O'BRIEN V. HARRIS. Supreme Court of Georgia, November 17, 1898.

EQUITY WILL NOT ENJOIN ANY ONE FROM THE COMMISSION OF A CRIME, WHEN IT DOES NOT APPEAR THAT THE ACT COMPLAINED OF AFFECTS ANY PROPERTY RIGHTS OF THE PARTIES ASKING FOR THE INJUNCTION.

The facts of the case sufficiently appear from the opinion of the Court. The Court says: This was a suit by individuals to enjoin the violation of a penal statute.

The petition itself does not disclose any particular injury to the property of the complainants resulting from such violation. The only allegation on this point is that some of the petitioners own real estate near the town in which the sale of liquors is being had.

THE CONFEDERATE MONUMENT

Corner Stone Laid With Impressive Ceremonies.

WITNESSED BY THOUSANDS

St. John's Lodge of Masons Conducted the Exercises in the Presence of Confederate Veterans, Daughters of the Confederacy, Hundreds of Masons, and a Vast Throng of Men Women and Children.

Under the most favorable weather conditions the corner-stone of the Confederate monument was laid, at 1 o'clock yesterday, on Commercial Place.

The sun shone out brightly during the forenoon, an hour or more before the arrival of the Masons and Veterans, people began to assemble from all parts of the city, Portsmouth and Berkeley.

They occupied the windows doors of adjacent buildings and many boys and young men looked down on the ceremonies from the roofs of three and four-story business houses in the vicinity.

At an early hour a platform was erected over the foundation of the monument. The structure was about four feet above the ground, and was large enough to comfortably hold one hundred persons.

On this platform were seated the Daughters of the Confederacy, the Monument Committee, the choir and the representatives of Norfolk Lodge, A. F. and A. M., who laid the stone.

Business was practically suspended about Commercial Place during the ceremonies which were witnessed by four or five thousand people. It was a good natured, respectful crowd, who were content to furnish an audience for the important occasion, though they could not hear anything that was said.

The police service was excellent, and the grand officers, under Captain W. J. Vellum, preserved the very best of order. There was very little for them to do other than look out for women and children, who were liable to be crushed or trampled upon by the vast throng which closed in around the platform.

The small boy, as usual, was in evidence, and it required the most persistent efforts to keep them from crowding in on the space reserved for the Masonic fraternity.

THE PROCESSION. The Confederate Veterans of Pickett-Buchanan Camp, of Norfolk; Stonewall Camp, of Portsmouth, and Nemevyr Shaw Camp, of Berkeley, marched from the headquarters of Pickett-Buchanan Camp to the Masonic Temple, to act as an escort for the Masons. At 12 o'clock the procession started from the Temple to the monument site in the following order: Drum and bugle corps, Confederate veterans, Grice Commandery, Knights Templar; Masonic lodges of Norfolk, Portsmouth and Berkeley; Major A. Myers, chief marshal, with Mr. W. A. Edwards as aid. From the Temple the route was along Freeman street, to Granby, down Granby to Main, up Main to Commercial Place.

THE CEREMONY. To those who were near enough to the platform to hear the words, the exercises were of a very interesting character. Prayer was offered by Rev. W. J. Young, of Epworth M. E. Church, and the ceremonies took place as reported in the Virginian-Pilot of yesterday.

The choir was composed of the following well known singers, directed by Prof. Koerner: Mesdames L. B. Pattle, W. T. Dey, C. W. Fentress, H. S. Bailey, G. W. W. Bethel, W. R. Butcher and Misses Lucille Ramsay, Louise Cowles and Leticia Williams. Messrs. J. L. Jenkins, J. W. Thayer, E. B. Marvin, C. J. Dey, W. P. Lumley, R. C. Tupman, H. S. Bailey and W. R. Butcher.

