NOTICE To Dairywomen and Farmers.

The Spring and the Autumn mark the periods during which so many premature Parturitions occur amongst your herds. Abortion, contagion and non-contagious, makes sad ravages with expected increase. Now is the time to act and save money.

The attention of many intelligent observers, including the eminent members of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the State Board of Agriculture has long been directed to the consideration of this evil. Aided by their reported investigations and experiments, we have compounded a remedy which will prove an efficient one in 75 per cent of the cases of threatened abortion of cattle. We have named it Bovine Benefactor, and its name is merit. Any information desired regarding this or other diseases of stock will be cheerfully answered by our skilled Veterinary Physician and Surgeon, Dr. I. W. PARKS, of Ontario Veterinary College. Address: PARKS MEDICAL CO., Montpelier, Vt.

WE ARE BOUND FOR NELSON DOWNING'S LIVERY, FEED AND SALE SABLE At E. J. Gale's Old Stand, Opposite Depots, BARRE, VERMONT. Stable refitted throughout, most central location in the city. TOWN REPORTS

Order From the Watchman Office.

The pages of the TOWN REPORTS printed by the WATCHMAN COMPANY are longer and wider, the type is smaller, and a page contains more items than the page set in coarse type, narrow measure, and padded out to increase the count.

The WATCHMAN REPORTS are accurately printed, the work is well done, they are out on time and the cost to towns is no greater than for small page, cheaply printed reports. The smaller the pages the more of them, and the greater the cost, even at a cut price per page.

Send your order to the Watchman office, AND ORDER EARLY.

In this world of change, periodicals may come or may go, but the Literary World of Boston goes on with its excellent work, making its appearance fortnightly. Its readers appreciate the fine work it does in its discriminating reviews of current literature, its notices of best books and periodicals, which it is of interest for the average reader as well as the professional, to know about. E. H. Hames & Co., of Boston are the publishers. Terms, two dollars a year, ten cents per copy. Send for specimen copies.

There is no better medicine for the habits than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mother and small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia and other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucus, making easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences. For sale by C. Blakely and W. E. Terrill & Co.

Remember that name when you want a delicious, appetizing, nourishing food drink to take the place of coffee. Sold by all grocers and liked by all who have used it. It is made of pure grains and aids digestion and strengthens the nerves. It is not a stimulant but a health builder and the children as well as the adults can drink it with great benefit. It is made as strong as coffee. 15c and 25c per package. Ask your grocer for Grain-O.

STRIKE EXPECTED.

But little has been heard of late among granite manufacturers and granite cutters except the expected strike of the cutters on Thursday, March 1. The present bill of prices will expire Wednesday night and no satisfactory new bill has been fixed. It is perhaps generally known that in December a half year ago, the Granite Cutters' National Union amended its constitution, making a demand for $5 and eight hours to begin March 1, 1900. This demand has been made by all the branches of the national union in New England, the Barre branch notifying the Barre Granite Manufacturers' Association in December that when the present bill of prices under which the men are working expired they should require $5 a day and an eight-hour work day.

From the start the granite cutters were willing to concede the eight-hour day, but have steadily resisted paying $5 for so short a day. They finally offered thirty-three cents per hour, but this the cutters voted down.

Under the present bill of prices the men receive thirty cents per hour, for a nine-hour day.

The manufacturers of Barre were in session Monday evening until after midnight. Before adjourning they unanimously adopted the following resolution: "Resolved, That the Association favor the concession of the Granite Cutters' National Union of Barre the sum of thirty-four cents per hour as an average rate of wages and conceding them the eight-hour day for six days in the week we have offered them all that we possibly can and all that the condition of business will warrant at this time and we hereby pledge ourselves to stand by said proposition."

There is now no prospect of averting a strike Thursday morning, the only question being how long will it last? Barre has about 1,500 cutters, and Montpelier about 300, and a prolonged strike would be seriously felt in both cities. No hard feelings exist between the manufacturers and the cutters, and neither desires a lock-out. It is devoutly hoped the trouble will be adjusted within a few days.

MONTPELIER AND VICINITY.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Miss Gertrude Melnocke went to New York Monday to remain two or three weeks. Mr. Charles McKenna has returned from Burlington where she has been settling the estate of her mother.

