needless to say that when cases affecting these native ladies come before the courts they are placed at the greatest possible disadvantage. There is, therefore, a great need of qualified female practitioners to conduct their legal business. This has long been known, and an Indian lady, Miss Cornelia Sorabji, has for some years been pursuing her legal studies, and having obtained every necessary qualification, has been endeavoring to obtain permission to plead as a vakil, or lawyer, before the Indian High Court.

LABOR DAY.

Messrs. James O'Connell and Thomas Wheeler the Orators. There will be Sixty-five Prizes in the Athletic Contests Soldiers' Home Band to Head the Parade.

The Labor Day Committee held another very important meeting last night and transacted a large volume of business pertaining to the forthcoming celebration.

Reports from the various committees showed that every feature is being diligently looked after and every detail worked out. The present indications point to a great success in the whole celebration.

The Committee on Speakers reported that an invitation to speak on Labor Day had been extended to Mr. James O'Connell, and that he had accepted. Mr. O'Connell is third vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, as well as president of the International Association of Machinists. Last year he was a fraternal delegate to the British Trades Council, from the American Federation of Labor. He is an eloquent and impressive speaker. He has visited this section on previous occasions, and has a large number of friends and admirers here. As Mr. Wheeler, of the Electrical Wire Workers, will be here also, this feature of the celebration will be a great success, as he also is an orator of national reputation. As he travels extensively and is now on a mission in the West, he will very likely start for Norfolk from Indianapolis, Ind., or Cincinnati, Ohio. Mr. O'Connell will come from Washington, D. C.

The Committee on Athletic Sports reported that they had sixty-five prizes to offer in the different events. Prof. Ward has the entrance blanks on hand, and all amateurs who desire to enter can call at the Y. M. C. A. and get blanks. A full list of events will be published in a few days.

The parade, which forms on High street, Portsmouth, will start at 9 o'clock, and will be headed by the famous National Soldiers' Home Band. A large number of floats will be in line, representing the various trades; a large number of handsome banners will be in evidence, as well as many attractive uniforms.

After the parade the unions will go to Virginia Beach, where a concert by the band will be given before the speaking. After the speaking the athletic sports will commence, then will come dancing in the ball room on the pavilion, and this will continue until 9 o'clock, when the grand display of fireworks will come off. This will wind up the day's events.

All tickets sold on Labor Day for Virginia Beach will be thirty cents for the round trip. The committee has gotten out a special issue to be used on that occasion, which will serve to avoid the rush at the depot.

Everybody has been glad to see the Princess of Wales about again so much during the season that is just over. Not only has the Princess held drawing-rooms on behalf of her majesty, but she has opened her own salons, and her excellent business facilities and much of her former skill in music, embroidery and painting.

Among the "grand old women" of England is Lady Burdett-Coutts, who though now not so much seen in society as formerly, still entertains a good deal in a quiet way and still takes so much interest in the world's welfare that it is hard to believe she was born the year before the battle of Waterloo. She is of an extreme age, but her excellent business facilities and much of her former skill in music, embroidery and painting.

Mr. William Samuel Ferguson and bride returned yesterday from their bridal tour. While away they visited Niagara, Buffalo, N. Y., Canada, Watkins Glen, Philadelphia and Baltimore. The trip was a most agreeable one.

Mr. Albano, of Ocean View, gave a pleasant bowling party on Wednesday night at the Ocean View bowling alleys. Those participating were the Misses Winkler, Cohen, M. Hecht, A. McDowell, Lee, Blanche Hecht, and Messdames Greentree and Jacob Hecht. The prizes were large boxes of Huyler's candies. The first prize was won by Miss Blanche Hecht, who rolled up a score of 194, and the second honor went to Miss McDowell, who made a score of 175. The score was made by Miss Hecht, who is one of the best bowlers in Southeastern Virginia. This is the record for lady bowlers at Ocean View this season.

At Virginia Beach, Arlington Cottage, the scene of so many delightful gatherings during the past months, is filled to overflowing with charming people from nearly every State in the Union, who have come to enjoy the invigorating, health-giving salt sea air.

Some of the guests now at the Arlington are Mrs. C. B. Bridwell, wife and child, Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. James Cooper, Maryland; Mrs. A. G. Walker and family, Creswell, N. C.; Mr. C. W. Cole and son, Cincinnati; Mrs. L. A. Blach and Miss Mary Bugh, Columbus, Ohio; J. L. Eagle and wife, Baltimore, Md.; Misses Walsh and McCoy, Philadelphia; Miss Blanche Wiley, Chicago; Misses Bryant and Gay, Franklin; Mrs. Lamb and daughters, Williamson, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Herrick, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. E. B. DeWitt, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tilley, Mrs. Hancock and daughter, Miss Sophia Williams, Berkeley; Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Warrington; Mrs. John Neeley, Miss H. K. Choate, and Mrs. M. M. P. Ashburn, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard, Mr. W. J. Wright, Miss Curtis, Norfolk; Messrs. Malvern Reynolds and John Hume, Portsmouth; Mrs. A. Channell, Suffolk.

A COMMON FAD.

VIRGINIA BEACH YOUNG LADIES REGISTER FROM CHINA. Three young ladies, spending the summer at Virginia Beach, were in the city a few days ago, and registered at one of the hotels. Opposite their names they wrote the name of "Hon Kong," familiar in print just now—Hong Kong, Peking and Manila. Naturally the first thought of those who looked over the register was that the two former were American ladies who had been to China as missionaries, and interest was at once kindled among the summer people.

The curious were surprised, however, to find, upon questioning, that the young ladies knew but little more of China than the average school girl, and had probably never been nearer the Celestial Empire than they are at present. There was a flaw in the joke of the young ladies, however, that the observing took notice of from the very start. The one who signed herself Miss Bland, Hong Kong, forgot that the famous China seaport town is spelled with two "o's," and is not "Hon Kong."

It is a very common thing for travelers, strangers especially, to register from places conspicuously in the public eye. Some of them do it to hide their identity and others just as a joke on hotel register "rater necks," of whom there are no scarcity here in Norfolk. After Dewey sailed into Manila many hotels to which that name had heretofore been a stranger, were honored by the gentleman from Manila. Later San Juan, Porto Rico, travelers became the most common names. Johannesburg, Pretoria and Bloemfontein were next introduced to hotel registers by persons who had never heard of these cities before the Boer-British war broke out. Just now China names are in the public eye, and you may safely expect to see the gentleman from Li Hung Chang before this war is over.

THE WOMEN OF INDIA.

The Empress of India reigns over a larger number of Mohammedan women than any other existing ruler. By the customs of the country and the ordinances of their religion, these women are precluded from obtaining the advice or assistance, however greatly needed, of medical or legal men, whether European or native. The knowledge of this fact was of the most potent influence in obtaining in this country the due education of women as medical, and even surgical practitioners. The successful establishment of the women's medical schools and the good work which has been done by the women practitioners need no illustration at the present time. England has reaped the benefit of the supply of a want which was felt by India.

It is probable that the relief of a want which is now severely felt in India in legal matters may react on England in a similar manner to that which has been effected with reference to medical women. At the present time Indian ladies, even those of high position, are unable to meet male attorneys or legal advisers, and it is
