The Incoming Legislature Expected to Pass Measure Against Trusts.

FOR GREATER NORFOLK

Delegate Folkes Will Offer a Bill Appropriating One Hundred Thousand Dollars for a State Exposition in 1901—No Tidings of Missing Merchant—The Proposed Monument to President Davis.

(Special to Virginian-Pilot.) Richmond, Nov. 10.—The smoke of the recent political contest having cleared away, leaving the result plainly defined, an effort was made this morning to get Governor Tyler to give his views on the situation. He, however, declined to say anything for publication. The Governor was, as always, genial and courteous, but he said, laughingly: "I am not talking any politics at present."

THE LEGISLATURE.

The people of the State at large are now much interested in what the Legislature, which meets here December 4th, will do. It is known that many bills on various subjects have been prepared, and the session promises to be lively from the very start. There seems to be no doubt that an attempt will be made to pass a stringent measure against trusts, and there is some reason to believe that the effort will be successful.

There will also be a bill introduced to prevent as far as practicable the use of money in elections.

OF INTEREST TO NORFOLK.

Of greatest interest to Norfolk will be the measure to annex to that city a large expanse of contiguous territory, as was stated in the Virginian-Pilot some time ago.

PROPOSED STATE EXPOSITION.

Hon. E. C. Folkes, member of the House of Delegates from this city, will offer a bill making an appropriation of $100,000 to be expended in the holding of a State Exposition in September, 1901.

The measure will provide that the matter be left in the hands of twelve commissioners, who shall serve without salary, giving a bond of $50,000. The various cities of the State shall compete for the honor of the Exposition. The celebration is to last for two months, and all revenues arising therefrom are to go into the State treasury.

MISSING MERCHANT.

Mr. John T. Aivey, the missing merchant, whose case was told in to-day's Virginian-Pilot, has not yet been found, but traces of him have been discovered.

He was seen Wednesday afternoon walking along the line of the James River branch of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, about three miles from Richmond. This morning his hat was found near the same place. It is feared that he threw himself in the canal, and an active search is being made for his body.

MONUMENT TO PRESIDENT DAVIS

There is considerable gratification expressed here at the determination of the United Daughters of the Confederacy to raise the money necessary to erect a monument to President Jefferson Davis in Monroe Park. They have $20,000 now on hand, but will need a much larger sum.

U. S. COURT OF APPEALS.

The cases considered to-day were as follows:

No. 308. Elk Fork Oil and Gas Company vs. Leo E. Foster, et al., and No. 318, Lee E. Foster, et al., vs. Elk Fork Oil and Gas Company. Appeals from Circuit Court of West Virginia were argued by W. P. Hubbard for Elk Fork Company, and by A. Lee Well for Foster, and by Alfred P. Caldwell for other appellants.

No. 309. A. H. Brenner, agent, vs. British steamship "Kokhill." Appeal from District Court of North Carolina, at Wilmington. Argued by Thomas Evans for appellant, and by Cowen, Wing, Putnam and Burlington for appellee.

No. 316. D. J. Jack, appellant, vs. Jas. T. Williams, et al., appellee. Appeal from Circuit Court South Carolina, at Greenville, and No. 324. C. A. Board, S. H. Price, et al., appellant, vs. The National Bank of the Republic of New York. Appeal from Circuit Court at Lynchburg, were continued until the February term on account of the illness of Judge Goff.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.

A special meeting of the Board of Visitors of the State Female Normal School at Farmville was held in this city at Murphy's Hotel to-day. The only matter considered was the purchase of additional land adjoining the school property, an option on which, held by the board, expires on the 16th instant. The board decided to acquire the property and directed that the option be closed.

The additional property consisted of about an acre and a half of land which is the extent of the original property, so that the real estate holdings of the school are doubled by the purchase of the adjoining property. It is the purpose to erect a gymnasium and other auxiliary buildings on the ground. Altogether about $10,000 will be expended, which includes the purchase price of the new property.

THE SUPREME COURT.

