The New York Dry Goods Merchants.

One of the members of the Southern Railway and Steamship association, in session in New York city, asserted that the dry goods merchants of New York shipped to the west and other points silk, lace, and other fine goods in wrappers with a cotton piece goods label, thus defrauding the railroad. Dry goods men are indignant. They issued a letter denying the charges. They claim that the reason this charge of fraud was made was to cover up their real reason in hesitating to grant the reduction proposed by Mr. Haas, of the Richmond and Danville railroad. Cotton piece goods are now charged as sixth class from southern cities, but must pay first and second class from New York south.

A Heavy Decision Against the Government.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 15.—A decision was rendered in the Supreme Court of the United States to-day, in the case of the Choctaw Nation against the United States, involving a claim of more than $8,000,000, for lands due the Choctaws under treaty stipulations, but never granted to them. This case was brought to the Supreme Court on appeal from a judgment of $400,000 allowed the Choctaws by the Court of Claims. The final result, as decided by the Supreme Court to-day, is that the Choctaw Nation is entitled to $2,800,000 in addition to the $2,500,000 already paid under the Court of Claims' decision on account of the claims.

THE CRISIS IN BULGARIA.

Resignation of the Regents—The Russian Candidate for the Throne.

Upon receiving from the King of Denmark a telegram refusing his consent to Prince Waldemar's acceptance of the Bulgarian throne, the Bulgarian regents resigned. The Sobranje voted confidence in the regents, but they declined to withdraw their resignations. The Sobranje has adjourned, all of the members going to Sofia. A deputation will visit the European courts to pray the powers to nominate a candidate for the throne.

The candidacy of Prince Nicholas of Mingrelia finds no favor at Pesth or Vienna, as Nicholas would be a mere puppet in the hands of the Czar if placed on the Bulgarian throne. The Prince is a careless, good-natured, insignificant man of the world, who has long outrun the constable, and is ready for any chance to restore his shattered finances. He is a captain in the Russian guards. Another candidate is Prince Blazo Petrovitch, of Montenegro, a brother of the president of the Montenegrin Senate, and a cousin of the reigning Prince. He is thirty years old, and quite popular in the Black Mountain. Personally he is worthy of a crown, more so than the Mingrelia prince, but Vienna would never consent to see a Montenegrin on the Bulgarian throne, and indeed it is not improbable that Prince Blazo has been put forward to draw Austria to assent to the nomination of Prince Nicholas of Mingrelia as the less objectionable of the two.

THE LATEST NEWS.

ACCIDENTS AND INCIDENTS FROM ALL SECTIONS BY TELEGRAPH.

The Chicago Situation—The Fire Record—An Alaska Tragedy—The Suicidal Mania and Miscellaneous Matters.

The Situation at Chicago.

CHICAGO, November 15.—At an early hour this morning the late striking employees of the packing houses assembled at the respective headquarters indicated in the Sheriff's order issued yesterday and applied for employment. The crowd was orderly and perfectly quiet. The foremen different houses selected such men as they required at once and the remainder departed evidently satisfied that they would be taken back as soon as the houses were in full running shape again. The number of old men re-employed this morning is between 1,200 and 1,500. Advices just received from the yards indicate that no difficulty between the old and new employees is anticipated.

The question as to what extent the old employees shall be given precedence over the new is liberally discussed. At the packers' meeting yesterday afternoon the situation was discussed in the light of the strike being declared off. All took Powderly's order calmly but were plainly gratified by it. All, however, were unanimous in the declaration that no new man should be discharged to make room for an old one. The determination was also expressed that only those should be taken back who were desired by their employers. "There is not room now for all the old men," said Mr. Hately, after the meeting. "I have some new men who are about equal to the old, and besides there are not enough of animals on hand to start up with a full force. It will take me several days to get ready for complete work." Other packers expressed like opinions, and while all said they would cheerfully take back all of the old men they could use, none of them believed that many of them would be immediately wanted.

Another Account.

CHICAGO, November 15.—This morning 1,200 strikers at the stock-yards applied for work. Manager Cudahy, of Armour and Company, said they had taken back 500 of their old men, and that was all that could be utilized at short notice. He instructed Deputy-Sheriff Burke to inform the rest of the unemployed that there would be work for them soon. The strike greatly disorganized the business of the packers. There were not sufficient hogs and cattle bought to run the full force, and it will take a week or two to get re-organized. The busy season is coming on, and the prospects of work for all are encouraging. It is said there was discontent among the new hands who took the places of the strikers when they heard the news of the end of the fight. Many of them have already expressed the desire to quit work. All such will be paid off and sent back to their homes to-day. Such imported men as are competent and choose to continue will be retained and protected at all hazards. The military command and deputy sheriffs will be retained at Packingtown as a safeguard for some time. The militia were distributed to the posts near the different big houses, where the strikers returned to-day. No violence occurred.

A Crooked Account.

NEW YORK, November 15.—The World's El Paso, Texas, special gives what it claims to be authentic extracts from a correspondence between General Crook and General Sheridan, while the former was in the southwest. General Crook telegraphed that he had accepted the conditional surrender of the Apaches, and believed that this was the only way to settle the trouble. General Sheridan replied disapprovingly, and directed General Crook to prevent the escape of the Indians, and to re-open negotiations. Thereupon General Crook asked to be relieved from command. The dispatch adds that General Miles found twenty-one pages cut from the official records when he took command.