Miss Florence Hill, stenographer for Dillingham, Hove & Howland, is confined to her home by illness.

A. D. Farwell, Hon. W. P. Dillingham and H. M. Cutler left Monday evening for a business trip to New York city.

C. H. Deming is in Boston to purchase a new boiler for the Jacobsen greenhouse to replace the one ruined by the flood.

The Barre young ladies' missionary society "Father Lights" will meet next Friday evening with Miss Martha Woodward.

The Garnet Seal Circle will meet next Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the lecture room of the Kellogg-Hubbard library.

Lenten services will be held at Christ church this week as follows: Ash Wednesday at 10:30 A. M., and 7:30 P. M. On Friday the same.

Rev. Joshua Gill, presiding elder of the Evangelical church for this district, will preach at No. 50 State street Wednesday, afternoon and evening.

Harvey W. Barnham, janitor of the National Life building has been confined to his bed for several days, the result of overwork during the flood.

Carroll Slattery went to North Troy today, where he has employment at his trade of printer in the job department connected with the Pollack office.

Rev. Joshua Gill, presiding elder of the Evangelical church for this district will preach at No. 50 State street Wednesday afternoon and evening, February 28.

Mason S. Stone, State superintendent of education, left Saturday for Chicago, to attend a meeting of the National Association of State Superintendents.

L. E. Brooks and T. J. K. Heber have been in the city for some time to serve at the term of United States court which convenes in Burlington on Tuesday.

Patrick Slattery is dangerously ill with pneumonia at the Jewett house. His relatives have been summoned to his bedside and no hope is entertained of his recovery.

Henry Libben, now of Pittsburg, N. Y., was a visitor in the city over Sunday. He plans to resume his old position as clerk at the Union House in this city about the first of April.

Will Gabree's condition has grown so serious that a surgical operation has been advised by his physician. It is expected he will enter Mary Fletcher hospital at Burlington this week.

Several from Montpelier attended the union service in Barre opera house Sunday evening, when Judge L. H. Thompson spoke on "The State, and the Enemy Within Her Gates."

The funeral of Frank Martin, who was accidentally killed on Saturday, was held from the home of his parents at Pioneer village two o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Rev. C. O. Jenkins officiating. Burial was made in Green Mount cemetery.

The remains of Berton W. Bowers arrived here Friday evening from Los Angeles, Cal. The funeral was held from the home of Mrs. B. Bowers, father of the deceased, at two o'clock Sunday afternoon, Rev. A. N. Lewis officiating. Burial was in Green Mount Cemetery.

A. C. Spiro, the furrier, left Saturday morning for New York to look up the market and purchase his stock for next season. He will be away for some ten days or two weeks. A. D. Farwell will attend to all orders in his absence.

Lucy McClintock, mother of the late E. M. Irish, died Sunday night at Morrisville, aged about eighty years. Funeral services will be held at Morrisville Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. The body will be placed in the tomb there, and later will be taken to Hinesburg for burial.

George M. Carpenter, who for a few weeks has been ill at his home in Boston, has returned to the city to resume work on his invention at the Montpelier and Wells River railroad's car shops. The invention is an attachment for the consumption of the smoke and cinders made by locomotives.

Some fourteen tables were occupied by players at the "blue key" whist party given in Grand Army hall Friday evening. Each player was the recipient of a souvenir. Charles Harran and Mrs. S. W. Benjamin were absent from the occasion. All money was cordially invited. No fees, dues or collections.

The funeral of little Frank Martin was held Tuesday afternoon from the home of his parents at Pioneer village. Rev. C. O. Jenkins officiating. One of the most touching incidents of this service was the presence of a delegation of his classmates from the Union school, from Montpelier, who were selected to read the burial was in Green Mount cemetery.

Mrs. W. E. Terrill, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, will in the future hold the sessions of her young ladies' class in physical culture in the parlors at the association. The class of adult ladies is soon to be formed. The system taught by Mrs. Terrill is the Emerson system, as taught in the Emerson School of Physical Culture, Boston.

