BEHIND THE SCENES.

MATTERS OF INTEREST ABOUT PLAYS AND PLAYERS.

The Chief Attractions for This Week at Greenwall's, and Press Comments—The Conrod Opera Company.

Footlight Flash.

The hold which "The Little Tycoon" has upon public favor is not only extraordinary, it is little short of phenomenal.

"The Little Tycoon's" receipts for its 13th week in Philadelphia were $8750. In Baltimore its receipts for its thirteenth week reached $8750, and in Pittsburgh where it was seen for seven weeks, it took $6000.

R. E. Graham, the original "General Knickerbocker" who is singing the topical song made famous by him in "The Little Tycoon."

Mr. E. Graham, Joseph Mealey, Robert Durber, George H. Broderick, J. F. McGovern, Laura Millard, Mabel Baker and William Conrod are the principals of "The Little Tycoon."

Miss Rita Selby, who sings the role of "Harriet," in Conrod's comic opera company's production of "Poor Jonathan," will be remembered as "Nani," the Gypsy girl in "John Strauss' opera, "The Gypsy Baron," which was her last year's performance.

Mr. A. W. F. MacCollin and Miss Fannie D. Hall are the "Jonathan" and "Molly" in "Poor Jonathan," which will be shortly seen here by Mr. Heinrich Conrod's comic opera company.

The role of "Rugbyrod," the American millionaire in "Poor Jonathan," which is the principal opera given this season by Conrod's comic opera company, is sung by J. Aldrich Libby, who plays the part of the young spender "Little Tycoon" company one year ago.

Mr. George M. Herbert, an amusing comedian and an excellent singer, plays the part of "The Little Tycoon" in the comic opera, "Poor Jonathan," this season, with Conrod's comic opera company.

It is stated on good authority that Jefferson will continue the tour booked for him in Florence, Louisiana, James will take Florence's place in "The Little Tycoon" and "The Rivals" to be played at Kansas City shortly.

Patricia Rosa was the cause of almost breaking the boomers at the Nashville theatre, when she sang the song "The Little Tycoon," christened by the actress Patricia Rosa in Pueblo, Colo., two years ago, was in a strong field to long odds the same day at the Nashville (the actress) theatre in Nashville.

The company and many of Miss Rosa's friends played the horse to the limit and won handsomely. M. W. Tobin won enough to buy a corner lot in Nashville.

Miss Bernhardt's receipts in two days at the Star theatre, Buffalo, N. Y., reached $7000, and the divine Sarah will play a return engagement there this spring. Jefferson and Florence return engagements, which will be played at the same theatre, promises to exceed that of the first one, which was the largest in the history of the theatre.

"The Little Tycoon" has gone into the dedicating business. On the 37th the company will dedicate the new Adams theatre, Greenville, Ohio, and the new opera house at Delphos, Ohio, on the 28th ult. This makes five new theatres this successful comic opera organization opened this season.

A New York paper says: Henry Greenwall will, as usual, attend to his own book-keeping for his Texas and New Orleans circuit during the coming season. He has secured the services of the new Adams theatre, Greenville, Ohio, and the new opera house at Delphos, Ohio, on the 28th ult. This makes five new theatres this successful comic opera organization opened this season.

Gracie Emmett continues her very successful tour in the Pulse of New York. The attraction drew immense crowds at the Boston theatre, and after his engagement in New Orleans, she will play at the star, play and company were heartily adored.

Owing to the very large business The Little Tycoon is doing in Ohio, Manager J. J. Rosenthal has decided to play the opera for a few days at every theatre.

The Conrod opera company, singing Poor Jonathan, is in the South meeting with considerable success.

No young actor has ever entered upon a histrionic career more fitted for it in many ways than Albert Henderson. He is a magnificent physique—a perfect Adonis; large brown eyes that light up with all sorts of expressions; crisp black hair that curls naturally; finely chiseled lips; a face that is not only handsome, yet strong and fine in contour and line; the neck of an athlete of old Roman days; such is Salvino, son of a famous actor, who has just returned from the age of twenty, that young Salvino made his first American appearance, supporting Clara Morris in "Artistic." He next contracted with A. M. Palmer as leading man for the West, closing his season with a run in New York. Next season Mr. Salvino makes a tour of the world, playing in Italian, French and English, under Mr. Wilkinson's direction.

The New Orleans Picayune of November 16 says: Standing room only was the order of the night at the Barlow brothers and their troupe of minstrels received a royal welcome. The troupe has just made a most enviable reputation and is today one of the best before the public. The jokes are good and spicy, the songs clever and well sung, and the juggling and other features of high order. Messrs. William Barlow, Ed Thompson and Lou and Mr. A. J. Labroad made a hit in his vocal solo, "I Have Recalled Those Angry Words." Harry M. Harris, the best of the vocal quartet, by reducing a number of solos, duets, quartets and refrains. Archie Roller did a comic act and some wonderful two-foot high kicking, and Morris, Ed Thompson and Lou had a number of solos, duets, quartets and refrains. The troupe presented a number of musical selections from various instruments, wind and string. This act was one of the strongest features. Ferris, the free man, proved an all-around entertainer, and he is today one of the best of the floor and trapeze, and, like the rest of the show, caught both parquette and gallery. The show will be closed by one of the best ever seen in New Orleans. The troupe is expected to leave for New Orleans every night. It more than sustains the favorable press notices accorded it.

Conrod's opera company will appear at Greenwall's opera house Wednesday and Thursday nights. The Greenwall News, December 24, says the following:

The Conrod opera company, under the management of Mr. Walter J. Lamb, opened their Galveston engagement last night with "The Little Tycoon," a comedy opera success, "Poor Jonathan," to one of the most fashionable audiences of the season.

TRIANGULAR FIGHT. The Net Result is a Dead Negro and a Man Under Bond.

Special to the Gazette. THAKARRA, ARK., Nov. 28. - H. W. Watkins, a prominent negro of Miller county, Ark., was shot dead at this place today by Ed Butler, a leading planter on Red river.

The particulars surrounding the case are as follows: Watkins, who is also a farmer on Red river and a neighbor of Butler's, charged Butler with the theft of some of his cattle. James Huddleston, another neighbor, who was enlisted in the controversy, and upon making some statement in reference to the matter was given the lie by the negro. Huddleston, in consequence of his anger, was infuriated, and remained on the ground still infuriated in what went on. Soon the trio became involved in a general row, and in the melee three or four pistols were drawn with the result above stated. In a post-mortem examination Col. W. B. Weeks, foreman of the jury and an eye witness to the affair, brought in a verdict in accordance with these facts. Butler was released on bond, which was readily given.

DESIRES TO BEAR TESTIMONY. Henry Thorne, Traveling Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., writes from Exeter Hall, London, England, that he desires to bear testimony to the value of ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS. Special to the Gazette. ARSTIN, TEX., Nov. 28. - The African Methodist conference spent the fourth day of its session in hearing reports and transacting routine business. The report from the Paul Quinn college for colored youths of both sexes at Waco, was quite encouraging. Rev. Embrey of Philadelphia made a flattering report of the anti-lottery condition. He alluded to the embarrassed condition of the race, for which he saw a hopeless outlook except through divine interposition. The hostile legislation some states represent a state of war against the negroes, for which there can be no effectual resistance except through the providence of God, who has promised that the meek shall inherit the earth.

Rheumatism

Sciatica Neuralgia Cured by Dr. Jacobson's

Rev. Hofman of the German Methodist Episcopal church was introduced to the conference and uttered some fraternal sentiments. He is a student of the Bible in South America, Chili and Patagonia.
