LOCAL AND GENERAL.

—Some garden has been made. —Dust baths on our paved streets. —Our painters and paper-hangers are very busy.

—New houses are going up in all parts of the town. —Franklin has had six suicides within the past three months.

—Some people are getting up with birds these mornings—5 a.m. —The heavy frost of Tuesday morning did the early fruit buds no good.

—The Butler branch of the West Penn is being improved. It needed it. —Trailing arbutus is in bloom, and is nicer than it has been for some years.

—There is always some one to take the place of any one who drops out of anything. —The new trolley line is putting up its steel bridges and will have the cars running by July.

—What trouble liquor makes in this world. Two old friends came to Butler the other day and one got full and wanted to fight the other. —The Murray-Mack Co are "making good" at the Majestic, this week, and the old favorite "Is up to you John Henry" will be here next week.

—C. N. Byrd, the druggist, is remodeling his drug store at corner of Main and Diamond Sts. He intends extending the show window around the corner. —Several cans of lake trout, about 50,000 young fish in all, have been placed in Conestoga Lake. This means much for the future of that water as a fishing ground.

—The pamphlet laws passed at the recent special session of the Legislature have been received at the Prothonotary's office, and Justices of the Peace may get them by calling there. —The Edinboro Independent, after figuring the thing up, has discovered that in the Crawford Co. primaries the candidates received votes in the ratio of their expenditures in the canvass.

—The Younkens brothers have deepened the basement of their building on Main St., and intend lowering the floor of the drug store. Axel Axon had the contract for under-pinning the walls. —Edward Fuller, found guilty of dynamiting fish in Crooked creek near Kittanning, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100. Not having the money he was sent to jail for 100 days, a day for each dollar of the fine.

—An "Acquaintance Meeting" was held in the Sunday School of Grace Lutheran church, Tuesday evening. Short addresses, music and lunch were enjoyed by the large crowd present, as was also the social hour. —San Francisco is now looking for a man who can invent a building both fire-proof and earthquake-proof. Schemes covered with concrete and metal lathing has been suggested, all windows to be protected by iron shutters.

—At several of the wells lately drilled for oil in Clearfield twp. the drills passed through several feet of candle or candle coal, at a depth of about 800 feet. It's good stuff and will come into market for some future generation. —It would be well enough for all citizens to bear in mind that the Act of Assembly of April 29, 1905, imposes a fine of $10, or imprisonment, together with costs of prosecution, for "throwing waste paper, sweepings, ashes, or other waste, or any kind of refuse, into the street, in any city, borough or township in this commonwealth."

—Fully appreciating the liberality of the people of Butler, and earnestly desiring to foster large contributions to the San Francisco relief fund during this week, and not wishing to embarrass many who might give to both, the Y. M. C. A. has decided to set a later day for its "Association Day." So instead of its being this week, Friday, the 27th; Monday, May 7th has been fixed. In the meantime however individual solicitations will continue. —The edict of Pope Pius X which banishes women from the choir of all the Catholic churches takes effect June 15. There had been some doubt as to whether the Pope's order would be carried out in all the churches in America, but it meets with considerable opposition, but such doubts appear to have vanished by reason of latest advice from the Vatican. After this date the Gregorian chant will replace the music now in vogue. The change will throw thousands of women out of employment, many talented vocalists being engaged in the churches of the larger cities at high salaries.

—In the hospital at Harrisburg a physical freak. His name is William Maney, 35 years old, a fireman on the Reading railroad, and he was brought to the hospital suffering from 13 separate and distinct injuries, all severe, received in a collision. Surgeons who worked over him several hours say he may recover. Here is the list of his injuries: Fracture of right leg, fracture of left leg; fracture of right forearm and left arm; fracture of collar bone; fracture of three bones right hand; fracture of right wrist; lacerations of scalp; lacerations of face; general contusions over entire body.

—The latest contribution to the humor of corporate defense when confronted with prosecution for lawbreaking is that offered by counsel for the Bridging Co., convicted lately in the Federal Court at Chicago of granting and accepting bribes to get the Government in possession of sufficient evidence to secure a conviction the defendants "acknowledged the facts as charged in the indictment" to be correct and admitted a technical violation of the law, which they did not think was right anyway. The unfeeling jury, however, held that distinguishing between technical lawbreaking and any other kind, and Judge Bettes was equally obtuse, imposing fines aggregating $60,000.