The Republican State committee will meet at the Pavilion on Thursday evening, March 8, to fix the time and place for holding the State conventions. It is generally understood that the convention for nominating a Governor, and State ticket, and presidential electors, will be held at Burlington, and the convention to elect delegates to the National convention will meet at Montpelier.

J. E. St. Clair left Tuesday for Laconia, N. H., to visit his mother. He will go from there to Boston to continue his musical studies. During his brief stay in Montpelier Mr. St. Clair has made many friends who regret his departure. His mastery of the clarinet playing has given an added pleasure to many a social gathering since he has been here, and his return will always be gladly welcomed.

The time-worn controversy in regard to the George Willcutt road has been revived by T. R. Gordon filing in county court an appeal against the city council laying a road from the Willcutt road to North street.

The joke of the matter is that the appeal is useless as the council has not ordered the road laid nor even recorded a survey of it, so there is no case in existence from which an appeal can be taken.

Harvey W. Barnham, with James A. Hearne in the title role of "Captain Marlowe," packed the Park theatre in Boston for five months of the fall and early winter. This great play, the identical cast, and scenery of his Boston engagement will be seen at Barre opera house, Monday evening, March 5. Sale of seats will open at the Red Cross pharmacy, Barre, on Thursday evening, March 2. Special electric service will be ways between Barre and Montpelier will be provided.

Harry M. Graves of Montpelier Transcript fame has now a lucrative position with an advertising agency of New York city, having charge of the pharmaceutical matter handled by the agency. When he hurried to the Transcript here he went to Williams Mass., where he was employed in a drugstore for a time. He now resides in Boston and his business friends will be pleased to learn that he is reputed as now receiving the largest income of $2,700 a year as a writer of advertising.

Dick Gilley got on the rampage Monday evening near the Union House bridge and Officers Wood and Brown, after engaging in the usual pistol Gilley gives the officers when he is arrested, loaded him in jail. Officer Brown is nursing an injured thumb which he received during the melee. Gilley's chief charge was the strategic weapon in the fight, and one which most men have no desire to test after having had one experience with it. There is a popular sentiment in favor of punishing Gilley in a more severe way than imposing a fine.

Howard Kelleher, sixteen years of age, died at nine o'clock Monday evening from the effects of the spasms from which he had suffered throughout the day. He was the third son of Mr. Michael Kelleher. During his earlier years he had not been in good health, yet in the past few years he had appeared to be increasing in stature and strength, and his sudden demise has been a sad shock to his family. The funeral will be held from St. Augustine's church Thursday morning. Burial will be in the Catholic cemetery.

Judge H. H. Wheeler stopped at Montpelier an hour and a half Monday afternoon and held a session of United States Court for naturalization purposes. The mail train carries the court and is ready to be examined and take the oath. Some twenty from Montpelier were also shut out by cause of the limited time court was in session.

In a session of J. H. Senter, attorney, E. M. Giddard, W. N. Theriault, E. M. Harvey and H. C. Shurtleff of this city, and Frank Williams and M. M. Gordon of Burlington, were held in practice in the State district and circuit courts and the oath of office was administered to them.

A man named Hattie, while attempting to cross on the ice from the ward six side of the Woodstock to the landing place at Mrs. Mary Connelly's about two o'clock this morning, had a narrow escape from drowning. He was returning from a social dance held at Pioneer village and started out across the river as a short cut for home. When about half way across he broke through, and plunged into the icy waters and could not again gain a foothold. His friends, who had gathered in the neighborhood, James Hughes, with a lantern, rushed to the rescue of the man and succeeded in getting him ashore.

Saturday afternoon the case of Boerlein & Knynn Company of New York against Dr. L. E. Fletcher for De Wolfe, Fletcher & Co. Justice T. J. Davitt, F. L. Laird appeared for the plaintiff and T. R. Gordon for the defendant. The suit was brought to recover on a book account for medicine furnished Dr. Fiske to the amount of $70.15. Judgment for the plaintiff for that amount and $8.01 costs was rendered. The plaintiff asked as attorney for Dr. Fiske, Mr. W. Wheelock, furnishing bail in the sum of $100. Dr. Fiske trusted Warren Ellis of Worcester for the amount named in the foregoing case. Mr. Ellis, through T. R. Gordon, his attorney, appealed his case also to county court.

