

THE BUTLER CITIZEN.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1906.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

All advertisers intending to make changes in their ads, should notify us of their intention to do so not later than Monday morning.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The banks are closed today.

This is Washington's birthday.

Licenses Court begins Monday.

The new Councilmen are all pledged to be good.

The paved streets will now be cleaned—cleaned—cleaned.

It cost Lawrence county $3950 to pay claims for sheep killed by dogs last year.

Large remonstrances have been filed against all the wholesale applications.

Why is Hearst of New York like Anna Gould? Because each got a Bum Count.

The Octogenarian Association meets next Saturday, Feb. 24. Several new members are expected present.

Bell, Davidson and Dodds all have nice majorities—407, 607 and 509. Davidson carried every precinct in the town.

The political advertisement, displayed in large type, was the most novel feature of last week's campaign in Pittsburg.

Two men, convicted of murder, were hung, at Ebensburg, last Thursday, "side by side"; and six hundred people attended the gruesome affair.

The Butler basket ball team defeated the fast Tamaqua team in Association ball, Tuesday evening. The game was a fast one, and the score was 51 to 32.

Harry Seaman bought sixty-nine horses in this section, last week; twenty-five in Butler, twenty in Mercer, and eight, each, in Slipperyrock, Grove City and Greenville.

Of the marriages at Jamestown, N. Y., the past year, nearly 400 were of couples from outside the state, who went across the line to avoid taking out a marriage license.

An Iowa man committed suicide the other day because his wife and seven children insisted upon singing "Everybody Loves my Father." Could you blame the man?

A physician, a druggist and a barber have been arrested at Edinboro on charges of illegal liquor selling. They waived examination and gave bail for their appearance at court.

Geauga county, Ohio, one of the leading maple sugar districts of the United States, made considerable syrup the past few weeks, many camps being opened and good runs of sap secured.

An exchange says that a change as to the manner of entertainment has come over the social world, and cards of all kinds are being relegated to the garret. Knives, shovels and literary work are the substitutes. The change is a good one.

While Mrs. Albert Ostadeau was returning from the home of a neighbor, in Salem, O., an unknown person threw pepper into her eyes. The husband offers $50 reward for the capture of the erection of a distillery on the site—Pittsburg Times.

Six valuable horses belonging to H. G. Bagshaw, of Pittsburg, who owns a farm near Greensburg, have been shot and cremated because of glanders, and there are five more to kill. Under the law the animals cannot be buried, but must be burned.

One would think that these theatrical dogs had enough to do without carting a lot of dogs over the country. Jim Corbett used to carry his, a bull, in his satchel, and altogether there were about twenty in that troupe. A troupe that was here, the other evening, had a lot with them.

The Freeport Herald reproduces a poem entitled "The Gold Digger's Dream," written by Charles B. Gillespie, M. D. of that place about half a Century ago. Doctor Gillespie was one of the early venturers for gold in California and no doubt his experience there inspired this "dream" after his return home.

Erie county now leads the west end of the state in the number of applications to the State Highway Department for state aid in the reconstruction of roads. The County Commissioners have now sent to the Department 37 applications, which ask for an over 200 miles of road. There are several more applications now in the Commissioners' hands, which will make the total still greater. There are now in the county four roads under contract and one is finished, the one finished is in Springfield township and is about four miles long.

Another case of mistaken identity and the writing of obituary notices for a man very much alive has developed in which Roy Stewart, formerly of Towaville, Crawford Co., figured. Some time ago a man of that name was arrested at Steubenville, O., for robbing the railroad station where he was employed. He made a full confession and while left alone for a few moments blew out his brains. With nothing more to work upon than a similarity in names, the former Towaville, Roy Stewart was forced into the limelight as the principal in the affair. It turns out, however, that the suicide was "another fellow" and papers which published the Crawford county man's obituary have had to take it all back.

