RHEUMATISM—SWOLLEN JOINTS

A good many sufferers from blood and skin diseases have received simple bottles of Botanic Blood Balm, (B. B. B.) and we would like to inform them and any other sufferers from blood and skin diseases, that there is absolutely no substitute for B. B. B. It is the only remedy that is made to-day that will absolutely cure obstinate, deep seated cases like cancer, eating sores, ulcers, blood poisoning, scrofula, rheumatism and catarrh, persistent eruptions and itching humors. There is no other remedy just as good; no other remedy as effective in healing these blood troubles. So when you go to the drug store to buy Botanic Blood Balm, (B. B. B.) simply refuse to take any other remedy which is offered as better, just as good and perhaps cheaper. Every druggist has (B. B. B.) and will sell it to you if you will only insist upon having it. So you may be certain that you are getting Blood Balm, we here-with produce a photograph (about one-fourth actual size) of the carton, or outside covering of the bottle.

Quite a number of people have written us that they have been induced to take other remedies, and were not cured, and indeed, they were getting worse, and finally they just had to take Blood Balm, and when they did take Blood Balm and followed directions, they were invariably cured, and every sore, eruption or pimple was healed. Some of the chronic old obstinate cases that this remedy has cured, are absolutely marvelous—cancers and eating sores, that have been pronounced incurable by doctors; blood poisoning, where the sufferer had given up all hope; even where the bones had become affected, awful itching scaly eczema that had tortured the patient for years, all cured by from three to twelve bottles of this wonderful blood remedy; terrible cases of rheumatism, in which the joints had all become swollen so the patient could hardly walk without the most excruciating pain, cured by only a few bottles.

TRIAL BOTTLE SENT FREE!
If any sufferer has not tried B. B. B., we will be glad to send them a trial bottle absolutely free, and prepaid, if they will write us for it. Large bottles are sold at the drug store for $1. six large bottles, full treatment, $5. Free medical advice given if you describe your trouble.

O'ROURKE V. CITIZENS' ST. RY. CO.
Supreme Court of Tennessee.
September 6, 1899.

A PASSENGER CAN RECOVER FOR BEING EJECTED FROM A STREET CAR WHEN HIS TRANSFER TICKET WAS IMPROPERLY PUNCHED BY THE CONDUCTOR OF THE FIRST CAR.

SUCH PASSENGER IS NOT BOUND BY CONDITIONS PRINTED ON THE BACK OF HIS TICKET UNLESS THEY ARE REASONABLE. A CONDITION THAT THE PASSENGER MUST SEE THAT DATE, TIME, & C. OF TRANSFER, ARE CORRECT IS NOT REASONABLE, NOR IS ONE THAT IN CASE OF CONTROVERSY HE MUST PAY THE REGULAR FARE AND APPLY AT COMPANY'S OFFICE FOR ITS RETURN WITHIN THREE DAYS.

This was an action against the defendant street railroad company for damages for being wrongfully ejected from one of its cars. There was a judgment and the plaintiff appealed.

The expulsion resulted from the mistake of the conductor of a car on which the plaintiff first took passage and paid his fare in punching his transfer tickets so as to show they were issued at 1:40 p. m., when in fact they were issued nearly an hour later.

The court says: The plaintiff had a right to believe the transfer ticket all that it should be. With it he diligently sought and promptly entered the first transfer car and upon being challenged by the conductor of that car as too late, to use the ticket, he made a fair and reasonable statement showing that he had just left the first car, and that the first conductor must have wrongly indicated the hour of issuance on the face of the ticket. On that statement, the plaintiff should have been allowed to pursue his journey to its end. He owed the company no other duty, and his expulsion under such circumstances was a tortious breach of the contract for which he became entitled to recover all proximately resulting damages, including those for humiliation and mortification, if such were in fact sustained.

On the face of the transfer check were printed the following words: "Transfer. Passengers, in accepting this transfer, agree to read and be governed by the conditions on the back hereof, subject to the rules of the company."

Among the conditions printed on the back of the transfer check was one in this language: "Part of the conditions upon which this transfer is given and accepted are that the passenger examine date, time and direction, and see that the same are correct, and complies with all its conditions."