Deputy Sheriff J. L. Tuttle Monday attached the stock of goods in the book-store of G. R. Elie on writs issued by F. L. Laird, clerk of county court, in the case of Company of Boston and the Arms Manufacturing Company of Springfield, Mass. The total amount of the two claims is $1,100. Tuttle and V. H. Slattery have been in charge of the store during the day. It is said that Mr. Elie hopes to be able to settle the matter within a short time. At the clerk's office there are two writs of attachment on file against Mr. Elie which are pending adjustment and are in favor of the following: Frost & Adams Co., Boston, $300; Granite Lumber and Exporting Co., Boston, $50; Green, M. Seaman, Melrose, Mass., $50; Odell Company, Boston, $50; Samuel Ward Co., Boston, $50. Another writ attorney stated that he held claims against the firm amounting to some $300 in all.

One of the saddest of accidents occurred in a woodlot in Berlin on Saturday when Frank, the thirteen-year-old son of Danforth March, who resides in the Pioneer village, met with a sudden and shocking death. The young lad accompanied Homer, his elder brother, to the woodlot for the purpose of drawing a load home. After arriving the work of loading the team was begun, when it was found that some of the sticks of wood were frozen together. Homer took his axe to separate them. When the axe struck the wood it struck the force of the blow wrenched the handle from his hands and the blade struck Frank, who was near by, in the throat, severing the jugular vein. He died almost instantly. The lifeless body was conveyed to the father's home. The family is prostrated by the little fellow's sad death. The brother's grief is unfeignable, as he was more closely allied with the horror of the accident, although he is entirely blameless in the matter. The family has the sincere sympathy of the community.

While the Central Vermont passenger train was en route for Barre at 6:20 o'clock on Monday, the engine jumped the rails at the Pioneer village and the line was blocked until 8:40 when the work of getting the engine back on the rails was completed. The engine was running at full speed. When the forward trucks and drivers were thrown from the rails by running on the ties which underlaid the rails, which acted as a frog. For a moment it looked as though the engine would plunge down the embankment into the river, but Engineer W. H. Best kept his head and succeeded in bringing his train to a dead stop without suffering any damage outside of the inconvenience of a delay after running on the ties a distance of several car lengths. Although the train was a half hour over time in missing the 10:15 train from White River Junction, yet it arrived at Montpelier Junction some minutes ahead of the usual time train, as that had also been delayed.

Every body who has ever lived in Montpelier of Washington county takes the WATCHMAN. J. Warren Lamb, a hardware dealer in Coopers town, N. Y., adds to a business communication this reminiscence: "I am interested in Montpelier as a 'fresh-cut town. Located in Montpelier in 1862, where Barrows & Peck now are, I had some fun and much trouble during the big freshet of October of that year. I remember leaving my store at 3:30 P. M. and walking down Main street against a current that nearly took me down. Later in the day the water came into the store to the depth of about thirty inches on the main floor. The current in the street was strong enough to hold two rowers well at bay. A large kettle standing on the front platform floated away to a catch-all farther down the street where it was found with wagon loads of door steps and other floatables. Not very much damage resulted from that freshet, but the recent one seems to have been a serious one. I can not remember a freshet in Montpelier still, especially in some old friends made many years ago.

A CARD.—We, the undersigned, do here, by agree to refund the money on a 50 cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25 cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

FIRE IN BURLINGTON

Shortly after midnight of Friday fire was discovered in the building at the corner of College and St. Paul streets, Burlington, occupied by the Daily News. It is supposed that the fire started either in the basement or in the room where the type is set in the rear of the business office of the News. The chemical engine was used until water could be put on. The building and its contents were drenched. There were about two feet of water in the basement and the News presses are located. The interior is considerably burned.

The building was occupied by the News Publishing company and the A. Wiswell Investment company on the first floor. The basement is occupied by the Daily News as a press room. On the second floor are the offices of Mason & Company, Judge Tilden, W. Wales and R. W. Taft. The greatest damage to these is by water and to the valuable law libraries.

All the occupants of the building were more or less protected by insurance.