A temperance lecturer, who wished to prove to the audience the deadly power of whiskey, caused a drop of water to be magnified and thrown upon a magic lantern screen. The picture was a terrible one. Worms bigger than pythons and spiders, of the size of a ship, fought together in the drop of water like fiends in the infernal regions. The lecturer caused a drop of whiskey to be magnified. The effect was marvelous. The liquor killed all those ferocious horrors instantly. Their vast claws and tentacles and feelers stiffened. All became peaceful and still. An old lady in the front row whispered hoarsely in her husband's ear: "Wall, Jabez, that settles me. I'll never drink water again 'bout pattin' some whiskey in it."

Gov. Pennypacker, even though saddled with the political phenomenon that is "Everybody Loves my Father," could you blame the man?

Stephen Stone caught a credit in the Conqueneuse, that weighed 23 pounds—25 years ago. Fifty pound changes are occasionally coming from the Allegheny at the mouth of the Clarion; and in the Columbia river they had to catch a salmon.

Grover Cleveland says that he would rather his son grew up to be able to build a great structure like the Brooklyn bridge than to be President of the United States. As Mr. Cleveland is the only living ex-President and he will be sixty-nine years of age on March 18th, his words carry great weight.

Anna Gould de Castellan in her suit for divorce from her disolute and worthless Count has our sympathy, and our grief for the pain and humiliation of an American girl at the hands of a listless indolence and depravity as more poisonous as any snake.

Rev. William Davies, a Hereford, England, vicar, died recently. For 35 years he took no more exercise than was involved in walking from one room to another; he was a heavy eater, with a marked weakness for such appetizing things as hot buttered rolls (he always had a hot buttered roll in his pocket) and he could make dinner with a bottle of port wine after dinner. And yet he never had a day's vacation during all these years, and the picture of health, was full of spirits and energy and he lived to enjoy a hearty meal on his 105th birthday.

Mrs. Alice Hooserel, a charming and popular young woman, whose father's position has made her known to the public since last Saturday, became the wife of a Congressman whose large fortune has not deterred him from creditable public service. Such an event attracts the good will of the Nation, and in that democratic light Mr. and Mrs. Longworth have the congratulations and good wishes of the people of the United States. They were married in the East room of the White House at noon on Saturday afternoon for a place in the country.

Senator Hoar above all things disliked profanity. The story is told how shocked the venerable senator would be by the indelicate interjections of a certain politician with whom he frequently was compelled to confer. But on all such occasions he would refrain from censuring the culprit except in the mildest manner. One day when the politician came to the senator's committee-room on a subject of considerable importance, Mr. Hoar indicated a seat to him, and remarked, "Now, Mr. Blank, before we enter upon a discussion of this question we shall assume that everybody and everything is damned. Then we can talk it over amicably."

"Tom" Cooper of Delaware county, the little county of Pennsylvania, lying between Philadelphia and the little state of same name, (both hard to find on the map) is an accomplished songster as well as a veteran legislator. He came from Ireland of course, and his song during the "horse play" session of disorder on Wednesday afternoon of last week, began thusly: Oh, the day that I came over, I never shall forget; It was raining in the morning, And the afternoon was wet.

An Irishman just landed, having to be at work at a certain hour every morning and never succeeding in waking up in time, was told to get an alarm clock. He had never seen or heard of such an article, but, nevertheless, went to a clock maker and bought one, having the clockmaker explain how it worked. He took it home and set it to the time he wanted to get up, but the following morning the clock did not go off, as he was told it would, he took out the back, and out dropped a dead cockroach. On seeing it he exclaimed: "No wonder the thing wouldn't work. The engineer is dead!"

Butler and Harmony Franchise Granted.

At the meeting of Town Council last night an ordinance was adopted granting the Butler and Harmony Street Railway Co., a franchise over Mulberry St., Homewood ave., Dunbar, New Street, Elm, Pine, Willow, Elmwood, Williams, West, Water, Wayne, and Williams Sts. to Main. The company is to build a public bridge over Sullivan Run on Williams St. (Vogely's Island), and pay $500 a year the first ten years, and thereafter increase in that amount in proportion to the increase in the population of the town. An acceptance must be filed within 60 days, and bond in $5000 given to commence work within 6 months.

