"Housework is hard work without Gold Dust"

Cleaning Silver

Instead of scouring and rubbing each piece of silver separately, the Gold Dust service can be effectively cleaned in a few minutes. After each meal the silver should be put into a pan (kept especially for the purpose) and cover with lukewarm water, to which a teaspoonful of is added; set the pan on the range until the water gets to boiling point, then lift out each piece with a wire spoon and lay on a soft flannel, wiping quickly with a soft cloth. The pieces so cleaned will be like newly polished and look like new.

The Gold Dust is made from the best materials and is sold in 5-cent packages.

A TERRIBLE DISASTER

Unknown Steamer Wrecked and Crew and Passengers Destroyed.

A Tale of Disaster, Suffering and Death on the New Foundland Coast—Work of Fire and the Waves.

(By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.)

St. Johns, N. F., Jan. 12.—A m. m. The wreck and burning in St. Mary's bay of the unknown two-masted steamer, with its crew of probably sixty, and possibly some passengers, all perishing, is one of the worst marine disasters in this section for a considerable period. There is not the slightest prospect that any soul aboard escaped death, as the intense mid-winter cold would kill any who escaped drowning. The ill-fated vessel was of nearly 3,000 tons burden. She went ashore before daybreak Thursday, striking a ledge at the foot of the cliff, where escape was hopeless.

The crew launched the boats, but probably during the panic some were crushed against her sides, others being swamped, and all the occupants apparently perishing.

The ship was seen to be afire by residents six miles away. Attracted to the scene, they found the after half of the wreck blazing fiercely, and the forepart under water. Kerosene in the cargo helped the blaze.

THREE MEN LEFT.

At that time only three men were left on board. Two were on the bridge and one was in the rigging. Those on the bridge were safe until about 2 p. m., when they were washed overboard and drowned. The bridge being carried away, the survivor soon after left the rigging, swam to the rocks and twice endeavored to get a footing. Failing in this, he made his way of exposure during the night. Many dead bodies are visible tossing in the surf. Two of them, thrown up in a cove, cannot be reached owing to the heavy sea. One is thought to be that of a woman. Boats and other wreckage are strewn among the rocks for miles. Yesterday (Friday) was more stormy than the day before, and it was impossible to reach the wreck, which has gone to pieces to such an extent that it has sunk beneath the waves. A severe gale is raging to-night, which is likely to reduce her to fragments.

The wreck commissioner hopes to be able to obtain her name to-day (Saturday).

Residents along the shore made every possible effort to rescue the survivor in the rigging, but lacking proper outfits they were unable to succeed.

SHIP HAD PASSENGERS.

A messenger who has just arrived from Peters river, reports that a trunk filled with women's clothing has been washed ashore there, as well as a garment which is either a water-proof cape, such as used by a woman, or a man's overcoat. Nearby was found some underwear, evidently a man's, marked with the initials "J. J." This seems to indicate that the ship had passengers.

JUDGE REVERSES RULING.

NORTH CAROLINA WINS AN IMPORTANT CASE.

(By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.)

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 12.—Judge Simonon to-day filed with the Clerk of the United States Circuit Court here his decision in the railroad tax case, which was argued at Asheville in September and reheard at Charleston about a month ago.

In his first decision Judge Simonon held that the Corporation Commission had no power, under the law, to tax the railroad property of the State.

Soon after that decision was rendered the Supreme Court of North Carolina decided the Abbott-Beddingfield case, in which exactly the opposite opinion was expressed.

Thereupon Judge Simonon granted a rehearing of the matter on the ground that a Federal court is bound to accept a State's construction of its own statute.

And the decision rendered to-day is based on this principle and Judge Simonon recedes from his former ruling, declaring that "the decision of the court of last resort in North Carolina as to the force and effect of its own statutes, on a matter of local law, is obligatory on the Federal Court."

After reciting the equities in the case, Judge Simonon appointed ex-Chief Justice James E. Shepherd standing master to take testimony touching the matter, and to report back to the court both the evidence and his conclusions.

In force for this purpose the restraining order heretofore made is continued in effect. The amount involved in this case is $10,000,000. The railroads have been paying on a valuation of $2,000,000, but last June the Corporation Commission raised this to $42,000,000, and the railroads appealed to the courts, alleging that the valuation was excessive as compared with the tax value of other property.

It was a brilliant success.

The proposed monument is to be erected near Fort Myer, on the heights overlooking Washington, near the famous old home of General Lee at Arlington.

When the bill to require the several counties, towns and cities to defray the costs, fees and expenses of the administration, execution and enforcement of criminal laws and misdemeanors, came up on the calendar, some debate was provoked, and, upon a recorded vote, was recommitted to the Committee of Courts of Justice.

ASSESSMENT OF LANDS.

Among the bills offered were the following:

By Mr. Madison—To regulate the appointment of assessors of land and lots in the city of Newport News, and providing for compensation of same.

