

HEADLONG BUYING OF STOCKS. Speculators Went Wild Over Settlement of Conflicting Railroad Interests.

THE BULLISH ENTHUSIASM WAS UNCHECKED.

Market Took on All Characteristics of the Recent Boom Period and There Was No Exception to Its Strength—Northern Pacific Very Quiet.

New York, June 1.—The stock market made an extraordinary response today to the official announcement of the agreement arrived at by the conflicting interests in Northern Pacific. Speculation seemed to leap to the conclusion that the only impediment had been thereby removed to the return to the level of prices and the advancing tendency was interrupted by the devastating effects of the corner in Northern Pacific. There was headlong buying of stocks all through the day on a buoyantly rising scale.

All things were made fuel for bullish enthusiasm and any news which seemed to threaten values was ignored. The market took on all the characteristics of the recent "boom" period and after absorbing all offerings to take profits rose again in the final dealings to the highest of the day, where it closed. There was no exception to the strength of the market, but some of those stocks which have advanced slightly of late were very steady in the offerings to realize profits. This was notably true of some of the Southwestern and Southern railroads.

The early part was most sensational in Union Pacific and the United States Steel stocks and Atchafalaya. The first sale of United States Steel were 30,000 shares. The rise in Union Pacific, extended to 35 during the day. There was some rising in the middle of the session. The agreement was announced at 11:30. Union Pacific was a 1/2 point higher. Bank Island gained 1/4. There was still a considerable amount of dealing in Northern Pacific, as a steady transaction being recorded for fifteen minutes or so.

The details of the Northern Pacific agreement are not announced and rumors are numerous pointing to wide-reaching adjustments all through the railroad world. The whole Southwestern railway system, it was said, would come into one harmonious control and representation of the same organization. The Union Pacific, said the gossip, would detach the Southern Pacific for the benefit of a Pacific outlet for the South. Southern states and common stock with the Central Pacific.