THE STONE. The stone was a marble block, laid in the northeast corner of the monument foundation. The opening was made to hold a metallic box, in which were placed the articles enumerated below. The box, after being deposited in the orifice, was covered with a marble slab.

CONTENTS OF THE BOX. Masonic apron of white lambskin, trimmed with blue silk, with list of officers and Past Masters for the year 1898-99 printed thereon, by Norfolk Lodge No. 1.

DR. TUCKER'S POEM. A poem entitled "Let Us Build the Monument," by the Rev. Beverly D. Tucker, D. D., Chaplain Pickett-Buchanan Camp, Confederate Veterans, Grand Chaplain Grand Camp of Virginia.

Articles deposited by Major A. Myers: Copper cents, 1861 and 1865; $50 Confederate note, vignette of Jefferson Davis thereon; $20 Confederate note, vignette of Alexander Stephens thereon; $20 State of North Carolina note, vignette of Zebulon B. Vance thereon; $10 Confederate note, with poem printed on back; Masonic card, vignette thereon; thirty-ninth annual statement of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, containing names of officers and directors.

MR. COUPER PRESENTED. During the ceremonies Mr. J. D. Couper, who designed the monument, was presented to the Worshipful Master and Past Masters of the Grand Camp of Norfolk, by Mr. C. Keeling, L. D. Starke, Sr., and John Walters.

THE WORK ACCEPTED. Past Masters B. A. Marsden, J. E. Wright, W. T. Core, W. A. Edwards, and the commandery, were appointed a committee to notify Commander Geo. M. Todd, of Pickett-Buchanan Camp, Confederate Veterans, that the stone of the monument about to be erected to commemorate the virtues of the soldiers and sailors of the Confederate States, had been laid, and requested him to descend and examine the work, and if approved to receive it from the hands of the Masons.

Commander Todd made an appropriate speech, accepting the stone. At the close of the ceremonies the Confederate Veterans escorted the Masons back to their temple.

THE MONUMENT. The monument will be a beautiful granite shaft, made from the best Vermont stone. The height will be 66 feet, without the bronze figure. It was designed by Mr. J. D. Couper, whose plans were accepted in competition with a number of distinguished artists. It will be twenty-five feet at the base. On the die will be engraved in the stone the Confederate flag; on the opposite side of the monument a bronze seal of the Confederate States will be set into the stone. The proportions of the monument are said to be excellent, and the carving of a high order.

This granite column will cost $13,000, and the money is already in hand to pay for it.

When the necessary money is raised it is proposed to place on cap-stone of the monument a bronze figure about 19 feet tall, which will make the total height 76 feet. The designers contemplated placing four bronze figures on the corners of the base, but this idea had to be abandoned for want of funds.

THE SUBSCRIBERS. The list of the subscribers, which was published in the Virginian-Pilot, shows that only a limited number of people contributed to the monument fund, and that the enterprise is far from being in progress thirty years. It is thought, however, that when the shaft is erected that the loyal veterans and their friends will find a way of raising the money required to buy the bronze figures. The monument will, however, be one of the handsomest in the State.

THE WISE-YOUNG CONTEST. CAPT. JOHN S. WISE LOOKING OVER THE SITUATION. Hon. John S. Wise, who resides in New York, is in the city stopping at the Monticello. He is here to see how the contest of his brother, Dr. R. A. Wise, is progressing. The Norfolk lawyers who have been taking depositions for Dr. Wise say that they have been working hard for about three weeks, and under serious disadvantage, owing to the inclement weather.

Depositions are being taken in Nansemond and other counties and the evidence, when presented, will make a large book. Dr. Wise has forty days in which to make up his case, when he will have to discontinue, so that Mr. Young may have forty days in which to take the testimony of his witnesses.

Out of the World. Five schooners, that had been frozen in the Sounds in North Carolina since the 10th of this month, arrived here yesterday, all well and suffering no damage to speak of. They might as well have been in another planet for all they knew of the history of the world for the last ten days.