By same—To regulate appointment of assessors of land and lots in the county of Warwick and providing compensation for same.

REFUND OF DOUBLE TAXES.

A bill was passed to refund to Thos. J. Vaughan and Sallie A. Vaughan double taxes paid to the State by them on certain lots in Atlantic City ward, Norfolk city, Va.; also one authorizing the city of Newport News to issue bonds.

ASSESSMENTS AND COLLECTIONS

The House Committee on Courts of Justice heard argument on the bill offered by Mr. Pilcher, providing for the election by the Legislature of three persons, who shall revise, digest and codify the statute in relation to the assessment and collection of taxes and levies and to redemption and sale of delinquent land.

A most interesting speech on the question was made by Mr. J. Allen Watts, of Roanoke.

He referred to the conditions surrounding the government before the civil war, and the laws for taxation adopted at that period were not complicated and were reasonable, fair, just and equitable. He said these conditions have entirely changed.

"The growth of the country has been brought about largely by corporate effort," said the speaker, "and its wealth largely increased in manufacturing and transportation corporations." He then cited the fact that in the State of New Jersey, 2,000 corporations were chartered and authorized to issue capital stock to the amount of $3,500,000,000.

"The present tax laws of Virginia are open to many criticisms," he said. "Double taxation, although prohibited by the constitution, is in practice carried on. The farm and the mortgage upon it are taxed, the stock and value it represents are taxed, the house and the notes given for deferred payments are taxed. This is a hardship upon a class of people that are least able to bear it, and most need relief, for it hits hardest those who are investing their money in farms and in homes in the State of Virginia.

THE BILL.

The bill is as follows, the amendment being designated by the words in parenthesis, which are stricken out of the bill:

1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia, That no answer to any interrogatories made by an applicant in his or her application for a policy shall bar the right to recover upon any policy issued upon such application, or be used in evidence on any trial to recover upon such policy, unless it be clearly proved that such answer was wilfully false and was fraudulently made, or it is material, and induced the company to issue the policy, and that but for such answer the policy would not have been issued (and, moreover, that the agent or company had no knowledge of the falsity or fraud of such answer).

MR. BLAND'S BILL.

Mr. Bland, of Portsmouth, appeared before the committee in advocacy of his bill to amend section 4077 of the Code so as to cover just such emergencies which arose, through the escape of the murderer Walter Cotton from the jail in Portsmouth the morning of the 26th of December.

The guard was asleep, and he was arrested on a warrant under section 3753 of the Code, but he escaped punishment thereunder because it was established that he was not an officer, having not been sworn in as prescribed by section 168.

Another warrant was sworn out against him under section 182, upon which he was fined by the Mayor of that city $250. The amendment seeks to make guards so appointed or summoned special officers and amenable to section 3753. It will be reported favorably.

TO NOTIFY MARTIN.

A special joint committee, consisting of Messrs. Morris, Flood, Walker, Embrey, Duk and Priddy, left here for Washington at noon to-day to officially notify Hon. Thomas S. Martin of his re-election to the United States Senate by the Virginia Legislature.

Reform in South Carolina.

(By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.)

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 12.—In the House of Representatives to-day Mr. Epps introduced a bill to prohibit the sale of cigarettes, and Mr. Stevenson a bill to prevent children under twelve years of age from working in manufacturing establishments.

THE KENTUCKY MUDDLE.

FIVE THOUSAND WITNESSES EXPECTED TO TESTIFY.

(By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.)

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 12.—The Goebel-Taylor and Beckham-Marshall contest committees will each hold meetings tomorrow at which they will arrange for the trial of the contests. The hearing of the evidence will begin Monday. About 5,000 witnesses are expected. The arrival of about 50 men from Eastern Kentucky to-night created a big stir in Goebel circles when it was charged that the new arrivals were militiamen in citizens' clothes. In Republican circles this was laughed at and it is claimed they are only a few of the hundreds of Taylor witnesses who have been summoned here to give testimony in behalf of the contestees.

Both branches of the Legislature had quiet sessions to-day, and the House adjourned till Monday. The only thing done in either branch, which had any bearing on the contests, was in the Senate, where the resolution charging John H. Whallen and Charles Ryan with contempt in offering to bribe Senator Harrell, was adopted as amended in the House.

The amendment concurred in directs the Speakers of the two Houses to name two Democrats and one Republican each on the joint committee which is to conduct the investigation. These committees have not been named. The Franklin county grand jury, which has also been investigating the alleged bribery matter, continues to have before it as witnesses persons who were prominent in the late campaign, and as yet none of the matters which have been included in the wide scope of its investigation have been reported on.

The contest committee in the contest for Governor met this morning, and by a majority vote overruled the objections filed by Governor Taylor yesterday to the Democratic members of the committee sitting in the case.

