodak, which has reached the perfect stage. So simple that a child can operate it—and the pictures within the reach of everyone.

AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHY

By means of the Kodak, which has reached the perfect stage. So simple that a child can operate it—and the pictures within the reach of everyone.

DOUGLASS' BOOK STORE

Peoples Phonograph. Near P. O. You a cracked or broken bicycle frame. Don't risk life and limb upon it any longer but bring it to us and have a new tube brazed in, making it as good as new.

E. EVANS & SON, Butler, Pa.

Butler Savings Bank. Capital paid in $50,000.00. Surplus and Profits $170,000.00.

THE Butler County National Bank, Butler Penn. Capital paid in $100,000.00. Surplus and Profits $120,000.00.

Braun's Pharmacy. Cor. 6th St. and Duquesne Way, Pittsburg, Pa., L. D. Telephone 2512.

Wholesale and Retail. Importer and Jobber of Drugs, Chemicals, Perfumes, Soaps, Brushes, Etc.

Physicians' Prescriptions. Compounded Day or Night by "Registered Pharmacists" only.

Wholesale and retail dealer in Lubricating and Illuminating Oils, Capital Cylinder, Dynamo, Water White and Standard Gas, Engine Oils, Gasoline, Benzine, Paraffine Wax and Petroleum.

W. F. Braun, 303 S. Main Street.

Rare Bargains! We want to dispose of our present stock of 99 models, and in order to do so quickly we had the prices from $30.00 and up to $80.00 and $85.00.

Artistic Posing and Lighting. Frames Made to Order. Copying and Enlarging. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Findley's Photos Winners

New Accessories Being Added Continually. P. O. Building, Butler, Pa.

feeder Gilman also recognized the remains making the identification complete. Apparently there had been foul play, for on the east side of the hill, a little above and to the rear of the car, was a wound sufficient, the medical examiner stated, to cause death.

At the investigation that followed the facts concerning Burke's quarrel with Chapin were learned and also the fact that the detective with the mingled coldness and deference. He regarded him as an interloper, but at the same time the distinguished reputation of the private detective had its effect on him.

Fosdick expressing a wish to take Chapin's stick over to the undertaker's, the sheriff somewhat reluctantly granted permission, and the two walked over together. The detective once more made a careful inspection of the wound and the handle, looking closely at the shape of the break in the skull. Later he went to the sheriff's office and examined the handle to Chapin's stick.

At the examination of the road between the hotel and the west pier showed no evidence of any struggle. At one place, however, were footprints pointing in both directions. The tracks were made by the shoes on the feet of Burke and the body was found. At this spot four burned matches were also found.

Early that same evening William Burke, an astronomer, left the observatory and went down to the little pier, distant about half a mile. A trim rowboat lay alongside, securely fastened with a stout chain and padlock. Burke had one had a boat and never recovered it. He was found of rowing, and when he got a new boat he bought a lock which the dealer warranted unbreakable and unpickable. It was of peculiar pattern, and was unlocked by an odd shaped key.

This evening he rowed directly across the river, and about three-fourths of a mile wide. Arriving at the west shore, he secured his boat at a pier similar to that on the east bank, and the professor on the observatory platform, was left alone with his cigar.

When Chapin left Dobson's hotel the night before, he carried a heavy walking stick, as three or four persons, Dobson, the professor, and another man, the stick had an oxidized silver handle, rough of surface and rule of shape. The sheriff visited the room occupied by Chapin, which was in a building known in Jackson, but no trace of the walking stick was found there. Mrs. Meadows, the landlady, remembered the stick very well and the place where Chapin usually kept it when not having it with him.

"Burke, you're a cheat!" he cried. Luck was with him, and at the end of an hour he had won about $60. Chapin was the principal loser. Suddenly Burke was quite deaf, stared at his accuser, as if he had not understood it. "Burke, you're a cheat!" Burke, who was quite deaf, stared at his accuser, as if he had not understood it.

"What did you say, sir?" he asked. "Burke repeated his words in a loud tone. They were scarcely out of his mouth before Burke, who had been sitting a few feet from him, sprang forward and with great force a blow from his fist, Chapin warded it off and would have dealt one in return if others present had not come between and separated them.

When Chapin appealed to the other two players, they were unable to support him in his allegation against Burke. They believed at notion of Burke's being misconstrued by Chapin. Thereupon Burke demanded an apology from Chapin, which the latter refused to give. He then turned and walked away, but admitted it would look better for him if he could give a better account of himself during the hour before.

