RUFFIN-TALBOT. MISS TALBOT UNITED IN MARRIAGE TO MR. RUFFIN, OF RICHMOND. The residence of Messrs. Thomas Talbot and Minton W. Talbot, in Freeman street, made a pretty scene last evening when their sister, Miss Mary Chapman Talbot, was united in marriage to Mr. Edmund Lorraine Ruffin, of Richmond, Va.

The marriage was solemnized by the Rev. Carl E. Grammer, D. D., of Christ Episcopal Church, at the hour of half after 8 o'clock, and there were present quite a large circle of the intimate friends and relatives of the bride and groom from this city and from Richmond and Baltimore.

The bride entered the saloon parlors, which were handsomely decorated with palms and La France roses, with her brother, Mr. Minton W. Talbot, by whom she was given away. Miss Elizabeth W. Talbot, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and the best man was Mr. Clarence McGruder, of Richmond.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of mousseline de sole over taffeta, and her veil was of tulle. The maid of honor wore corn-colored taffeta, trimmed with real lace. Both wore diamond and pearl ornaments.

The presents received by the bride were both numerous and handsome. After the ceremony a reception followed and the doors of the spacious dining-room were thrown open, where a delightful repast had been prepared under the direction of James A. Harris, the well-known Baltimore caterer.

The bride is the youngest daughter of the late William Henry Talbot, and the groom is a popular young business man of Richmond.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Ruffin left for a bridal tour, after which they will return to Richmond, which will be their future home.

The best wishes of their friends go out to them for their future happiness.

CHICORA MILLS

Visit to the Scene of Troubles Given Official Publicity. Interruptions to Business Still Continue—Proprietors Will Remove Plant Unless Protected From Violence.

In its issue of Wednesday, the Virginian-Pilot reported the appearance of Messrs. McNair and Willard, proprietors of the Chicora Mills, before the Board of Trade and Business Men's Association, and their recital of their grievances, mob attacks, broken windows, assaults on themselves and female employees and insults heaped on the girls they employ.

This factory is a valuable one for Norfolk, although it is located just over the city line in Norfolk county. This fact deprives the proprietors and employees of the city police protection, and from the statements of Messrs. Willard & McNair, adequate protection is not afforded them by the authorities of Norfolk county.

Another instance of interruption to their business occurred yesterday. Mr. McNair was seated at his desk in his office attending to his business when a resident of the neighborhood entered the factory without permission and stood in the office doorway.

Mr. McNair states that this party used violent language toward him and refused to leave the premises when ordered to do so. He was finally forcibly ejected by Mr. McNair and some of his employees. Mr. McNair stated that such interruptions are not only annoying, but serious from the standpoint of dollars and cents. For some minutes the factory was shut down on account of the disturbance.

The plant employs about one hundred hands, and the money cost of the time so lost amounted to several dollars.

Business men will readily see how serious a series of such petty annoyances can become, and Messrs. Willard & McNair have decided that unless proper protection is afforded them they will be compelled to remove elsewhere.

Members of the Board of Trade and Business Men's Association are alive to the importance of this matter to Norfolk, in view of their attempts to build up the general manufacturing and business interests of this section.

Even considered in its lesser light as but one of our plants, it is important to keep it here, for probably very few persons in Norfolk realize its present and prospective importance.

Messrs. Willard & McNair employ about 100 hands and spend here weekly about $700. Their plant is crowded with orders, they now having orders ahead that would keep their full force at work night and day for the next two months.

Their plant now includes three buildings, the main three-story brick factory building, a two-story frame building east of this, used by the Willard Manufacturing Company, and a two-story brick building across the street from the latter, used for warehouse purposes.

THE STOCKING FACTORY. The main feature of the business is the manufacture of ladies' misses' and children's hose. They have broken away from the usual southern rule of making mainly coarse goods and are making 200 needle goods, fine grade hosiery, in the latest styles, using both Egyptian and domestic cottons.

They are now running sixty-two machines, an increase of fourteen machines in the past year, thus increasing their capacity 140 dozen a day. Their market is the entire United States, their principal distributing points being New York, Baltimore, Chicago, and San Francisco.

WILLARD MANUFACTURING COMPANY. A branch of the business of the firm is that of the Willard Manufacturing Company. This is conducted in the laboratory building east of the Chicora mills.

Here are manufactured numerous valuable and popular stationery supplies covered by thirty-two patents. Among these are stamp pads and stamp pads, tracing cloth colors, tracing cloth in jars and tubes, adhesives in bottles and tubes, padding adhesives for job printers and sticky fly paper.

Their stamp is said to be unlike any other, and peculiarly valuable, in that the impression from it dries instantly, gives a fine letter press copy, and the ink penetrates deeply into the paper, thus making erasure or alteration impossible. Their fly paper will be put on the market next week. Their laboratory is in charge of Mr. H. S. Scandling, late of Toledo, O.

SALES TO GOVERNMENT. The firm received a letter yesterday from the Treasury Department of the United States placing an order for forty-one gallons of its stamping inks for the use of that department alone. Like sales are steadily made to all of the other departments at Washington.

These departments also used the Willard adhesives and mucilages in similar large quantities.