The Indian Must Go.

RED FORK, INDIAN TERRITORY, November 15.—It is a positive fact that the absent Shawnee Indians that have been living in Kickapoo county, on the Deep Fork river, have received orders from the Interior Department to move back south of the North Canadian river, where the Government located them in 1867. They became dissatisfied and located on lands to which they had no right. There is a company of soldiers in the country to see that orders are obeyed.

A Historic Relic.

St. Louis, Mo., November 15.—A special from Dallas, Texas, says: Probably the last check in existence on the Confederate States of America was exhibited to-day by Colonel J. F. Caldwell, of this city. It is an interesting relic of the war, and is a check for $80,000, drawn on the Confederate depository at Columbus by W. M. Gillispie, Quartermaster, in favor of Colonel T. Sanford. It is dated April 14, 1865, five days after the surrender of Lee. The check was delivered to Colonel Caldwell, who was then chief clerk of the depository, during the movement from Alabama to Georgia before the victorious Federal cavalry. The letter was delivered in the woods, and before the news of Lee's surrender had reached the retreating Confederates.

A New Party.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 15.—The first conference of the workmen with a view to forming a new political party in this city was held here. There were present representatives from various Knights of Labor assemblies to the number of about 250. After a full discussion it was decided that all the trades unions and labor organizations in the city should be invited to participate in the movement for the new party.

The mayoralty contest in February next will be selected as that upon which to make the first fight. It is probable that the convention of the new party will be held on the 28th of the present month to perfect the details of the organization, and perhaps to make nominations for mayor, receiver of taxes, and city solicitor.

A Street-Car Strike Threatened.

NEW YORK, November 15.—A new time-card, to take effect December 1st, has been posted at the stables of the De Kalb Avenue and Newtown Street-Car Company in Brooklyn. It is claimed that under the new schedule some of the men will work eighteen or nineteen hours per day, and receive therefore not more than $1.75. The leaders of the Car-Drivers' Union will order a tie-up unless the company gives up the new schedule. The strike is expected within a week.

A Call for a Trades-Union Convention.

PITTSBURG, PA., November 15.—The next issue of the Labor Tribune will contain a call for a convention of all the Trades' Unions in the United States and Canada, to begin at Columbus, Ohio, December 8th. The object of this meeting is the establishment of a Trades' Congress that shall have for its object the formation of Trades Union and the encouragement of the Trades' Union movement in America.

The Brutal Ring.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., November 15.—On a sand-bar in the Missouri river below here, early Sunday morning, James Cassidy, of Chicago, and Jo Wallatz, a miner of Joplin, Mo., fought six rounds with bare knuckles for $500. Four rounds were marked by desperate fighting, and it was a square contest all through, resulting in favor of Wallatz. A good deal of money changed hands among the one hundred sports who were present.

A Scheme Thwarted.

PRINCESS ANNE, Md., November 15.—James Stevens (colored), a prisoner in the Somerset county jail, set fire to the jail Saturday night, intending to effect his escape and enable others to do so also. The fire was discovered in time to thwart the scheme. In fact, the plan was so badly contrived that the prisoners were nearly suffocated, being unable to escape, and would have perished had not the flames been extinguished.

The Fire Fiend.

AKRON, O., November 15.—The home of Adolph Pouchat was burned at 12:30 o'clock this morning, and the occupants narrowly escaped with their lives. The oldest son, in an endeavor to rescue his brother, was nearly crushed by the falling roof. Loss, $2,000.

A Dreadful Death.

AKRON, Ohio, November 15.—While Samuel Simons, aged nineteen was oiling shafting at the Empire Works this morning, he was caught in the belt and whirled around fifteen times, striking timbers above and below the shaft, and breaking his arms and legs and otherwise mangling him. He was naked when thrown off the shaft, and died in a few minutes.

NEW YORK, November 15.—Miss Amy Hewitt, daughter of Mayor-elect Hewitt, was married to-day at Ringwood, N. J., to James A. Green, son of President Green, of the Western Union Telegraph Company. There were three hundred guests present. The feature of the occasion was the presence of many of the workmen from Mr. Hewitt's iron works.

An Alaska Tragedy.

WEST RANDOLPH, VT., November 15.—A telegram from San Francisco announces that Benjamin G. McIntyre has been shot dead by a Swede named Pete Anderson at Kodiak, Alaska. No particulars have been received. McIntyre was general agent for the Alaska Commercial Company of San Francisco, and had charge of the seal business of that company in the District of Kodiak. His home was in this village, where he leaves a widow and three children.

A Wild Western Failure.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., November 15.—The First National Bank of Pine Bluff, Ark., closed its doors to-day. C. M. Neel, the principal owner, has operated heavily in cotton and real estate. He says the suspension is due to drafts on merchants not being honored. He is reputed to be wealthy, but the amount of his liabilities is as yet unknown.

Another Suicide.

Attacking Mr. Beecher.

LONDON, November 15.—The Post this morning has an angry article on Mr. Henry Ward Beecher's statements to an interviewer concerning England. "Mr. Beecher," says the Post seems to have fallen into bad company. He mistakes the tin-pot rattle of a few noisy sectarians for the mind of the British people. The Lowell interview presents a happy and timely contrast.
