LARGE AUDIENCE MET NEW PASTOR

Rev. George E. Tomkinson Conducts First Service in Baptist Church—Evening Schedule Resumed.

A large number greeted Rev. George E. Tomkinson at the covenant meeting of the First Baptist church last evening, this being his first public service as pastor of the church. Rev. Mr. Tomkinson read the 13th chapter of I Corinthians and spoke briefly upon the topic, Love. A very profitable hour was spent and a very earnest purpose manifested by all.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS.

Fundamental Causes Generally Are Speed and Carelessness.

The fundamental causes of nearly all serious automobile accidents are two—speed and carelessness. If such mishaps as had other causes were eliminated there would be few catastrophes for the the newspapers to chronicle. The automobile owner has great responsibility, for himself, if he is driving, or for his chauffeur. Failure to guard against collisions at grade crossings, cutting across corners on the wrong side of the road, passing other vehicles with too scant a margin and many other simple but often fatal faults of operation can be absolutely prevented by care. The question of what a safe speed is can be answered less definitely, for a good many elements enter into it, as for example, the character of the road, whether curving or straight, hills or level, rough or smooth. What would be a safe speed on a level, straight road for a machine skilfully driven and equipped with new firm tires, might be exceedingly dangerous under other circumstances. And yet all automobilists know that many drivers traverse dangerous roads at a speed that threatens the safety of themselves and others, and the only cause for marvel is that fatal accidents are not more common. The whole body of automobilists have a duty to perform in discouraging this practice, and it is in their power to make the offenders feel that they are doing something disgraceful. —Springfield Republican.

CROWD AT CAMP MEETING.

Attendance Last Day at Claremont Junction Not Far from 1,500.

The Claremont Junction union camp meeting and church conference, which closed Sunday, was the most successful in the 41 years' history of the meetings. On the closing day there was an attendance of not far from 1,500, the largest in 20 years. The meetings were in charge of Rev. E. W. Sharp of this town and Rev. R. T. Wolcott, district superintendent, and the program was carried out as planned, except that Bishop Hamilton was not present, being detained by the illness of his wife. Rev. T. W. Owens of this town was the leader of the singing. Some money was raised for building a new preachers' stand and to make improvements in the cottages. Several from this town were in attendance during the meetings.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

PET SAVED GRUBER'S LIFE.

Intelligent Elephant Prevented Weak Stage from Breaking Through.

"Last season in Louisville this three-ton pet of mine saved my life," said Capt. Gruber, whose performing animals are a feature of the fair scene in the Aborn Comic Opera company's summer revival of "The Chimes of Normandy." As he spoke he patted the ponderous trunk of "Minnie," the trick elephant.

"How did she avert a catastrophe," he was asked.

"Well, the stage broke through. I was lying on the stage with 'Minnie' over me. The body of the elephant was pressing on me, not heavily, you understand, but in such a way that I could not get out. Besides, her trunk was wrapped tightly around my wrist. I called for help, but the stage hands thought I was joking. They did not realize my danger, until the elephant's foot had sunk through the planking. I began to worry as it looked like a fall of twenty feet with the elephant on top of me.

"Then suddenly Minnie pulled me from under her and spread her massive bulk over as much space as possible. Much of her weight was thrown forward on her trunk. She did not go well with panic, but calmly held her position until strong planks could be utilized to prop her up. It was the narrowest escape she ever had, but she has more than broken through stages."

"What would be your loss if she were killed?"

"That would be a hard question to answer. Money couldn't buy her. But as a matter of fact she is insured in a London company for $15,000. In these days, we take every precaution to prevent accidents."

"Do you ever have any trouble with Minnie?"

"Not real trouble, but it is a fact that she is as mischievous as a bad boy. Only last Sunday she turned on the water faucet and came very near flooding the stage. She is always nosing into everything. A few days ago she got into the carpenter's tool chest and scattered its contents all over the stage."

Fine Feathers Tonight.

What is considered the most sensational dramatic success of the decade—Fine Feathers—will be seen at the Auditorium this afternoon and tonight. H. H. Frazee, who produced Fine Feathers in New York and Chicago last season, and under whose direction the play will be seen here, considers it the most important production of his entire career as a theatrical producer. According to the patronage which the play enjoyed during its first year, it must needs have that great human appeal which unfortunately is inspired only on rare occasions. Fine Feathers reflects the condition of the nation; its story develops what may be found in one's neighbor's home or possibly in one's own home. That it is a vivid expose of the truth may be understood by a mere recital of the promise of a young couple to maintain a home on $25 per week and withstand the opportunity to gain luxury by accepting a proposition in which graft is the predominating note.

Thomas A. Edison's latest invention, the kinetophone, or talking pictures, has taken its place among the high-class theatrical attractions now touring the country. A programme of 12 excellent subjects, combining musical and dramatic subjects, comedy, vaudeville and minstrel bits, and special features in which prominent statesmen and noted suffragettes are seen and heard, has been arranged for presentation in the first-class theaters.

Several companies have been organized by Mr. Edison, each equipped with its force of operators and necessary mechanical accessories of machines, etc., and having its advance agent and business manager. These companies are competing successfully with the largest dramatic and musical organizations for a volume of business.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

THE best things are nearest. Then do not grasp at the stars, but do life's plain, common work as it comes, certain that daily duties and daily bread are the sweetest things of life.

DISHES FOR TEA.

For the supper, or evening meal, a nice dish of cottage cheese is well liked, if nicely prepared. Two or three quarts of thick, sour milk will make a sufficient quantity for an ordinary family. Pour boiling water into the milk, stirring until the curds form. Do not let stand too long or it becomes tough. Drain in a sieve and season with cream, softened butter and salt. For those who like the flavor, a few chives cut fine are a good addition.

Blueberry Tea Cake.—This hot cake is especially good for tea. The cake may be baked in muffin pans, and by many is preferred in this form. Cream two tablespoonsful of butter, add a cup of sugar, a beaten egg, three-fourths of a cup of milk, two and a half cups of flour sifted with two and a half teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a half teaspoonful of salt. At the last add a cup of blueberries.

Baked Peaches.—Scald the fruit and remove the skin. Place a layer of peaches in a pan and sprinkle generously with sugar; pour half a cup of water over them. Bake until tender and slightly brown, and serve with cream.

Georgia Broiled Ham.—Three hours before the meal, lay the ham in the following mixture: For two slices of ham, use two quarts of water, two tablespoonfuls of molasses, pepper, parsley and bits of butter. Let stand until ready to broil, then drain and broil.

Sally Lunn.—Sift together two cupfuls of flour and a teaspoonful of salt. Beat an egg until light, add a half cup of warm milk, a half of a yeast cake dissolved in half a cup of water, a tablespoonful of each of lard and butter and half a tablespoonful of sugar. Pour this on to the flour and beat well, then set to rise in a warm place. It will take about four hours. At the end of that time beat well again and pour into a well-buttered pan; let rise an hour, then bake a half hour in a moderate oven.

Sally Lunn with warm maple syrup is most delicious for an evening tea.

Nellie Maxwell.

In the United States where the kinetophone has already been seen during engagements varying from three days to as many months, the recognized dramatic critics have been unanimous in declaring it an unqualified success. The coming engagement of the Edison talking pictures at the Auditorium for Monday and Tuesday will be the first appearance of this new Edison marvel here. Two complete performances will be given each day, a matinee and evening entertainment.