Last month the firm shipped 4,400 dozen quarts of mucilage to the Post-office Department, and 100 gallons of blue mucilage. They have already sold so far this year 50,000 quarts of mucilage to the United States Government. Their inks are put up in all colors and sizes.

TRADE IN CUBA. The firm has just shipped 600 dozen quarts of mucilage to the new Post-office Department in Cuba, and expects to ship further large orders to Cuba and Porto Rico.

A Counting Wedding. Cards are out announcing the coming wedding of Mr. Ora L. Morser and Miss George B. Bittle. The ceremony will be performed at Park Avenue Baptist Church on Wednesday, June 14th, at 5 o'clock p. m.

The bridegroom is a well known engineer. The bride-to-be is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bittle and has many warm friends. She has been for some time one of the most popular and efficient salesladies at the Russell & Simcoe store. They will be at home after Saturday, July 1st., at 324 Bute street.

A big line of necktie shirts with prices that will make you a purchaser. RUDOLPHI & WALLACE, 433 MALDEN STREET.

SUMMER RESORTS.

WHERE REST, HEALTH AND PLEASURE MAY BE FOUND. Now that summer is upon the cities, the people are turning their eyes longingly toward the mountains and seaside, where invigorating breezes, cool nights, rest, health and pleasure may be found. Fortunately Virginia is well supplied with hotels and boarding houses, where all these essentials to comfort and happiness may be had at small cost.

ALTA VISTA. Summer boarders will find this an ideal place for quiet, rest, mineral waters, good fare, etc. It is among the foothills of the Blue Ridge. For terms write Mrs. W. C. Carpenter, Red Hill, Albemarle county, Va.

THE ATLANTIC HOTEL. This delightful summer hostelry is situated at Virginia Beach, immediately on the Old Ocean, for which it is named, and less than an hour's ride from Norfolk. It was formerly Inverness Inn, and has been re-furnished. The service is first class. Special rates will be made for families and traveling men. Write for folders.

YELLOW SULPHUR SPRINGS. This resort is situated on the summit of the Alleghany Mountain, in Monticello county, and is famed for its curative qualities. It is a wide range of diseases. The accommodations are unsurpassed and the charges moderate. Descriptive pamphlet and rates furnished on application to Ridgeway Holt, proprietor.

THE WILTSHIRE. This hotel is on Virginia avenue, on the beach at Atlantic City, N. J., and is owned and managed by S. S. Phoebus, formerly of Hygeia Hotel, Old Point Comfort. It has been enlarged and re-furnished and offers first-class accommodations. Mr. Phoebus will take especial pleasure in accommodating old Virginia friends and former patrons.

ROANOKE RED SULPHUR. These celebrated springs are located in the mountains, ten miles from Salem, Roanoke county, Va., and are 2,200 feet above sea level. The water are sulphur, chalybeate, freestone and limestone, the accommodations first class and the rates very reasonable. It is both a health and pleasure resort. Write J. H. Chapman for pamphlet and analysis of waters, or talk with him over the long-distance phone.

Obsequies of Mrs. Barron. The funeral of Mrs. Helen Louise Barron, wife of Mr. W. Thompson Barron, who departed this life at the family residence on College Place Wednesday morning, was solemnized from Christ P. E. Church at 10 a. m. yesterday, in the presence of a large congregation. The services were conducted by the rector, Rev. C. E. Grammer. There were a large number of beautiful floral tributes. The remains were laid to rest in Elmwood Cemetery. Following the rector were: Colonel George W. Taylor, Dr. E. P. Field, Messrs. William Camp, R. Henry Jones, J. T. Peele, L. D. Starke, Jr., W. Lane Kilby, and W. T. Cooke.

Excursion From Newport News. The Sunday school of the Washington Avenue Methodist Church, Newport News, gave its annual excursion to Virginia Beach yesterday. A large number of young people took advantage of the excursion rates to spend a hot day at the beach. The steamer Luray left the Old Dominion Land Company's pier at 9 o'clock yesterday morning with a large and merry party, and arrived in Norfolk an hour later. The excursionists left Virginia Beach at 6:30 o'clock last evening, and reached home about 8:30 o'clock, having spent a delightful day.

The Terrible Heat. The maximum temperature advanced yesterday to 95, one degree higher than Wednesday. There were not many prostrations, but the physicians ascribe many complaints of illness to the excessive heat, which, they say, is particularly hard on very old or infirm people and little children. Weather Observer Gray, whose sympathy for the people is increased by a kindred feeling, says a cool wave is heading this way, and expresses the hope that it may come close enough to afford some relief.

Attention Elks. All Elks contemplating attending the St. Louis convention will please notify, as soon as possible, F. W. Curd, passenger agent Chesapeake and Ohio railway, Norfolk, Va. (Chesapeake and Ohio being the accepted route of Virginia Elks), advising date and train on which they will leave and Pullman accommodations desired. This information necessary to make proper arrangements. It

His Foot Badly Wounded. Mr. Edward Atwood, Jr., met with a quite painful accident Wednesday afternoon. He was the driver of a heavily loaded wagon, and in attempting to get on the front seat of it he slipped from the front seat and the wheel of the vehicle passed over one of his feet, badly mashing it. The wound was promptly dressed by a physician, after which Mr. Atwood was sent to his home.