This condition is unreasonable, because no passenger can be bound to verify the act of the conductor in issuing a transfer check, and also because no inexperienced passenger, however intelligent, could in the time at his command, and on so brief a trip, "examine date, time and direction" indicated by the punch marks, and, without an explanation, see "that the same are correct." The complexity of the checks, and the unreasonableness of the rule requiring a passenger to verify their correctness when issued, could hardly be better illustrated than by a statement from this record that the learned judge himself, with one of the very checks before him, was not able to understand its meaning without a minute examination. It cannot be fair or just or reasonable to require passengers in the hurry of rapid street car travel, to decipher, at their peril, a check whose meaning so intelligent a judge cannot ascertain by careful and deliberate inspection.

Another condition on the back of the check was expressed thus: "In accepting this transfer passenger agrees that in case of controversy with conductor about this ticket, and its refusal, to pay the regular fare charged, and apply at the office of the company for refund of same within three days."

This condition is unreasonable, in that it makes the conductor, for the time the sole judge of the sufficiency of the ticket, and requires the passenger to pay additional fare, though the ticket may be refused without sufficient cause; and, further, in that it requires the wronged passenger, who so pays, to apply for refund at the office of the company, which must be remote from the houses and business places of most passengers, and then limits the amount to be received by such person to that wrongfully exacted. It puts all the burden of the "controversy" upon the wronged passenger and none upon the wrong doing company, and thereby makes the just suffer for the unjust. Reversed.

TILLMAN V. BEARD.
Supreme Court of Michigan.
October 3, 1899.

A VENDOR OF POPCORN AND PEANUTS SELLING ON THE STREET WITHOUT THE LICENSE REQUIRED BY A CITY ORDINANCE CANNOT BE ARRESTED WITHOUT A WARRANT.

ONE IS NOT LIABLE IN A SUIT FOR FALSE IMPRISONMENT IN PROCURING THE ARREST OF ANOTHER FOR VIOLATING AN ORDINANCE AFTERWARDS HELD VOID.

This was an action for damages against defendant for an illegal arrest of plaintiff. The defendant, who was President of the Village of Morrice, ordered the marshal of the village to arrest the plaintiff for selling popcorn and peanuts in the street without license, contrary to the ordinance of said village. He was arrested and discharged, and afterwards arrested on a warrant, tried and convicted, but on an appeal the ordinance was held void. There was a judgment for defendant in the lower court and plaintiff appealed.

The court says: The first arrest, without a complaint and warrant was illegal. Officers are justified in arresting without a warrant only in cases of felony and breaches of the peace. The respondent may have acted in good faith in ordering the arrest of plaintiff, but he certainly acted hastily, and without any legal authority. By ordering the arrest, he made himself responsible for it, and liable for all its consequences.

The village was organized under Act No. 3. Public Acts 1895. By section 2. C. 4 of said Act, the president of a municipality is made a conservator of the peace. He is the chief executive of the village, and, as such, becomes his duty to see that the ordinances of the village are enforced. We held in Brooks v. Mangin, that neither a justice of the peace, nor the officer serving, a warrant under a void ordinance was liable. The reasons for such rule are there fully stated. For the same, an officer who, in good faith, makes a complaint in the belief that the ordinance is valid, is not liable. A party in good faith making a complaint of the violation of any law or ordinance is not required to take the risk of being mulcted in damages if courts afterwards hold it unconstitutional. This rule is dictated by the plain principles of public policy. Reversed.

WANT U. S. COURT.

JUDGE WADDILL TO SIT IN NEWPORT NEWS.

The report comes from Newport News that hereafter all bankruptcy cases in the United States Court, and all Federal cases in which lawyers of that city, Hampton and vicinity are interested as counsel, will not be tried in Norfolk, but in Newport News.

According to the story, Judge Waddill, of the U. S. District Court, several days ago informed an attorney from Newport News, who had a case in court here, that he would sit across the roads when attorneys from that section had cases before him. The Evening Telegram of yesterday says:

"The members of the Newport News Bar Association held a meeting yesterday and decided to request Judge Waddill to adopt this course in future. The lawyers have notified the Federal judge that a place will be provided for the sessions of his court."

"An answer is expected from Judge Waddill in a few days, and it is now certain that hereafter all cases in which local attorneys are interested will be heard in the court-house in this city."

"There are now a number of cases on the Federal docket in which attorneys here are interested as counsel. A large number of bankruptcy cases will come up shortly."