The proceedings in the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia to-day were as follows:

Flick vs. Stauffer, argued by D. C. Westenhaver for plaintiff in error, and by A. W. Patterson and H. D. Flood for defendant in error, and submitted.

Cady vs. Straus, argued by B. T. Crump for plaintiff in error, and continued until Monday.

The next cases to be called are Rowes' administrator vs. Hardy; Va. and N. C. Wheel Co. vs. Chalkley; and C. and O. Railroad Company vs. Jen-

ALEX TATE'S FATE.

Governor Tyler will, perhaps, announce his decision to-morrow in the matter of application for executive clemency in behalf of Alexander Tate, the negro condemned to hang on the 17th instant. The Governor was occupied to-day with the papers and evidence in the case. There is a mass of evidence, and it is slow work to go over it thoroughly.

HAMPTON.

THE DEATH OF MAJOR JEFFERSON SINCLAIR.

Hampton, Va., Nov. 10.—Major Jefferson Sinclair, one of the most widely known and highly esteemed citizens of Elizabeth City county, died at the residence of his brother, Mr. Keith Sinclair, two miles east of this city Thursday night shortly after 9 o'clock. Major Sinclair had been ill for several weeks, and his death had been momentarily expected. Major Sinclair was born in Hampton seventy years ago, but spent most of his life in Gloucester county, where he engaged in farming and reared a large family of children. He was a true Confederate soldier, having entered the army when the war broke out as captain of the York Rangers, an organization which rendered the South invaluable service during the four years of unpleasantness. He was soon after his enlistment promoted to Major for brilliant service, and served as such until the close of the war. At the close of the war Major Sinclair returned to Gloucester, where he lived up to six weeks previous to his death last night. Mrs. Sinclair, a most estimable Christian lady, preceded her husband to the grave only a short time back. Major Sinclair was a gentleman of the old school of Virginians, and his death has caused unbounded sorrow to his old comrades.

Three sons and three daughters survive him. They are Messrs. Jefferson Sinclair, Jr., of Gloucester; Lowry Sinclair, of Elizabeth City county; Ashton Sinclair, of Gloucester, and Mrs. Annie Sinclair, Miss India Sinclair and Miss Georgia Sinclair, each of whom reside in the county.

The remains of Major Sinclair were taken to Gloucester yesterday, and the funeral services took place from the Baptist Church in the afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Heart disease was the immediate cause of Major Sinclair's demise.

MURDER AT WYTHEVILLE.

LIQUOR LEADS TO FIGHT AND DEATH.

(Special to Virginian-Pilot.) Wytheville, Va., November 10.—Walter Cregar was killed here to-night by Will Corven. The young men were drinking and got into a fight. Corven stabbed Cregar behind the ear and he died in a few minutes.

Cregar was 20 years old, a member of Company D, Second Virginia Regiment, during the Spanish-American war, and is the son of a prominent citizen. Corven made no attempt to escape. Wytheville is much excited over the affair.

A Kansas Bank Looted.

(By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.) Malvern, Kas., Nov. 10.—The safe and office furniture of the Malvern Bank were demolished by an explosion of dynamite, touched off last night by robbers, who then looted the place, securing $600 in money and several thousand dollars in notes and checks.

Police Court Trial and Judgment.

Judge Andy E. Calhoun, of the police court of Atlanta, Ga., recently passed a sentence of great importance to dyspeptics. Here it is: "I am a great sufferer from nervous sick headache and have found no remedy so effective as Tynor's Dyspepsia Remedy. If taken when the headache first begins it invariably cures. A. E. CALHOUN." Price 50 cents per bottle. At all druggists, or sent for price, express paid, by Tynor Dyspepsia Remedy Co., 45 Mitchell street, Atlanta, Ga. Send Five Cents in stamps, to pay postage, for sample, free.

Young Ladies Organize Another Girl's Club—Meeting of the Reading Club—Died in Florida—Bargain and Sale—Hymenaeal.

(Special to Virginian-Pilot.)

