A SAILING PARTY'S EXPERIENCE.
On the morning of July 4th a party of thirteen young ladles and four gentlemen left the city on a large schooner for a sail and fish in Chesapeake Bay. They went down under a nice breeze and were soon in Hampton Roads. They sailed around for awhile, and some fished. About 2 o'clock they went over to Newport News and anchored. Dinner was served on deck under a large awning and everybody was pleased. About 5 o'clock the party started for home. There was no wind stirring, and they drifted along with the tide.

About 7:30 o'clock they had passed Craney Island. The captain saw the storm coming and began to make preparations for it. Sails were lowered, lamps were trimmed and holsted. The ladies were requested to go down in the cabin, which was not large enough to hold all of them. Some went in the hold of the boat. By this time they were nearing Lumbert's Point. The storm broke upon them with all its fury; their light went out, and in scudding along they ran into a cance. In which there were several people. The canvas sail was caught in the schooner's bowsprit, and the canoe would have been turned over, but the sail gave way and the canoe was released and an anchor was thrown overboard and the schooner lay to for more than an hour. The wind blew very heavy, the rain came down in torrents, and finally turned to hail, some of the pleece being quite large. All this time the gentlemen and the crew remained on deck, The ladies suffered considered the second, and Conroy sacrificed him the gentlemen and the crew remained on deck, The ladies suffered considered the second, and Conroy sacrificed him the second, and Conroy sacrificed him to second, and converse to the fi for home. The boat's crew say the storm was about the worst they have ever experienced in the har-bor. The entire river, at times, look-ed like it was boiling. The ladies say that they are satisfied with their expe-rience of a storm on water, and do not

Newport News, Hulswitt, Conroy and Hoffman carried off the fielding honors, and Weaver and Bigble hit the ball hardest.

Capt. Byers sent the visitors to bat first, and they started off well, Weaver getting a hit, but a pretty double play, from Bammert to Morrissey to Luitich retired him with Gates, Rapp got in a hit, but Murray took in Hulswitt's fly. Bigble led off with a hit in the second, and Conroy sacrificed him to second, where he died, Hoffman striking out and O'Brien flying to Kohn. They scored in the third on Luitich's error, an out, and Kemmer's two errors. Conroy led with a hit in the fourth, but was doubled when Hoffman hit to Morrissey. O'Brien drew a base on balls, but Jimmie Murray again ended the innin by taking Tierney's fly. Three tallies registered for them in the fifth when Weaver led off with a double, Gates got a life on Kemmer's third error, and after Rapp flied out to Bammert, Hulswitt drew a base on balls. Bigble's hit scored the first two men, but Hulswitt was caught trying to take third on the hit. After this inning the Boers took a brace, and only three batters came up in each of the last four innings.

Portsmouth scored twice in their time at bat. After Kohnie flied out to Bigble's Byers got a life on Bigble's error, scoring on Longley's triple. "Trapper" scored on Murray's single. Luitlich's double in the second did not add to the score, but then more runs tailed in the third. Byers led off with a double, Longley raised a foul fly which Rapp captured, and Kemmer's single dourth came after two were out, nad Longley's life on Rapp's error in the fourth came after two were out, nad Longley's life on Rapp's error in the firth did not count, as three fly balls followed. A quick double in the sixth killed a chance to score. In the seventh the only three batters came up, but in the eighth the fireworks were touched off. Kemmer reached first on Rapp's error, went to third on Murray's hit and scored when Conroy let Hulswitt's throw of Morrissey's fielders' choice get by him. On Bammert's f
