SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The Bird Carnival to Be Given Next Week.

A Sock and Darning Social Given by the King's Daughters—Personal Mention—Meetings in the Future—Colored Industrial School.

A treat is in store for those who have never heard the Kellogg "Bird Carnival," which will be given in Norfolk for the first time next week at the Y. M. C. A. Hall. There will be two performances—one Monday evening, the 9th, for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid Society. The other is a matinee performance, Tuesday, the 10th, will be given under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Auxiliary of the Norfolk Protestant Hospital. Mr. Kellogg will be assisted by other artists. The Boston Times says:

"Words are inadequate to describe the originality and variety of this novel entertainment. Mrs. Kellogg has a voice of rich quality, and sings with the feeling of the true artist."
The exhibition given last week in Washington for the benefit of the Junior Republic was a splendid success, and patronized by a number of prominent people, among them the Duchess De Arcas, Lady Pauncetote, Mrs. Ulysses S. Grant, Mrs. James G. Blaine, Mrs. Randolph H. McKim, Mrs. T. De Witt Talmage and Mrs. Henry T. Saterlee.

SOCK AND DARNING SOCIAL.
A unique entertainment, called a "Sock and Darning Social," was given on Tuesday evening at No. 127 Windsor avenue, by the In His Name Circle of the King's Daughters. A prize was offered for the best darned sock, and of the contestants, six young men, Mr. W. E. Ellis came off with the prize. Refreshments were served in the parlors, which were prettily decorated for the occasion with palms and potted plants.

The proceeds from the entertainment were very satisfactory and will go towards the Home for Aged Women, for which the circle is working.

Far on Scotland's craggy shore
An old grey castle stands
Braving the fierce North Sea;
And from a rugged casement
There peers a lovely face.
A woman's, white with woe,
She weeps the harp-strings sadly,
The wind plays through her tresses,
And carries the song again.
(After Heine)

5. (a) "To the Front" ..... Adams
(b) "My Little Woman" ..... Osgood
6. Elfentanz ..... MacDowell
7. Les Joyeux Papillons ..... Gregh
8. The Bandolero ..... Stewart

NORFOLK'S SWEET SOPRANO.
Yesterday's Richmond Dispatch says: Miss Elizabeth Taylor, of Norfolk, the sweet soprano who is to play the part of Mabel in "Pirates of Penzance" here Easter week, left for home yesterday afternoon. The rehearsal Monday night demonstrated the fact that she will make even a more charming Mabel than she did a Serpente in the "Chimes of Normandy." Her voice is as sweet and pure as ever, and, if anything, stronger than when she last appeared in opera here.

ELKS' CARNIVAL.
Donations are coming in fast, and everything points to a more successful carnival. The ladies connected with the carnival will hold a meeting at the Elks' Hall, Academy of Music building, this afternoon at 5 p. m. to make final arrangements regarding the part they will take in this enterprise.

COLORED INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

A visit to the industrial classes at the Cumberland street colored school impresses one with the good work that is being accomplished there. The classes were established by one who has for many years been interested in the advancement of the negro race, the author, Mrs. Frances Courtney Baylor Barrum, under the auspices of the Slater Board, which includes the following gentlemen: Dr. J. L. M. Curry, Bishop Potter, President Gilman, of Johns Hopkins, and President Wilson, of Washington and Lee.

Yesterday there was a class in carpentry, and it was interesting to watch the pupils at their work. The cooking class was particularly interesting. A number of little maids with white caps and aprons were busy over a fire preparing a dainty meal. The result, especially in one dish, a delicious omelet, appeared very satisfactory. Before partaking of the meal grace was sung with all the melody characteristic of the race. There are eight lessons in the cooking course, and at the conclusion of the lessons the pupils, if competent, are awarded a certificate. The advanced classes are given lessons in marketing.

The sewing class was not less interesting. Here the pupil is taught every kind of sewing from basting and patching to making a garment. The doll dresses show that they are working along the same lines as the German children, who attend the doll kindergartens, where they are taught to dress and manufacture dolls. The occasional singing of old plantation songs during the lessons is an interesting feature.
The first aid to the injured class meets once a week, when lessons are given in bandaging, how to care for the sick room and what to do in emergencies. One can readily believe that the solution to the juvenile criminal problem and the negro problem is in the kindergarten and industrial schools.

MILITARY NOTES.

A FORECAST OF THE FIRST REGIMENT OFFICERS.
The City Guards are now mustered in, and the Lee Rifles will soon follow, Capt. V. C. Burrow, of the latter company, being now ready.