The afternoon of the arrest Chapin's stick was among some rocks low the bluffs north of the west pier. It was here that Chapin claimed he had sat while smoking and gazing at the stars, and when he had finished there, he could only say that he supposed it must have slipped over the bluff while he was sitting there.

CHAPTER V. FOSDICK INVESTIGATES A SEARCH. Fosdick was up early the next morning. Crossing the river, he made a very close examination of the ground in the vicinity of the east pier, where the topography was rocky and uneven.

CHAPTER VI. THE DETECTIVE CHEWS GUM. Eugene Chapin was not without friends. One of the most powerful was old General Kerr, a man of wealth—position in the neighboring town of Jefferson. When he heard of Chapin's arrest, he interceded two or three unprofitable sentences and then sent a telegraphic message to the city. In response Phineas Fosdick, a private detective of more than ordinary reputation, met General Kerr at Dobson's hotel the day following. Together they went to the undertaker's establishment.

Fosdick expressing a wish to take Chapin's stick over to the undertaker's, the sheriff somewhat reluctantly granted permission, and the two walked over together. The detective once more made a careful inspection of the wound and the handle, looking closely at the shape of the break in the skull. Later he went to the sheriff's office and examined the handle to Chapin's stick.

At the examination of the road between the hotel and the west pier showed no evidence of any struggle. At one place, however, were footprints pointing in both directions. The tracks were made by the shoes on the feet of Burke and the body was found. At this spot four burned matches were also found.

Early that same evening William Burke, an astronomer, left the observatory and went down to the little pier, distant about half a mile. A trim rowboat lay alongside, securely fastened with a stout chain and padlock. Burke had one had a boat and never recovered it. He was found of rowing, and when he got a new boat he bought a lock which the dealer warranted unbreakable and unpickable.

This evening he rowed directly across the river, and about three-fourths of a mile wide. Arriving at the west shore, he secured his boat at a pier similar to that on the east bank, and the professor on the observatory platform, was left alone with his cigar.

When Chapin left Dobson's hotel the night before, he carried a heavy walking stick, as three or four persons, Dobson, the professor, and another man, the stick had an oxidized silver handle, rough of surface and rule of shape. The sheriff visited the room occupied by Chapin, which was in a building known in Jackson, but no trace of the walking stick was found there.

"Burke, you're a cheat!" he cried. Luck was with him, and at the end of an hour he had won about $60. Chapin was the principal loser. Suddenly Burke was quite deaf, stared at his accuser, as if he had not understood it.

CHAPTER VII. THE NEGLIGEE SHIRT. With fond satisfaction were talking of the negligee shirt. "I didn't much think you would," remarked Gilman. "If it fell in this vicinity, it probably went over the river."

When the woman who was accused of murder in her own behalf. We omit the description of her gown and come at once to her story. "It is a thrilling moment, when you know you are a pretty, don't you?" insinuated the prosecutor.

CHAPTER VIII. QUEER OLD LAWS. Saxon Forefathers' Valued Horses. Among our Saxon forefathers horses were so highly valued that while homicide might be expiated by payment of a fine in cattle, horse stealing was a capital offense, says the London Live Stock Journal.

CHAPTER IX. RARE BARGAINS! We want to dispose of our present stock of 99 models, and in order to do so quickly we had the prices from $30.00 and up to $80.00 and $85.00.

CHAPTER X. ARTISTIC POSING AND LIGHTING. Frames Made to Order. Copying and Enlarging. Satisfaction guaranteed.

CHAPTER XI. FINDLEY'S PHOTOS WINNERS. New Accessories Being Added Continually. P. O. Building, Butler, Pa.

CHAPTER XII. SEND ONE DOLLAR. We will send you a bicycle with a complete outfit. This offer is good for a limited time only. Hurry!

CHAPTER XIII. ROCKERS TEIN'S. 328 South Main St., Butler, Pa.

CHAPTER XIV. PAPE'S, JEWELERS. Diamonds, Watches, Clocks, Jewellery, Silverware, Spectacles etc.

CHAPTER XV. REDICK & GROHMAN. 109 N. Main St., Butler, Pa.

CHAPTER XVI. ROCKERSTEIN'S. 328 South Main St., Butler, Pa.

CHAPTER XVII. SEND ONE DOLLAR. We will send you a bicycle with a complete outfit. This offer is good for a limited time only. Hurry!

