

Serious Fires in Constantinople.

A correspondent of the St. Louis Intelligencer, writing from Constantinople, under date of Aug. 11th, says: "Fire! fire! fire!" We hear but little else now in Constantinople but the cry of fire. It really seems sometimes as though this whole city must soon be reduced to ashes. To give you some faint idea of the amount of suffering from this evil, I will briefly recapitulate the doings of a single week. On Wednesday night a fire declared itself in the city proper, in a quarter called the "Fruit Bazaar." It continued burning for five hours steadily, having consumed at least three hundred and eighty-four stores and shops containing fruit, oil, tobacco, salt, &c. &c.—Some dwelling houses, also, were burned, and one guard house and one police office. During the same night ten houses were burnt at Yemi Keni, on the Bosphorus.

On Thursday afternoon a fire caught in Pera—the residence of the Europeans. It began in a painter's shop, and could not be subdued until it had consumed one hundred dwellings and one hundred and fifty stores and shops. One guard house was also destroyed, and the celebrated Dervish's establishment, which every travelled visitor to see the Dervish's whirl. The same night were two other destructive fires; one at Scutari, where twenty houses were reduced to smoke and ashes, and the other at Hass Keni, which continued for five hours, and consumed about four hundred houses and shops.

On Friday a single house (a large one) was burnt in the quarter called Sultan Mehmet.—Two other fires broke out on Saturday, in Galata, but were soon extinguished.

On Monday, Sultan Ahmed, one of the most beautiful quarters of the capital, was visited by a most destructive conflagration. Four hundred large Turkish houses—the residences of gentlemen of fortune—were consumed within a few hours. Two mosques also became a prey to the flames.

On Wednesday, to close up the week's work, the insatiable element seized hold of the Armenian quarter of Pasmatina, and did not cease its ravages until at least eighteen hundred houses were destroyed, and four thousand families, most of them miserably poor, were turned into the streets.

"What" you will ask, "is the meaning of all this?" I answer that the oldest inhabitants here say that this is the season for fires. All the largest and most devastating conflagrations that have ever been known in Constantinople have taken place in August and September.—The reason of this fact is, that the houses are the driest, and the winds are strongest. The least spark will kindle into a flame, and when once a fire breaks out, it is difficult to extinguish it.

There is no doubt that evil minded persons also avail themselves of these circumstances, and, for plunder, give themselves to incendiarism. Several, here, have lately been caught in the very act, and I hope will be punished as they deserve.

The Destruction of Pompeii not Instantaneous.

Pompeii was not completely buried by a single eruption. Eight successive layers have been traced above its ruins. In the intervals the inhabitants must have returned to secure their more valuable property. Sir William Gell mentions that a skeleton of a Pompeian was found, "who apparently for the sake of 60 coins, a small plate, and a saucupan of silver had remained in his house till the street was already half filled with volcanic matter." The position of the skeleton indicated that he had perished apparently in the act of escaping from his window. Other instances of like character are no less striking. The skeletons of Roman entries were found, in more than one instance, at their posts, furnishing a remarkable proof of the stern military discipline of Imperial Rome. The skeleton of a priest was found in one of the rooms of the Temple of Isis. Near his remains lay an axe, with which he had been trying to break through the door.

The Chinese in California.

A letter from San Francisco says:—"A number of Chinese mechanics and laborers are now engaged on Parrott's splendid building on the corner of California and Montgomery streets. They appear to be a very steady, sober and industrious set—apparently very shrewd, but sure. They calculate with great exactness and nicety, and turn out their work handsomely. They are at present building a queer kind of scaffold for the masons. It is made out of small poles and bamboos, which are fastened together by small withes. It is strong and substantial, and less liable to give way than those generally erected by our mechanics. The building on which they are engaged will, when completed, be the most magnificent structure in California. This structure is intended for Page, Bacon & Co's Banking House.

It is curious to see the Chinese work. Instead of hoisting by tackle the large blocks of granite, as with us in Eastern cities, they simply fasten ropes around the block, and having secured them to bamboo poles, eight big strap-ping China men take the block upon their shoulders, and march up the staging to the second story, and place it on the spot desired.

Many of these blocks weigh three hundred to five hundred pounds each. There is a perfect building mania existing here at present. First class fire proof buildings continue to go up like magic, all over the city. Bricks are now cheaper than lumber, and the high rents ruling induce multitudes to invest their surplus monies in stores—the surest investment to be made.

An insane Jew died at the Boston House of Industry last week, at 80 years of age. This, says the Traveller, is the first Jew that ever became a public charge in the city of Boston within the memory of one of our oldest city officials.

Official returns of Cambria county; next week.

A few years ago a stove was unknown in Turkey. Now they are found in a majority of the cafes in Constantinople, and in the dwelling houses of the rich. They are mostly either American models, many of them being manufactured by pupils of the seminary at Birbeck. They are now finding their way far into the interior. A short time since a letter was put into the hands of a missionary, for him to forward, which was addressed to "B—", at the coffee shop which has a stove, Sivas."

DUKE OF WELLINGTON'S SUCCESSOR.—The new Commander-in-Chief, successor to the Duke of Wellington, has been nominated, Lord Hardinge being the party selected. His age is 67. He was already a lieutenant-general, and enjoys a pension for wounds at Waterloo, and also a pension of $25,000 a year for the battles of the Sutlej, at which he commanded when he was Governor-General of India. Many years ago he was Secretary at War, (as Sir Henry Hardinge,) and subsequently he was chief secretary for Ireland.

