PERSONAL ITEMS.

What People are Doing In and Out of Roanoke.

Mr. W. H. Slaymaker denies having been drunk and fined $2 in the mayor's court, as reported in THE TIMES. Investigation shows that W. H. Jackson, a driver, formerly in his employ, had done the drinking, and falsely used his late employer's name. Mr. Slaymaker is a civil engineer and contractor at Salem, and naturally feels indignant at the trick played upon him.

A force of hands is at work grading Kirk avenue from Jefferson street to Second street s. e.

The Lutheran church of Vinton will be dedicated the fourth Sunday in this month.

Judge Blair, of Salem, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Ellen Blair, and Miss Ellen Logan, were in the city yesterday.

Mr. Archie Sands, the city bill poster, has moved his family here from Hagerstown, Md., and is now domiciled at 310 Campbell street.

F. M. Leonard, J. F. Cook, E. A. Herring, Philadelphia; F. C. Moon, Scottsville, Ohio; C. Worthington, Anniston, Ala.; F. P. Chessman, New York; E. S. Cardozo, Richmond; E. H. Smith and J. C. Cummings, Baltimore, are among those registered at the Hotel Roanoke.

Wm. Boswell traveling correspondent of the Chicago Inter-Ocean, paid his respects to the Commercial Club in a short visit last night.

Charles Jacobson, Pulaski, Va.; John J. Shaver and James D. Hallig, Salisbury, N. C., and H. B. Finch, of Sandusky, Ohio, dropped in at the Commercial Club last evening.

A. Pollard, Richmond; F. P. Sherwood and W. T. Gibson, New York; A. H. Simonds, Minnesota, and E. S. Hutter, Lynchburg, are at the Hotel Continental.

The members of the Hild-Park Concert Company are at the Hotel Roanoke.

Major H. W. Newby, engineer of construction of the Roanoke and Southern railroad, was called to his home at Alexandria yesterday by a telegram announcing the serious illness of his little daughter.

THE LINE TO SALEM.

Two New Passenger Cars Received For It.

Two new passenger cars for the Roanoke and Salem dummy line arrived yesterday over the Shenandoah Valley railroad.

They are the same size as those now on the Roanoke and Vinton line.

The line to Salem is nearing completion and as soon as it is finished and the electric cars are put on the Vinton line two trains will be put on the Salem extension, one to leave each end every half hour.

The cars are bright and neat and good accommodations will be afforded.

Salem and Roanoke will soon be in twenty minutes of each other, as the schedule will be about that.

ST. MARK'S.

The New Structure Will Soon Rise on the Old Site.

The work of removing old St. Mark's, preparatory to the erection of the handsome new church on the site of the old one, is going on.

A number of negro boys have been busy for several days getting the brick out of the old foundation and knocking the mortar off.

The work is nearly completed, and sheds are being constructed around the lot to hold tools and other appliances to be used in the construction of the new building.

Everything will soon be ready for the commencement of the work of erection.

THE NEW BAPTIST CHURCH.

The Foundation Completed, and the Walls Going Up.

Work was begun anew on the Baptist Church on Roanoke street several days ago, and is now being pushed forward rapidly.

The foundation is completed, and the walls are now going up. This will be one of the handsomest churches in the city. It will be of brick with pressed brick front and granite trimmings, and will have a seating capacity of about 700. The work is to be continued until it is completed.

What a Witness Saw.

The three negro women arrested Thursday afternoon by Officer Vest for fighting were tried in the mayor's court yesterday. Willie Walker and Fauny Craig were fined $5 each and costs and Mollie Davis $10 and costs. During the trial a negro girl was called and asked what she knew about the affair. "Nothing," said she, "except that I saw the three lieks." "What three lieks?" inquired his honor. "Well," said the witness, "I saw Willie strike Mollie and Mollie strike Willie, and Willie strike the ground."

Look After Your Horses.

Many parties have of late been leaving their teams unattended on the street and several have been summoned to the mayor's court and fined for the offence. In view of the general increase of this species of dangerous carelessness, the mayor yesterday morning cautioned the police to exercise renewed vigilance in the matter and summon all delinquents for trial.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Lee Street M. E. Church met Thursday evening at the parsonage, No. 312 First street s. e., and had a very enjoyable time.

TWO COURTS YESTERDAY.

The Hustings and Circuit Courts Both in Session.

Two courts were in session at the courthouse yesterday and will continue to-day.

The November terms of the Hustings Court and the circuit court are on hand at the same time and after Judge Robertson, of the former, adjourned in the afternoon Judge Blair opened the circuit court.

In the latter a decree was entered concerning the sale of the Shenandoah Valley railroad, changing the form of the deed, but not materially altering its import.

The sale of the road was confirmed the 18th of October and this decree finally settles a case that has been in the courts for five years.

The cases of C. M. Zeh vs. L. L. Powell & Co., and J. C. McKennin vs. N. J. Tubbs, for the recovery of notes, were set for trial to-day.

In the Hustings Court the following business was transacted: James Wilson vs. G. W. Sherwood, continued.

In the first case of the Commonwealth vs. Mose Sanders, the verdict of the preceding day, sentencing the defendant to the penitentiary, was set aside on motion of his counsel.

In the case of the Commonwealth vs. James Gallagher, petty larceny, the verdict of the day before, sending the defendant to jail for thirty days, was set aside, and a new trial granted. Gallagher gave a bond of $50 for his appearance at the January term, with Mrs. Margaret Gallagher as surety.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. James Boyd, charged with trying to blow up a house near the brewery with dynamite about a month ago, was continued to January 3, and the defendant required to give a bond of $4,000 for his appearance.

In the second case of the Commonwealth vs. Moses, Saunders for a felony the prisoner entered a plea of guilty, and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

Charles E. Moore qualified as a notary public.

To make the orchestra complete there is yet needed a flute and cornet, and applications for membership from gentlemen having a knowledge of these instruments, and who can read music, will be received by the secretary, D. Fidler, P. O. box 223.