CHAPTER XVIII. ROCKERS TEIN'S. 328 South Main St., Butler, Pa.

A POTATO REPORT.

Yields of noteworthy varieties, including New Introductions. For the past three years the New Hampshire station has been pursuing the interests of potato growers, and it now issues a report covering the results of experiments with 104 varieties.

RED AMERICAN WONDER. Red American Wonder (numbered 99), also called American Wonder, a commonly grown and very popular potato in the northern part of the state, is pronounced a fine variety. This was one of the heaviest yielders of 1888.

WHITE BEAUTY (101) is described as a medium late variety of introduction. It belongs to the Burbank and White Star class. The vines were very strong and heavy, dark green, standing 3 1/2 feet high and 3 feet broad.

WOODHULL'S SEEDLING. Woodhull's Seedling (numbered 102) is a medium late variety of introduction. It belongs to the Burbank and White Star class. The vines were very strong and heavy, dark green, standing 3 1/2 feet high and 3 feet broad.

Yield per Acre. The following table shows the yield per acre of the various varieties. The yield is given in bushels per acre, and the average yield in order of productiveness is given.

Table with 2 columns: Variety Name and Yield per Acre. Includes varieties like Red American Wonder, White Beauty, Woodhull's Seedling, etc.

Commenting upon these, Late Parson and Filibuster are mentioned as good croppers. Sir William was a pink variety. Harvest Queen, desirable; Sir Walter Raleigh, very choice; Woodhull's Seedling, White Rose and White First Choice, fair croppers; Drew's Chance, a fine rose type; Drew's Chance, large red; Prodigio Rose, medium oval; Oregon, a long potato, fine.

Some points heretofore mentioned in potato culture, which the experiments reported by Professor Rane seem to confirm, are: The yield from planting the seed or tubers is generally greater than from the stem or butt end of the tuber. The eyes on the seed end are the first to germinate, and hence are especially important when an early crop is desired.

It is better to plant in a hill one large piece than several very small ones of the same aggregate weight. The yield of seedling potatoes increases with every increase in the size of seed piece from one eye to a half potato. The half potato affords a larger set of tubers than the whole potato on account of the excessive amount of seed required in planting entire tubers.

The next session of the Boston's national congress will meet at Fort Atkinson, Wis., is President and John M. Stahl, of Chicago secretary. Each agricultural college and experiment station is entitled to a delegate, as is also each national and state agricultural society.

The Department Laboratory. "Where are you going to spend your vacation?" called the girl at the safety pin counter to the charmer at the suit.

"I guess I'll take it out in traveling." "Where are you going to travel?" "Well, I'm going to visit every department in this store if it takes me a whole week to do it. Yes, what else, please?" Cleveland Tailor Dealer.

Saving a Drowning Man. Magistrate—You are accused of striking a drowning man a fatal blow with a hammer. Prisoner—Of what was I to do? I was trying to save his life, y' honor. Sure didn't OI schwin out to help him!

"But you took a hammer along and killed him with it." "Yes, sir. If ye don't let 'em they'll grab ye every toime, y' honor."—Exchange.

Not a Hero Herein. "I used to think Burghess had considerable patriotism, but I was mistaken. There's a man who is not to be trusted. He has no real love for his country." "What makes you think that?" "I can't be gone and named his triplets. He's Albert and Francis?"—Chicago Times Herald.

When the woman who was accused of murder in her own behalf. We omit the description of her gown and come at once to her story. "It is a thrilling moment, when you know you are a pretty, don't you?" insinuated the prosecutor.

CHAPTER VIII. QUEER OLD LAWS. Saxon Forefathers' Valued Horses. Among our Saxon forefathers horses were so highly valued that while homicide might be expiated by payment of a fine in cattle, horse stealing was a capital offense, says the London Live Stock Journal.

CHAPTER IX. RARE BARGAINS! We want to dispose of our present stock of 99 models, and in order to do so quickly we had the prices from $30.00 and up to $80.00 and $85.00.

CHAPTER X. ARTISTIC POSING AND LIGHTING. Frames Made to Order. Copying and Enlarging. Satisfaction guaranteed.

CHAPTER XI. FINDLEY'S PHOTOS WINNERS. New Accessories Being Added Continually. P. O. Building, Butler, Pa.

CHAPTER XII. SEND ONE DOLLAR. We will send you a bicycle with a complete outfit. This offer is good for a limited time only. Hurry!