The matter of giving the Pittsburg and Butler Co. a franchise for switches on West St. on the Island and over Chestnut between Cunningham and Jefferson was held over one week. Property holders objected to the "carban switches" vigorously.

F. W. McKee put in the highest bid for the garbage rights, $600 a year.

A number of revival services are being held in different parts of the county.

LEGAL NEWS.

NEW SUITS.

Mrs. Florence Michael vs. B. R. & P. R. E. Co. trespass for $50,000 damages for the death of her husband, Robert F. Michael, who while employed as a locomotive engineer June 22, 1905, was killed in a freight wreck. The defendant company is charged with negligence in not providing a clear track for Michael's train.

Joseph H. Thomas vs. Callery Brick and Tile Co. bill in equity asking for the appointment of a receiver. The plaintiff states the company's debts amount to about $6000, $995 of which is due him, and there is danger of the property being sold at a sacrifice. The other stockholders claim that the company could not do business because the railroad company made freight rates higher than usual.

J. H. Thomas vs. Brick & Tile Co. assumpsit for $995.60 claimed to be due for money advanced and goods furnished.

NOTES.

Jury Commissioners Eberhart and Cooper and Sheriff Campbell on Saturday drew a jury for the April term.

An answer has been filed by Margaret and S. E. Miller to the rule of R. J. Miller for partition of the estate of Jacob Miller, dec'd., of Adams twp., in which they state the partitioner is indebted to the estate in an amount which is greater than his share in the estate, and the other heirs do not want it divided.

Hamilton Brothers and H. K. Wick have filed exceptions to the awards of viewers on the petition of Lochrie Bros. for a lateral railroad or coal switch from the existing line to the mines near Argentine. The exceptions state that the proposed line will interfere with the existing line, operating the mines on their own properties. Technical defects are also alleged.

Jos. Penning, a native of Belgium, has petitioned for naturalization.

John Rock, a native of Hungary has petitioned for naturalization.

Frank Blasc, Mike Lowinsky and Steve Plaza are awaiting trial on charges of interfering with an officer.

Dr. L. H. Stepp, J. M. Painter and E. B. Beyer are awaiting trial on a conspiracy in lummy on Mrs. Frederick Landers of Glade Mills, whose husband committed suicide a short time ago by drowning himself in a tank of oil.

Jesse Heyrick, J. D. Smith and Andrew Rigger, viewers in the petition of the citizens of Summit and Oakland townships for a review of a public road, have reported in favor of the proposed change, the cost of which is estimated at about $150, and to be borne by Summit township.

Squire Criswell has returned Steve Dobinski who keeps a boarding house and supplies his boarders with beer, for trial for selling liquor without license. Peter Osterman another boarding house keeper was discharged.

At Pittsburg, last week, the Robertsen brothers of East Butler, were convicted of embezzlement.

Six hundred people saw the double hanging at Ebensburg, Cambria county, last Thursday. Everybody who wanted to see it took an adverse view of it.

The County Commissioners were at Somerset, Pa. looking at the court house at that place to get some ideas on the improvements to be made on our own. The idea of building the recesses in the north and south walls out even or almost even with the rest of the walls seems to be the best means of adding space to the local temple.

The brothers of Joseph Thompson, dec'd., of Cherry twp. have appealed from the decision of Register Wilson admitting his will to probate.

Viewers M. L. Starr, A. B. Richey, J. A. Bunker, J. H. Sutton and C. A. Abrams in the case of Miss Sue Clark have been appointed to view the estate of the late Mrs. Clark.

The County Commissioners have fixed the tax levy for the present year at 2 1/2 mills county tax and 2 mills poor tax.

The county tax is a heavy eater, with a marked weakness for such appetizing things as hot buttered rolls (he always had a hot buttered roll in his pocket) and he could make dinner with a bottle of port wine after dinner. And yet he never had a day's vacation during all these years, and the picture of health, was full of spirits and energy and he lived to enjoy a hearty meal on his 105th birthday.
