The Eighth ward, with its two votes representing less than one hundred and fifty votes?

FORT WORTH people should not help Fort Worth people to make money who do not consider Fort Worth good enough to spend that money in.

THE eagles of Fort Worth cannot deny residence in this city to the buzzards, but they can prevent the buzzards from obtaining control of the city.

IS THERE any good reason why one man in the proposed Eighth ward should be given four times as much political power as one man in any of the present wards? Is there any justice in it?

AS THE International investigation drags along one becomes more and more convinced that had all the law firms in Tyler received jobs on the road the investigation would never have been ordered.

A LITTLE ROCK alderman has been expelled from the city council because he left a session of that body to attend one of Sam Jones' meetings.

STRENGTHEN the Chamber of Commerce, for that is the nucleus of all action in behalf of the city. Fort Worth cannot afford to let the Chamber of Commerce go out of existence.

When Grover Cleveland, Democrat, went out of office, and Benjamin Harrison, Republican, stepped in and took charge of the books, the treasury was overflowing with millions of money.

That was a little more than two years ago. The Republicans have solved the problem that puzzled the Democrats.

There is $23,287,167 of the government's money deposited in national banks, but it cannot be drawn out at this time without great danger of creating a financial disturbance.

There is $20,119,000 of fractional silver on hand, but it is not legal tender for the payment of sums in excess of $10.

Such is the result of two years of Republican financing.

Speaking to a large crowd of listeners, President Polk of the Farmers' Alliance told them that he had nothing to say against the bankers for using their power to oppress the poor.

Now the average mortal untrained in such matters, there appear to be some funny kinks in international law.

Yesterday three applications were received for membership in the committee.

THE Chamber of Commerce. New life has been infused into this body, and it is hard at work for Fort Worth.

THE Arlington Hotel. If Fort Worth secures the Arlington Heights hotel, it will this winter become a grand winter resort.

RECORDED TRANSFERS. Fort Worth land company to Mrs. Alla Moore, lots 7 and 8, block 5.

TEXAS ABROAD. New York, June 22.—Fort Worth, M. B. Loyd, Grand Central, Galveston, Mrs. E. Sampson, Gilsey, Houston, Mrs. E. A. Hass, Marlboro, Fort Worth, J. P. Smith, St. Dennis.

MISS ALICE MACGOWAN'S Journalistic Sketches—Her Sketches to be Printed in Book Form.

CHATTAHOOGA TIMES. Miss Alice MacGowan, whose brilliant letters from New York have been delighting the readers of the Sunday Times

DEMOCRATIC PREMIUMS. Prizes Ordered to Stimulate Democratic Organization and the Campaign of Education.

KNOWVILLE TRIBUNE. Perhaps no Southern sketch writer ever gained such a flattering reputation in so short a time as Miss Alice MacGowan.

MILKING THE ROADS. San Antonio Express. That railroad advertising arrangement of the Galveston News may be all right, but it certainly does give the Express a longing

STANDING WITH THE COMMISSION. The fence of Fort Worth and the intentness with which its eye is fixed on the main chance is exemplified by the fact that one of its lawyers has married the daughter of John H. Reagan.
