Cut Price Men's Suits Nine Sixty-Nine.
Cut Price Men's Overcoats Nine Sixty-Nine.

Seven-thirty seven Men's Suits is the talk this week. Take the first big Suit Special in the nick of time, when patterns and sizes are yet in proper shape. These very suits sold for five, six and some even seven dollars more than is now charged for them, but go they must, and the first callers get the pick and choice. Bear in mind that some of these special Seven Thirty-seven Suits actually represent more intrinsic worth in the material alone, to say nothing about their being tailored in the Burk Tailor Shops by the firm's own first-class tailors, and are guaranteed to be made up in far better manner than any ready-to-wear Clothing on the market for the Seven Thirty-seven, and will fit perfectly in every respect. Seven Thirty-seven will actually do nearly double duty in the purchasing power of Men's Suits this week, and the man that is seeking big bargain value will surely want to make an investigation of the character of the material, specimens of tailoring and shapeliness of garments that are included in this gigantic sale of Men's Suits at Seven Thirty-seven.

Here are Men's Overcoats that just a short time back would have called for an extra outlay of not less than a V and in some instances even much more—here are form fitting dress Overcoats in short—medium—and full lengths—made with both tight and loose fitting backs—plain and velvet collars—French faced and otherwise built with every up-to-date improvement and forced down way below the down-to-date scale of prices—here are Overcoats made in every weight of cloth, in various colors and shades, embodying all sizes from 34 to 42, both inclusive—storm lengths to 54 inches—regular storm defiers, made with deep wide collars, vertical pockets and extra weight lining throughout—regular length to 42 inches just below the knee bend—and box lengths ranging from 34 to 38 inches in accord with height.

There is Clothing made to WEAR and there is Clothing made to SELL—deduct from this what you may. There is Clothing that is GOOD, but not CHEAP—there is Clothing that is cheap but not GOOD—here is Clothing that is both GOOD and CHEAP; Clothing made to WEAR, and wear WELL—hence such Clothing MUST sell and SELL well. Here they are and here they go—broken sets of sizes, remnants, odds, bunched together—cullings from higher grades of ready-to-wear Suits from this mammoth stock. Here goes choice Cassimeres, Cheviots, Tweeds, Worsteds, Diagonals and other dependable Suitings, made up in the Burk Tailor Shops, under their own personal management and supervision, directly for their own exclusive sale—accurately cut to fit—with shears in hand—by expert custom cutters—from thoroughly shrunken cloths—linings and interlinings—tailored right on the premises by their own first-class skilled workpeople—correct in FASHION, fit and general make-up, and rival measure-made garments from any and every point of view, except in price. Here are Suits that no man can afford to pass by that has half an eye to money saving, and the sooner he calls the better he'll fare, as there will positively be heavy business transacted in these grades, when such Suits as these, representing so much genuine tailoring are placed on clothing counters and thrown open to the public for pick and choice at a rate of thirty-one cents less than a ten dollar bill. Come along, gentlemen, the bars have been let down. Stock Relief Cut Rate Unloading Sale time is now—the goods must be converted into cash and that AT ONCE. Your pick and choice of a wide range of Suits, not a single one overdrawn or misrepresented—selected and set aside on separate tables—assorted, stacked and sized to make selections easy—Come along, NINE SIXTY-NINE CHOICE.

Style, tone and finish are important factors in the selection of an overcoat—here are fashionable men's overcoats made up in the very top notch of tailoring art—from Coverts—Beavers—Meltons—Cheviots—Worsteds—in every desirable color—shade—height and length—full box backs—form conforming backs—Italian—Serge—Satin and other proper, durable and slightly linings and sleeve linings—full lined—half lined and unlined—French facings—inverted pipe seams—light, medium and heavy weights—here are nobby Overcoats with smart expressions for young men whose tastes follow the fashion—here are staple Overcoats for middle-aged and older men of subdued tastes and conservative views of dress—here are Overcoats that cover the range of ideas of the multitudes—QUALITY, FINISH and VALUE—just such garments that will surprise and please and meet with general approbation the requirements of the most exacting—THEY'RE GOING TO BE SOLD—QUICK—there will be no time to DILLY-DALLY—DELAY or POSTPONE—this great unloading sale must serve a double mission—first and most important to realize THE CASH on the SURPLUS stock—next to facilitate a series of INTERIOR IMPROVEMENTS and CHANGES for the coming season, now under progress for some days—The sale is GENUINE, HONEST IN PURPOSE, JUST in form, and STRAIGHTFORWARD in method—The LOTS in the most instances are small, the assortment in its entirety embodies every size from 34 to 42, both inclusive, but irregular scales at best—hence the extraordinary reduction in price—Nine Dollars and Sixty-Nine Cents Cash—takes the pick and choice of any Overcoat in the entire lot—there is positively not an Overcoat in the whole shooting match but what will give the fullest measure of satisfaction—representing as they do extraordinary bargain worth in MATERIAL—TAILORING—STYLE—TONE—MAKE AND FINISH—PICK AND CHOICE—NINE SIXTY-NINE.

The lots are numerous—patterns varied—all sizes in total, but not all sizes of all patterns. Every desirable shape is represented, and the substance of the matter simply boils itself down to the fact that the best patterns go first, and it's just a question as to who'll get the first whack, for as sure as you're living these Seven Thirty-Seven specials are going to move quickly, as such good Suits, made up in such good manner, embodying so much genuine merit, worth, wear and sightliness will never go begging for buyers at such a big bargain price as Seven Thirty-seven.

Let it be thoroughly understood that this great Seven Thirty-seven Special Sale is made up from entirely legitimate, honest merchandise—free from any catch-penny motive—the goods are assorted and classified into stacks—independently—on separate counters—the sale is conducted open and above board—no one will be importuned to buy. If goods meet with satisfactory approval, Seven Thirty-Seven cash does the work—if otherwise, there's surely no harm done—it pays to look.