POISONING.—Thousands of parents who use Vermifuge composed of Castor oil, Calomel, &c., are not aware, that while they appear to benefit the patient, they are actually laying the foundations for a series of diseases, such as salivation, loss of sight, weakness of limbs, &c.

In another column will be found the advertisement of Hobensack's Medicines, to which we ask the attention of all directly interested in their own as well as their Children's health. In Liver Complaints and all disorders arising from those of a bilious type, should make use of the only genuine medicine, Hobensack's Liver Pills.

Worm Syrup and Liver Pills, and observe that each has the signature of the Proprietor, J. N. Hobensack, as none else are genuine.

CULP'S PATENT CIDER MILL.

JAMES B. DUNLAP, Ebensburg, Cambria County, Pa.

HAS secured the right to manufacture the above machine for Cambria county, and will take pleasure in showing Farmers, and others, who may call at his Threshing Machine shop, in Ebensburg, the great qualities of this profitable and improved cider mill. Farmers have heretofore labored under great difficulty in making their Cider, but with the use of this Machine they will save time, labor, and expense, and make more Cider than by any other process. It is not only the best machine of the kind in existence, but it is the most profitable that a man can have on his farm. The following are some of the advantages of this machine: First—It makes more Cider than any other press, with a given quantity of apples, in a given time, and with much less labor and expense. Second—It makes cleaner and sweeter Cider than other machines. Third—You can make your Cider as you want it, and when you want it—and in quantities from one gallon to six or twenty barrels. Fourth—With it you can press your Currants, Cherries, Berries, Cheese, Butter, Lard and Tallow. Fifth—With it you can save ONE FOURTH of your time in making Apple Butter. Sixth—By its use you can at all times have FRESH and SWEET Cider. The price of the Cider Mill, with right to use the same on any farm, is $300. The size of this Machine is about 3 by 3 feet, and weight about 150 pounds. It may readily be taken to the cellar, door-yard, kitchen, barn-floor, or orchard, as may be most convenient. ONLY TRUE PORTRAIT OF WASHINGTON.

JUST PUBLISHED, T. B. WELCH'S MAGNIFICENT PORTRAIT OF WASHINGTON. Engraved (by permission) from Stuart's only original portrait, in the Athenaeum, Boston.

This superb picture, Engraved under the superintendence of Thomas Sully, Esq., the eminent and highly gifted artist, is the only correct likeness of Washington ever published. It has been characterized as the greatest work of art ever produced in this country. As to its fidelity, we refer to the letters of the adopted son of Washington, George Washington Park Custis, who says, "it is a faithful representation of the celebrated original," and to Chief Justice Taney of the Supreme Court of the United States, who says, "As a work of art its excellence and beauty must strike every one who sees it; and it is no less happy in its likeness to the Father of his country. It was my good fortune to have seen him in the days of my boyhood, and his whole appearance is yet strongly impressed on my memory. The portrait you have issued appears to me to be an exact likeness, representing perfectly the expression as well as the form and features of the face." And says Senator Cass, "It is a life-like representation of the great original. President Fillmore says, 'the work appears to me to have been admirably executed and eminently worthy of the patronage of the public.'" Says Marchant the eminent portrait painter, and the pupil of Stuart, "your print to my mind is more remarkable than any other I have seen, for presenting the whole individuality of the original portrait, together with the noble and dignified repose of air and manner, which all who ever saw him considered a marked characteristic of the illustrious man it commemorates."

For the great merits of this picture we would refer every lover of Washington to the portrait itself, to be seen at the office of this paper, and to the letters of the following Artists, Statesmen, Jurists and Scholars accompanying it.

ARTISTS.—Marchant and Elliott, of New York; Sengle, Rothermel, and Lambdin, of Philadelphia; Chester Harding, of Boston; Charles Fraser, of Charleston, S. C.; and to the adopted son of Washington, Hon. Geo. W. P. Custis, himself an artist. Statesmen.—His Excellency Millard Fillmore, Major Gen. Winfield Scott, Hon. George M. Dallas, Hon. William R. King, Hon. Daniel Webster, Hon. Linna Boyd, Hon. Lewis Cass, Hon. Wm. A. Graham, Hon. John P. Kennedy, Hon. R. C. Winthrop, LL. D. Jurists.—Hon. Roger B. Taney, Hon. John Duer, Hon. John McLean, Hon. Rufus Choate. Scholars.—Charles Folsom, Esq., the well known Librarian of the Boston Athenaeum, who says, "I would rather own it than any painted copy I have ever seen;" E. P. Whipple, Richard Hildreth, Hon. Edward Everett, LL. D. Jared Sparks, LL. D. William H. Prescott, LL. D. Washington Irving, Ralph Emerson, Esq., H. H. Hall, H. W. Longfellow, Wm. Gillmore Simms, & from Europe, Lord Talford, T. B. Macaulay, Sir Archibald Alison, Lord Mayor of London, &c. &c. &c. The Press, throughout the entire Union, have with one voice proclaimed the merits of this superb engraving. To enable all to possess this valuable treasure, it is sold at the price of $5 per copy.