Each member made a short statement denying the allegations in the Governor's affidavit. All the Democrats present overruled the objections, and Representative Yarberry, the only Republican member present, voted to sustain them.

The Republican leaders insist on the claim that the contestants for State offices must receive a majority in each branch of the Legislature, instead of a majority of a joint assembly, as claimed by the Democrats, and this is another of the questions which may have to go to the courts.

If the Republican contention is sustained it is admitted Goebel would be in exceedingly close lines in the Senate. The latest poll of that body by the Republicans is that it contains at least five anti-Goebel Democrats, and Senator Hill, Democrat, is ill at home, with little prospect of getting here during the session. With Hill and Goebel not voting, the Goebel Senators, under these circumstances, would be in a minority.

The Goebel leaders late to-night claim telegraphic advices from counties in the eastern part of the State that military companies in that section are being equipped to come to Frankfort next week.

KID M'COY WINS.

CHOYNSKI LOSES FIGHT BY BAD LUCK.

(By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.)

New York, Jan. 12.—Kid McCoy got the decision over Joe Choynski in a bout to-night, which lasted three rounds, at the Broadway Athletic Club. Choynski would have had the fight in the second round were it not for an accident as to time-keeping. He had floored the Kid four times, but the time-keeper pulled the bell as McCoy was counted for the limit of ten seconds, and this saved the Kid from absolute defeat. Choynski's seconds protested vigorously, but Referee Johnny White, while knowing that the round was short by many seconds, stood by the official time-keeper and ordered the men to continue when the gong rang again for the opening of the third round.

Choynski's cleverness outpointed and overshadowed all of McCoy's clever ring work.

McCoy having escaped defeat in the second round, was again lucky in the third, as the blow with which he sent Choynski down and out was delivered almost two seconds after the bell had rung for the completion of the third round. Owing to noise both men probably failed to hear the bell. In the northeastern portion of the building there was a tumult caused by an excited spectator dropping dead.

Colonel Mike Padden, timekeeper for McCoy, said afterward that the round was clipped by forty seconds; that McCoy was groggy and practically out when the gong rang.

McCoy was a prohibitive favorite. Both men will meet here again February 20.

MD. CHAS. BARNHAM.

GIVEN IMPORTANT RAILWAY POSITION AT NASHVILLE.

The Richmond Leader of yesterday afternoon says of a gentleman well-known in Norfolk:

The many friends in this city of Mr. Charles Barnham will be pleased to learn of his promotion to the position of assistant general freight agent of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, with headquarters at Nashville, Tenn. Mr. Barnham, though a very young man, is considered as one of the brightest in his line. Mr. Barnham is a native of Durham, N. C., and began his railroad career as stenographer to Mr. P. H. Adams, general claim agent of the Richmond and Danville, with headquarters at West Point, Va. He remained there for about three years and then became secretary to Mr. R. D. Carpenter, Commissioner of the Associated Railways, and was also secretary to Mr. Carpenter's successor, Mr. W. H. Fitzgerald. Mr. Barnham was made soliciting freight agent for the Southern at this point, but later was removed to Norfolk to act as chief clerk to the Southern's general freight agent at that point. He also represented the Southern's freight department in New York and was general agent for the South Atlantic Export Company, at Norfolk, Mr. Barham was later made chief clerk to General Freight Agent H. F. Smith, and on Mr. Smith's assuming the position as traffic manager of the N. C. and St. L. road, Mr. Barham accompanied him as assistant. His new appointment took effect January 1, 1900.

Mr. Barham is a brother-in-law of Captain C. W. Westbury, traveling passenger agent of the Southern in this city.

WILLIAMSBURG.

THE SECOND OLDEST CITY OF VIRGINIA.

Williamsburg, Va., Jan. 12.—Williamsburg, the second oldest city in Virginia, is waking up from her lethargy of the past two hundred years. Her citizens are now up and doing. Recently, through the efforts of the local paper, a Business Men's Association was organized, and it promises to be of much benefit to this city. Every live business man in town has become a member, and all are working with a will for the upbuilding of the city.

It is asserted that local capitalists in the spring propose to build a railroad from Williamsburg to Yorktown, and thence to Jamestown, thus opening up and developing a very valuable farming section which has hitherto been greatly handicapped for the want of a railroad. It is not unlikely that before another year has passed several good factories will be in operation in this city employing several hundred hands. The excellent climate and rich farming lands have induced a number of Northern farmers to come South and locate in or near Williamsburg, while many more will come during the coming year. William and Mary College, located in this city, and the oldest educational institution in the South, is also enjoying the prosperity which has recently been noted in this section. The outlook for the old college was never brighter. Her past record and present reputation has brought to her halls more students this year from other States than at any time during the 207 years she has been in operation. Next year quite a number of Northern students are expected to attend, while the extreme South will also send its quota. At present there are students from Florida, Georgia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New York, South Carolina and the District of Columbia in attendance.
