

living in Boston, where Crafts does business as a cabinet maker. We perceive by the Boston Atlas, of Saturday, that, under the fugitive act passed by the last Congress, a warrant has been issued for their arrest. The wife has left the city, but her husband remains, saying that he has fled far enough, and awaits the issue.

STRIKING EXAMPLE OF FIDELITY IN A SLAVE.—Our friend Mr. Bonner, of the firm of Bonner & Smith, related to us yesterday the history of a negro, who has lately returned from California, which forms one of the most interesting examples of fidelity and devotion of a servant to his master, that has ever come under our notice. About two years ago a gentleman from Mississippi went to California, taking with him his favorite slave, a stout man, by the name of Walter. On arriving in California, the Mississippi gentleman proceeded to the mines, where he was soon attacked by a severe and lingering disease, which prevented his pursuing his labor. In the mean time the negro, Walter, attended his master's sick bed, administered faithfully to all his wants, and devoted fractions of time to working in the mines, thus acquiring the means of procuring the necessities and comforts of life for his master. Finally the master died in a strange and dreary country, among careless, reckless and indifferent men, who would not turn aside with a very large remuneration, to aid the negro to commit the remains of his master to mother earth. By appropriating, however, all his accumulations to that object, he succeeded in giving his master a decent burial, and collecting all his papers and property together, deposited them in some safe place. He then proceeded with his labor of digging and washing for gold, and after a long period of hard, devoted labor, succeeded in accumulating more than a thousand dollars of gold dust. He then proceeded to the coast, took the steamer, arrived in the city a few days ago, and presented himself to Mr. Bonner at his counting room, with a letter from his deceased master and a bag of gold dust. The letter informed Mr. Bonner of the fidelity and devotion of Walter to his poor master, begged that he would protect his interest, and see that he was duly emancipated. Mr. Bonner gave the faithful negro a warm grasp of the hand, and told him that he would carry out his master's request, with the deepest interest and solicitude for the welfare and prosperity of so faithful a servant.—N. O. Delta.

PRESIDENT FILLMORE AND THE FUGITIVE SLAVE LAW.—The following incident is told in a letter from the Washington correspondent of Tuesday's Richmond Enquirer:—

"A distinguished gentleman from the West—an ex-Senator—called on Mr. Fillmore; and, after exchanging the usual courtesies, was asked by the President how the Fugitive Slave Law was received in the West. The reply was, that the law, although unpopular in his State, would doubtless be enforced. The remark was playfully made that, as the President was sworn to 'preserve, protect and defend the constitution and laws,' he (the ex-Senator) presumed Mr. Fillmore would execute this law. 'To the very letter, sir,' was the instant reply of the President 'to the very letter, sir, whatever may be the consequences.' The reply was worthy the palmiest days of 'Old Hickory' himself."

The Washington Union relates another incident in which it is stated that the President declared that he was determined to execute faithfully the fugitive slave law, and would appoint no man to office who might be called upon to assist in the administration of that law, who would not zealously co-operate in its execution.

On another occasion, we understand, from good authority, that the President declared that the law should be executed at every hazard—even at the risk of blood.—Baltimore Sun.

Jenny Lind's Generosity.—The Home Journal of last week relates the following story of Jenny Lind:

During her first visit here a swede called, and sent up a note in his native language, requesting to see her. She did not remember the name, as she read it, but when the young man came in she at once remembered his countenance—an old play fellow when they were children together at school. She inquired his circumstances. He is a cabinet maker, residing with his family at Brooklyn. The next day Jenny Lind drove over and made the wife of her old schoolfellow a long visit. The next day just before leaving the city for Boston, she went again. The husband was not at home. She gave to the wife a note for him—he opened it on his return—it contained a sweetly worded request that he would allow her to give to his children a memento of their father's school friendship with Jenny Lind. The "memento" was a check for ten thousand dollars.

A Precocious Couple.—One of the census takers for Greene co., Mr. McCoy, says the Xenia (Ohio) Torchlight, informs us of an instance of precocity that came under his observation in the eastern part of that county, which we venture to say is unparalleled in this latitude. The parties are a married couple, the husband 18, and the wife 16. They have been married about four years, and have two children—one of which is over three years of age, and the other over one! If a younger couple than they have commenced "adding to the glory and greatness of their country," we hope to hear of it.

Singular Circumstance.—An American gentleman now Paris, writing to this country, says, "I had the pleasure a short time since of shaking hands with an old American sailor, who had been taken from England to Paris, by a doctor, to be presented to the Academy of Medicine as a specimen of the most astonishing longevity. This seaman whose name is Wale, born in New York, on the 1st of October, 1750, was one of the companions of Capt Cook and followed him on board of the two ships Endeavor and Resolution, during the travels of the celebrated traveller to the Tahitian shores. Wale was present at the murder of Capt. Cook, at Owhitee, and escaped death as if by miracle."
