LOOKING FOR FATHER

Mr. John T. Wilson Missing Since March 3rd.

His Son, Mr. J. M. Wilson, of this City, Goes to Richmond and Begins His Search—Fears Foot Play—Sees the Governor.

Mr. J. M. Wilson, who resides at No. 117 Windsor avenue, this city, was at the Governor's office, in Richmond, yesterday endeavoring to secure the aid of the Executive in finding his father.

Mr. Wilson, Sr., is a widely known farmer of Chesterfield county. His family think he has been foully dealt with. Mr. Wilson, the son, who is a young man of excellent address.

Our Richmond correspondent sends us the following interview with the son: "Soon after my father got to Richmond," said Mr. Wilson, "he met my uncle and the two got to drinking heavily.

"All at once my uncle complained of feeling very ill and asked my father to come on with him to the Soldiers' Home. One of the men thereupon put his arm around my uncle and said, 'Come on, old man, and let us go.'

"At first my uncle thought it was my father who had addressed him, and when he found out it was a stranger he struck at him with a stick which he had, and the stranger ran off.

"My uncle then went back to get my father, but it being dark could not either see or hear him, nor could he see anything of the three strange men.

"My uncle continued to be sick from the night he left my father, and that week he died. This story of my father's disappearance I obtained through my uncle, who, in his illness, reproached himself for writing to my father requesting him to come to Richmond.

"My father had on three pairs of pants when he left home, and the money he had with him was in the under pair."

Umbrella News

Of Importance. Most stores are satisfied to offer their customers regular dollar umbrellas at $1. Not so here.

Our Umbrellas at $1 are at all times better than regular dollar ones, but

THIS SPECIAL LOT

AT $1 EACH are a regular dollar-seventy-five-cent quality. They are made of Taffeta Gloria, have steel rod and lock ribs, and roll tight. Have natural handles with silver swedge. $1 each instead of $1.75.

Another

Matting Talk.

We are told that some dealers complain that we do not ask enough for our Matting—that they can't compete with our prices and make money. Well, we are satisfied with a "dry goods profit" on Matting. We ask only what the Matting is fairly worth.