Century Chapter, Epworth League. Mr. F. L. Crocker, third vice-president of the Seaside Union, will conduct the devotional meeting of Century Chapter of the Epworth League to-night at 8 o'clock. Mr. Crocker is a very fine speaker and this opportunity to hear him should be taken advantage of by every member of Century Chapter. After the devotional meeting the semi-annual election of officers will take place.

Prostrated by Heat. Wednesday afternoon Mr. Thomas Williams, a carpenter employed on the Federal building, was prostrated by heat and had to be removed to his boarding-house, No. 425 Church street. He suffered intensely all night and was considerably indisposed yesterday. However, he is much better this morning and thinks of returning to work.

HELD BY THE ENEMY

A Daring Simian Takes Possession of a West End Residence. And Rules For Two Days—A Dinner That Was Never Served—Milk, Cream, Oranges and Coconuts None Too Good for the Monkey.

A popular drama, "Held by the Enemy," is well known to Norfolk theatergoers, but a new and revised version was presented at the West End a few days ago. The dramatic personae include a well-known hostess as leading lady, her dinner guests, two colored female cooks, a kind-hearted neighbor, who comes to the rescue of the leading lady, and a heavy villain in the form of a mischievous monkey.

This monkey is one that knows how to paint the town red and could even give pointers to some of the b'hoys. The details of it is as follows: The scene opens a few days ago in the model kitchen of a handsome West End residence. The colored lady who presides over the culinary department of the establishment has had orders to get up a neat little dinner for a number of guests. Her tables are strewn with dishes containing milk and cream, bananas and other fruits of the season, dainty cakes and tasty creations that would tempt epicurus himself.

The colored lady bustles about and all is progressing smoothly when suddenly a black, hairy apparition appears on the scene, and the curtain goes down on a fleeing cook and a monkey in full, sole and undisputed possession.

ACT 2. The first act closed with a victorious simian holding the fort or (kitchen, rather). The second opens on the monkey's banquet. Quickly the fresh, sweet milk, the rich cream, the dainty pastries and oranges have disappeared. Soon the guests arrive, are ushered into the parlor and, at the supper hour nears, the lady of the house appears at the kitchen and surveys the scene of desolation. She beats a hasty retreat (the cook don't show up for two days), and informs her guests that for seasons quite beyond her control, the supper will be postponed.

(Exit guests sadly.) Then follows a period of deep cogitation for the lady, who is alone in the world. She fears to offend her neighbor, the owner of the monkey, by complaint of its actions, so lives as best she can, in the remainder of her residence, leaving the kitchen in possession of the invader.

ACT 3. This opens with the exit of Mr. Monkey via an open window munching bananas and wearing a very contented look. The lady, who is in the adjoining yard where the monkey is, ripening in the summer sun, looks at the trees yet, but the pears, where are they? The monkey could answer that for he shinned up those trees like a small boy after apples. Sitting in the trees he picked those pears one by one, dropped the juicy fruit to the ground and transferred the juicy fruit to his department of the interior.

ACT 4. The curtain rises in the fourth act on the kitchen of another residence near by. The colored cook is at work making "Ambrosia," a delicious compound of grated coconuts and oranges, and singing away unconscious of impending trouble, when a long, hairy arm stretched out before her. A shriek, a rush, and she is gone and Mr. Monkey is again victor in the field. He quickly recognizes the coconut as one of the dainties of his tropical home, and thus the oranges and other good things go to satisfy that insatiable appetite.

ACT 5. (In which police intervention is threatened and Mr. Monkey sees his finish.) For two days did this bold native of the tropics range unrestrained, committing havoc unmentionable, and causing trouble the like of which has perhaps, never been known before, but, alas, all things must end, and on the third day he came to grief.

On the morning of the third day the lady whose home was first invaded, heard a strange noise at her window; looking there she saw again her persecutor. Not daring to leave her house because of her little children, she went to another part of the dwelling and, calling to a neighboring lady, in fear and trembling, told her troubles. This lady, who is of an energetic disposition, at once telephoned she promptly saw to its capture and removal, she would telephone to the police station and have the police forces of Norfolk and Portsmouth detailed to capture, try and shoot it, without benefit of clergy, and appeal, if necessary, to Governor Tyler to call out the military of the State and put an end to the reign of terror existing.

Happily this trouble was averted, as the owner resorted to strategic measures and captured the pet. It is probable that the reported orders by residents of the West End for iron gratings for all windows are caused by the actions of the simian referred to, though the Virginian-Pilot advances this as a theory and not as a condition that now confronts us.

(Note.—The parties, immediately concerned, requested the Virginian-Pilot not to publish any names.)

Disorderly Boys Complained of.

A petition is being circulated among the residents of Holt street, near the bridge, asking the Mayor to station a policeman on the bridge at night, to prevent bicycle scorching and to quiet boys who are said to be disorderly. There is a certain crowd of boys who sit on the rail of the bridge and pass vulgar comments on young girls as they pass to and fro without an escort.