Suffolk, Va., Nov. 10.—William Wells told his wife he was tired of living, and he meant it. Wells lived in Southampton county, near Berlin, with a wife and child. Neighbors and friends thought they had a happy home. None believed there was that existing which would breed tragedy.

After stating his intention Wells grabbed an old shot gun and made for the door. Before Mrs. Wells could restrain him Wells had blown off the top of his head. The transition was immediate. Mr. Wells was about 45 years old.

ORIGINAL GIRLS.

There was another girls' club organized to-day. Suffolk young women are getting re-energized with club life, and the one organized to-day, if its charter intents are pursued with faith, will result in pleasure and much good. The objects have, at least, the attraction of unquity. It's called the Lotus Club.

One of the Lotus Club's chief objects is to foster and promote originality of thought and action among the members. All stereotyped phrases and forms are supposed to be studiously eschewed. Another object is to have a good time. The secondary object has brighter chances of immediate consummation, but the development of individuality among the several members is not to be lost sight of.

THE OFFICERS.

These were the officers chosen: Miss Jennie Holland, president; Miss Annie Nurney, vice-president; Miss Hattie Parker, secretary; Miss Jessie Nurney, treasurer.

The club will meet every other Thursday at a member's home. The young hostess each time is supposed to devise some original method of entertainment. Occasionally the club women will invite men friends to receptions.

THE READING CLUB.

The Friday Afternoon Reading Club met to-day with Miss May Skiles, in West End. The Misses Carpenter read some delectable selections.

The club will meet next time with Miss Louise Britt. Then Mrs. R. H. Butler and Miss Josephine Causey will read.

DIED IN FLORIDA.

The funeral of the late John Camp, who died day before yesterday in Jacksonville, Fla., took place to-day from the Baptist Church in Franklin. The services were in charge of Rev. J. E. Jones. The remains arrived in Franklin last night on a special train. The floral offerings were lovely. The deceased leaves a comfortable estate in Florida and Virginia. The deceased was never married. He was a brother of Mrs. Norfleet, Mrs. Williams, and and William N., Paul D., James L., and Robert J. Camp.

GENERAL SEAT SALE.

The general seat sale for Louise Brehany Company, which will be here Monday, opens at Stewart's drugstore Saturday morning. Those subscribers who have not yet selected their seats should do so at once.

In forming the company to support Miss Brehany, the management have engaged the very best talent that could be secured. Mr. Guillaume Sauviet, the eminent Belgium pianist, whose attainments have received recognition not only throughout this country, but the world, will appear again this season. He is a great favorite everywhere.

Miss Olga Schmoll, the violinist, is a great addition to the company. In very few instances has so young an artist achieved so wide a reputation. She is now the proud possessor of Remeny's famous Amati violin, and will use it in all the concerts.

Jessie Beatrice Monroe, the alto, is a brilliant young artist.

Louis J. Mintz, a splendid tenor, just returned from a long period of study in Europe.

Forrest D. Carr, basso cantante, who has filled many prominent concert and opera engagements, make up the organization.

The music will be a real inspiration—delightful and high class, but not severely classical.

BARGAIN AND SALE DEEDS.

Laura A. Byrd and husband to W. J. Walters, one lot on Kilby street, $150. Dr. L. L. Savage, of the District of Columbia, to James D. Mayo, a lot in Barrett's Neck, $100.

Norwegian Bark in Distress.

(By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.)

New York, Nov. 10.—The Norwegian bark Ringhorne, Captain Hansen, which sailed from Darien, Ga., on October 9th, for Hamburg, with a cargo of pitch pine timber, put into this port to-night in distress, leaking and with loss of sails, etc. The Ringhorne ran into a hurricane from east to southeast in the Gulf Stream on October 31st, lasting three days, accompanied by a tremendous sea, in which she labored heavily, causing her to spring a bad leak. The vessel strained badly and listed heavily to starboard. Captain Hansen, rather than continue his voyage, decided to bear for this port for a survey and repairs.