The new formation of the regiment into three battalions will give Norfolk, with her three companies and Portsmouth with one, one battalion, with headquarters in Norfolk, and of this battalion it is now asserted in some quarters, and apparently hoped in all, Major Marshall Tarrall will be called to accept the command.

As to the colonelcy of the regiment, it is common talk that one man, at least, can receive the enthusiastic support of the entire regiment, and that he will be asked to accept the command, and the gentleman mentioned in this connection is Captain Alex. Higgins, while at least one or two of the old officers of the late Fourth Virginia would accept positions on his staff, with pleasure, and what is more, are likely to receive invitations.
The younger contingent of Spanish-American war veterans of shoulder-strap grade are exceedingly popular with their old commands, and numbers are being asked to go up higher. It is thought the regiment will be formed by July, if not sooner.

The Governor Not Surprised.

In conversation with a representative of the Virginian-Pilot yesterday, Governor J. Hoge Tyler said the failure of the Greenville grand jury to find indictments against the Emporia lynchings did not surprise him the least. He said there was too much influence behind the mob to expect the jury to find indictments.
The Governor said he could not understand why Judge Goodwyn, of Greenville, intended to resign, and expressed the opinion that the Judge would take no such action.
After enjoying a drive through the city with Mr. Frank DeCordy Matthews, the Governor took the 3:30 o'clock boat to Newport News and returned over the Chesapeake and Ohio railway to Richmond.

Norfolk Stage Employees.
The Stage Employees' Union have changed their meeting place from the Academy of Music building to No. 99 Bank street. The union will meet here after Tuesday nights, instead of Sundays, as heretofore.

A letter has been received by the secretary from the national body, acknowledging the receipt of the per capita tax for the first quarter, ending March 31.
Newport News and Richmond are the next two places in Virginia at which a Stage Employees' Union will be formed.

At a meeting of the Norfolk union, held a few days ago, Mr. B. F. J. Storminger was elected to represent the body in the Federation of Labor, which meets in Richmond in the near future.

Bids for Coal.

The following firms were successful in bidding to supply coal and wood for the Fifth Lighthouse District: For anthracite coal at Norfolk, Nottingham & Wrenn, of Norfolk; bituminous coal at Portsmouth, Va., G. W. Taylor & Co., of Norfolk; hard wood at Norfolk, Johns Bros., of Norfolk; pine wood at Portsmouth, Richard Hidden, of Baltimore.

The bids were opened in Baltimore Tuesday by Lighthouse Inspector Ross. The figures submitted by the bidders were not given for publication.

Condition of Mr. Davis.

Mr. William T. Davis, the unfortunate young white man who was injured at A. Wrenn & Son's carriage factory Monday morning, is still alive at St. Vincent's Hospital. No assurance is given, however, that he will recover. He has several compound fractures and a broken skull. This latter injury is the most serious, and the chances for his recovery are considered about even.

REPUBLICAN POLITICS

The Adherents of Dr. R. A. Wise Re-nominate Him for Congress.

City Precinct Meetings Endorse Hon. Geo. E. Bowden and the Administration and Elect Delegates to City Convention to be Held To-Night.

The Wise faction of the Republican party of the Second Congressional District held a convention at Hampton yesterday and re-nominated Dr. R. A. Wise for Congress by a rising vote.

There was quite a snarl over the permanent chairmanship, and for awhile a condition bordering on pandemonium reigned. Mr. S. B. Carney, assistant postmaster of Norfolk, was nominated and his election restored harmony.
The convention was liberal in the matter of resolutions, and endorsed Dr. Wise in every particular. President McKinley, Congressman Hull for his adherence to and advocacy of the cause of Dr. Wise, and reaffirmed about everything the national Republican party has done for the past twenty years.

The following delegates were chosen to the National Republican Convention:
Mr. Alvah H. Martin, Norfolk county.
Hon. Harry Libby, Elizabeth City county.

MEETINGS IN NORFOLK.

Pursuant to the call of the City Republican Committee, of which Mr. Thomas Lowery is chairman, meetings were held in the various wards, and despite the wretched weather, the attendance was good and the proceedings harmonious. The meetings were therefore brief, but enough time was taken at most of them to heartily endorse the administration of President McKinley. Hon. Geo. E. Bowden for National Committeeman, State Chairman Park Agnew and City Chairman Lowery. In but few precincts were speeches made. The usual method pursued in electing delegates and alternates was the appointment of a committee of three to select and submit the names of three delegates and two alternates to the meeting, who were accepted and elected. In one or two wards one or two changes were made, but the names offered generally stood.

The smallest number present at any of the meetings was thirty-seven, and the largest 138, the latter being at the first precinct of the Third ward.