Letter to Capt. H. Leibold, Butler, Pa.

Dear Sir: There's nothing we like to tackle so well as a cheap paint town. Devoe is cheaper than any of 'em. Cheap means dear, and cheap means cheap; you can always tell which is cheap and which is Devoe. Cheap Devoe is nasty; cheap Devoe is faithful and true Devoe.

Mr. A. J. Smith, Littlestown, Pa., painted his house; his painter told him to get 131 gallons Devoe; had 4 left.

Mr. A. H. Robert, same town, has lots of buildings; paints Devoe; pays 20 cents more a gallon for it; is clad to; says it's the cheapest paint there is. He knows how it wears yet. He don't half-know how it wears yet.

Yours truly F. W. Devoe & Co. P. S. The Butler Decorating Co. sells our paint.

Exceptions are taken to the accounts of Borough Treasurer W. E. Langer, Burgess W. C. Miles, acting Burgess D. J. Roberts and Collector W. D. Boyton. The town is establishing a water works plant and it is charged that the Councilmen and officials are dealing out jobs to themselves. Hooks states the auditors erred in allowing claims aggregating $44 to Connellan J. S. Clark for lumber, one W. M. Kircpatrick for $14 for dressing tools at the water works and a large number of similar claims. It is claimed the proper orders and vouchers were not presented to the auditors. The appeal had been talked of for a month before filed.

The case of the National Cash Register Co. vs W. M. Kircpatrick resulted in a verdict of $480 for the plaintiff in direction of the Court. Kircpatrick levied on and sold a cash register in the market of P. Molyneux, Kircpatrick's tenant. Molyneux had the register on a bailment from the Register Co. and they claimed it. Judge Criswell directed that the verdict must be for the deft, unless the fact that the appraisers under the landlord's warrant were sworn by Justice Keck instead of the Constable, as directed by the law, would read in favor of the plaintiff and the landlord's warrant void. This point was reversed by the Court.

One of the men, who was arrested in a Butler barber shop, with the money and watch on their persons. At the hearing the younger man of the three named Bracken, confessed the crime, which seems to have been a drunken notion. All are now in jail awaiting trial.

An Italian named Terlizzi had his face cut early Monday morning while waiting for a car on E. Jefferson St. to take him to the Car Works. His assailant escaped. The man was taken to the hospital and the escape was made so quickly that the affair was attributed to the "Black Hand" society.

HEROIC HORSEMANSHIP.

Score of Cavalry riding Regulars With the Hagenbeck Shows.

Heroic horsemanship of the frontier and plain, as indulged in by the riding regulars of the University, in their drills and frolics, has a strong fascination for those whose blood has not become entirely congealed. The reckless, hard, careless about and get-up and gaitiveness of these stalwart and agile recruits in their equestrian stunts, not exactly according to the manual, are strenuously exciting and thrilling in the extreme and demonstrate to splendid advantage the equestrian mastery of a course of training in the army. With the Carl Hagenbeck Greater Shows, which exhibit in Butler, Tuesday, May 29th, a score of cavalry recruits, all of whom have seen service, will be presented in command of Captain Walter C. Sherry, in their own right, and their performances an exhibition will be given of cavalrymen in playful pranks and stunts. The element of fun is ever present, but does not detract from the display of skill requisite for the achievement of the feats that are venturied. These horsemen of the khaki, who have seen in contrast with the converts of the silk and spangles, their wild school of horsemanship embraces hurdle racing, hurdle riding, vaulting over one, two and three feet running horses; riding abreast two, three and four underhanded, singly and in pairs and trios; picking objects from the ground while going at full speed and executing the thrilling and amusing cavalry "monkey drill" as prescribed by the manual. These strenuous stunts and playful pastimes are indulged in on the quarter mile hippodrome ellipse, which gives ample distance for the requirement of speed by the horses and a sufficiency of space for the recreation of the recruits.
